the Waily Morning Post. PITTSBURGH, PA. FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 2, 1845. PITTSBURGH BOARD OF TRADE.

COMMITTEE FOR MAY.

J. May, Geo. Ogden. THE WEATHER. - For the last few days, this region has been visited by copious showers of rain, falling at short intervals—in short, we have had the most delight ful April weather. Under its influence, vegetation is starting forth with great rapidity, and the trees and fields are putting on their garb of green.

THE RIVER,-The late rains have caused a gradual but material rise in the river, and there is now 64 fiet water is the channel. This is sufficient for the larger boats, which are constantly arriving and departing. By some oversight, we published an extract from a Cincinnati paper stating that the river was not navigable farther op than Wheeling. This is a state of things which does not now exist, and has not existed for many years. Whenever boats can come to Wheeling, the river is navigable to Pittsburgh.
