MR. M'CANDLESS-THE EMOGIUM.-We clip the following from the "Blairsville Record," of July 30th: Eulogium.—We give in our outside of to-day's paper, the Eulogium of Wilson M'Candless, Esq., delivered at Pittsburgh, before an immense audience. Among the many eloquent eulogiums that have appeared on this solemn event, which has called fort such universal sympathy, we have not read one that excels, either in beauty of thought, or rich and touching language, the one spoken by Mr M'Candless, and assure our readers that it will fully compensate them for the time spent in giving it an earnest perusal.

J. D. BACHMAN. Set Your Watches Right. Got an "Observation." THE difference of time frequently occurring, (particularly the recent difference of about 20 minutes.) between the two principal regulators of the city time, and the consequent confusion in the time pie-ces of the citizens, has been a matter of just complaint by all parties, and vexatious particularly to the watch To remedy this evil, I some time since sent out for an instrument recently invented in London, called the DIPLEIDOSCOPE. r Double reflecting meridian and altitude instrument by which the true time can be obtained either from SUD OF STATE TO A FRACTION OF A SECOND! I received this instrument a few days ago, and toay have taken an observation with it. I can, therefore, with the utmost confidence assure the citizens generally, that my regulator, (of our own manufacture) by the aid of the above instrument, shall show with unerring certainty the true time constantly, and therefore invite all who wish to call and obta STANDARD TIME.
