The Daily Morning Post. PITTSBURGH, PA. MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 21, 1845. PITTSBURGH BOARD OF TRADE. COMMITTEE FOR APRIL. Joshua Hanna, W. Thaw, J. W. Lightner. THE FAST DAY passed off pretty much as all sim ilar observances have done in our remembrance.-The churches were tolerably well filled, and the services in each were appropriate and impressive. But many did not observe the day at all, and ma" ny more would have been better at work than to keep it as they did. We saw several drunken men -we saw two horse races just out of the city lineswe saw a gang of boys with cocks that they were taking to some place to fight .- The minds of the people were not prepared for the solemn observance of such a day-and it would be better hereafter for the people themselves to take the lead in the matter of fixing fast days, or to indicate a disposition to keep them when they shall be fixed. If, from any cause, they are not devotionally inclined, they cannot become so at the call the councils, and it is worse than useless to expect any good results from such observances. It was entirely right and proper to have a fast day—but we agree with a vast majority of our fellow-citizens that it was called
