and its superior prospects. Toledo is situated at authority: what the writer calls the "warm end of Lake Erie, Counties and navigation was not shut out from it during the last winter more than two weeks." The Wabash Washington and Erie Canal is in good order from Toledo to La. Kent fayette, Ind., 230 miles The Erie and Kalamazoo Bustol Rail Road extends from Toledo into the interior of Michigan. The Miumi Extension Canal, 215 miles long, being a continuous line from Toledo to Cincinnati, will be in operation in May. It must be confessed that all these improvements terminating at Toledo, must make it a place of great trade.

The writer anticipates that within 2 years this town will take the lead of Cleveland, in the amount of its business in shipping produce, &c. The receipts of Toledo by canal and railroad, in 1844, were within a small fraction of 600,000 bushels of wheat; 3,230,-984 lbs, perk in bulk ; and 17,416 bbls.; lard, 2,612,-884 lbs., pot and pearl ashes, 1,016,796 lbs.

The region of country trading through this port is marketable products.

Steamboats are now running regularly between Toledo and Buffalo.
