PITTSBURGH, THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1845.

NEXT PRESIDENT .- The Cudiz (Ohio) Republican, paign. The N. Y. Tribune asks, "what's the hurry?" and thinks they might as well wait a little while. We think so tors for after a little calm consideration, they may arrive at the sensible conclusion that it will be labor just for them to rally on any candidate. Besides. if ever the whigs contest another Presidential election, Mr Clay-if alive-must be their standard bearer. In 1844, he was declared to be the "tallest man in the whig party," and decidedly the greatest in the counwy, While Mr Clay lives, he is the whig candidate, in season and out of season, and all other aspirants will have to wait until he is gathered to his fathers.

before they can have a reasonable chance of being victimized by the whig leaders. Mr Clay's warm friends will not permit those who follow the doctrine of "availability," to force any new candidate on the party. Their favorite is used to defeat, and they are used to being defeated with him. A repudiate the "tallest man" for one of common altitude. The Gazette will also do its duty right manfully in defence of "that same old coon."

We extract the following paragramba:	President Pierault is the oldest of the surviving Generals of Chistophe. He was connected with the late King by marriage, his wife being sister to the Ex- Queen. For the last year he has been General of this Department. He is a full black, over six feet high, erect in figure, and about seventy-two years old.— He still tides well, is often on horseback, and, for his age, is very active and vigorous. He has little of no education, but is said to be gifted with considerable natural shrewdness, and to be temperate in his habits, —in the latter particular, huving greatly the advan- age of his predocessor. A merchant of this place, named Praderes, enga- ged in the American trade, has been appointed by Pierault to succeed him, as General, or Military Gov- ennor of the North. The alarms arising from an expected invasion by Herara a, pears to have passed away. The Judge ordered him to take hi eest in the box with the other elevan, giving for hi reason that Texas was a part of the Union, and all he citizens liable to be called upon to do duty as citizen of the United States. SOUTHERE CONVENTION.—It is proposed to hold a Southern Internal Improvement and Agricultural Con- wantian at Memphis, Tenn., on the 4th of July next- The object is to adopt measures for the advancemen of the agricultural interast of the South, and the im- provement of that section of the Union in the way of public works. EXECUTION AT NEW Yeax.—James Eager, who that been convicted of murder, was on Friday after- noon executed, pursuant to his scentence, in the yard of the prison in Centre street, New York. About half past one s'clock he was brought from his cell by the aberiff, accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Haff, a presbyterian clergyman, to the place of execution, where the clergyman made a prayer, to which the prisoner seemed to pay much attention. He seemed perfectly composed and prepared to meet his fate, and having shock hands with the sheriff and clergyman, he was heisted up, and remained hanging thirty-five mistree. He said nothing whatever to the bystanders, or made any remarks in relation to the cause or conse- quence of bis crime. MINISTRIAL CALL.—The Rev Dr Tyng, Rector of the Epiphany Protestant Episcopal Church of Philadelphia, has been unanimously elected by the congregation of St. George's, New York, to the Rec- torship of that Church, left vacant by the demise of the late lamented Dr Milnor. The FIRE AT FORTSMOUTH.—Estimates of the loss by this fire vary from $136,900 to $295,000. The issuence in the Portsmouth Mutuel is set down at $5,000; Rockingham Mutual $10,000; New York Mutual offices, $20,070, and various stock offices, $30,000, including one risk of $10,000 at the Zinz	for all he engagements by Mr Samuel Laird, of Colt's Neck, N. He was connected with the late King by marriage, his wife being sister to the Ex- Queen. For the last year he has been General of this Department. He is a full black, over six feet high, erect in figure, and about seventy-two years old.— He still tides well, is often on horseback, and, for his age, is very active and vigorous. He bas little of no education, but is said to be gifted with considerable natural shrewdness, and to be temperate in his habits, —in the latter particular, having greatly the advan- age of his predceessor. A merchant of this place, named Praderes, enga- ged in the American trade, has been appointed by Pierault to succeed him, as General, or Military Gov- etnor of the North. The alarms arising from an expected invasion by Herara a, pears to have passed away. There is lit- tile doubt, however, that this penic served to precipi- tate the choice upon Pierault, as it was well known that the latter otherwise intended to urge his claims with all the force at his command.
