Suppriming and field. Suppriming and field. FOR THE POST. VANCLUSE, Wood County, Va., Sep. 24th, 1844. MR. EDITOR: -On the night of the 21st inst., we were appalled by the cry of fite, and found to our utter istorishment, that the Store-house occupied by our isonishment, that the Store-house occupied by our worthy friend and citizen John Hartwell, merchant, was on fire, and the house and nearly all his stock of goods entirely consumed. Our point appears to bean unfortunate one; within two or three years there has been two destructive fires here. Our triend Mr. Hart-were better pleased. They all sympathize with him, for thus far, L believe, he has given general astisfac-tion. I believe he has fore a low in the fore a low of the size a low of the size of the si have never known a man with whom the community were better pleased. They all sympathize with him, for thus far, I believe, he has given general satisfac tion. I do not look upon the fire as a loss to Mr Hartwell is a good merchant, having been long enga-ged in the business of selling goods, and he understands his trade well. Mr. Hartwell was at Pittsburgh at the time his property was burned, and knew nothing of it until his return. But, had he been here at the time, the circumstances, in all probability, would have been the same. Mr. Hartwell bing a prodent, sober, managing man, was careful in the choice of a clerk, and in Mr. Cording, he was not disappointed. Mr Hartwell is worthy of the confidence of the commu-nity. The fire is a the how here at the the time, the circumstances in all probability. Would have been the same.
