ABOTHER SLAVER CURVICTED.—Capt. Jason L. Pandleton, indicted in the U. S. District Court at Bal-timore, for being connected with the slave trade on the coast of Africa, has been convicted. The punish-ment is fine and imprisonment. SCEAR.—The New Orleans Picayune says:—"We understand that sugar plantations are being opened in various sections of the State, with unprecedented ra-pidity. Many of the cotten planters have abandoned pidity. Many of the cotten planters have abandoned to lorget obligations, because the remembrance of stand against the Tennesseeans. Jackson attacked great advantages which we have gained should admo-them is burdensome, and politicians almost invariably the place on the 27th and after a severe contest suc-kick down the ladder by which they climb to fame."
