THE ELECTION.—Although all parties felt a deep interest in the result of the late election for Mayor, and the friends of the two most prominent candidates made every effort to secure the success of their respective favorites, yet the contest passed off harmoniously and pleasant, and we did not hear of a single occurrence that was calculated to create bad feelings between the contending parties. No man had ever more warm, zealous and untiring friends than Dr. Kerr, the democratic candidate. During his long residence in our city he has become known to almost every one of our citizens, as his private department and gentlemanly bearing in his intercourse with his fellow citizens, won for him the esteem of men of all parties. His qualifications to discharge the duties of the office, and his correct business habits, were sufficient assurances to his fellow citizens that he would make a faithful public servant, and that in elevating him to the chief magistracy of our city they were bestowing their suffrages on one who would not abuse the confidence placed in him.

The late election may be regarded as a pretty fair trial of strength between the two parties. Although it is asserted, and with truth we believe, that a number of whigs, whose personal esteem for Dr KERR was stronger than their political attachments, voted for the democratic candidate; yet we know that there were many professing democrats who voted for Mr HOWARD and and many more who did not vote at all. We believe that these charges would constitute a pretty fair "stand off" and that the result shows about the actual strength of parties in the contest.

In looking at the results of the two elections that have taken place since the beginning of the new year, it is clear to every observer that the tendency of public opinion is becoming more strong every year in favor of Democratic principles, and gives an encouraging indication that ere long Pittsburgh will be completely redeemed and disenthralled from the iron rule of federalism. We are slowly but surely realising the adage that truth is mighty and will prevail: and it does not require the spirit of prophecy to foretell that a few more contests such as those that have just passed will fix our smoky city firmly in the Democratic faith.

The contest on last Tuesday, shows our friends what they can do when they try, and with the encouraging result before them, we feel assured that they will (for we know they can) do even better the next time.

TAKING THEIR REVENGE.—The public will no doubt remember that we stated on Tuesday morning, that it had been announced to the watchmen on the previous evening, that as some of them were suspected of unfriendly feelings to the present Mayor, it was desired by the powers that be, that they should vote an open ticket for Mr. Howard at the Mayors election; and that it was necessary that one of the constables, or some of Mayor Howard's special friends, should see the ticket, or they would not be believed. This piece of petty tyranny was protested on the spot by a number of the watchmen present, who declared that they would not be coerced into the support of any man. For this act of independence they were marked, and accordingly when the watch roll was called last evening five of the watchmen suspected of entertaining feelings of personal independence, found that their names were stricken from the list, and other individuals selected to fill their places.

The names of the persons thus presented are, JAMES M'FARREN, dem., LUKE NOLAN, dem., GEORGE SCOTT, whig, JOSEPH LEWIS, whig; WM BRECKSTER, whig.

This is a most pitiful piece of petty tyranny, on the part of Mr. Howard, and cannot but call forth the deepest and scorn of right thinking men of all parties. We know that among the watchmen thus presented, there are some of the most vigilant and fearless of the night police, and by their proscription, the security of the citizens, and the peace and good order of the city, in their several "beats" are greatly jeopardized. We are sorry that the whig authorities should resort to this most unworthy means to revenge themselves for their late defeat; and we think that when Mayor Howard can reflect calmly of the matter, he will regret deeply that he yielded to the advice of those who persuaded him to pursue this most unmanly and illiberal course. We will, if we have room, refer to this petty proscription, more at length to-morrow.

☞ Since the election of Dr KERR, the impress on his got abroad (we can't tell how) that some of the present police will have permission to retire from the public service. Some of those busy-bodies who are continually meddling with other people's concerns, are endeavoring to ascertain what useful callings these gentlemen will apply their talents to when the new administration comes into power. We have heard it suggested that, perhaps it would suit the views of all parties interested if they could be induced to emigrate to Allegheny, and attend to the interests of our sister city under the direction of the "gallant Cassat." If they should enter into this arrangement, we hope they will be more prompt in arresting the thieves of that city than they were in divulging the knowledge of the villainous acts of these light-fingered gentry, with which they were recently made acquainted.

We do not know how the citizens of Allegheny would like this arrangement, but as Mr Cassat is now elected, it is none of their business, and if we choose to favor Mr C. with the services of our indefatigable police the "common people" have no right to growl. We are pleased with the suggestion, and have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that "it would do."

THE NAVY OF THE UNITED STATES.—The number and class of vessels in the naval service on the 1st day of October, is stated by the Secretary as follows:

	In com'sion.	In ordin'y.	Build'g.	Total.
Ships of the line.	4	2	5	11
Frigates,	7	4	3	14
Sloops of war.	15	6	2	23
Brigs.	5	1	0	6
Schooners,	5	1	0	6
Steamers,	6	3	2	11
Store ships,	4 razee	1	0	5
	46	18	12	76

THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES.—The entire force enrolled on the 28th of November, was as follows—Officers, 733; non commissioned officers and privates, musicians and artificers, 7,883—in all, 8,616 men.

IRON IN PENNSYLVANIA.—One iron foundry near Harrisburgh, Pa, paid during the past season $10,000 for tolls on its coal and iron transported on the canal. There have been erected in the state of Pennsylvania, within the last two years, thirty-two anthracite founderies.

The next news from Europe will probably be received by a packet ship, as no steamer will leave England until the 4th of January.

From our Washington Correspondent.

January 10, 1846.

The attention of the House of Representatives, today, was principally occupied by two questions—a motion to dismiss Mr Heiss, as one of the printers for that body on account of an article in the "Union" over his signature, reflecting upon remarks previously made by Mr Hudson, of Mass,—and the Oregon question. During the discussion on the former, considerable excitement prevailed. The motion was made by Garrett Davis, who proceeded to make a speech in support of it. Mr M'Connell, who was unanimously elected at the time, called Mr D. to order, and denounced the measure as a dirty piece of business in dirty hands; to which Mr. D. responded that he "would not hold a parley with a drunken blackguard." The speaker called both to order for using improper language, and some member personally Mr M. to leave the House. The motion was laid on the table.

Mr R M S Hunter, opened the debate on the Oregon question, and spoke his full hour against the resolution for giving notice to England for the abrogation of the treaty for the joint occupancy of that territory.

He was followed by Mr Kennedy, who also occupied his hour, and in support of the resolution, and our right to the whole of Oregon. And not only did he show that we had a right, but policy and duty required that we should take and occupy it. He was no advocate—no friend of war; but if the British lion or any other lion, lay down in our path, we should not travel around the world to shun him but force him to prove his resting place on our soil. He saw no necessity for taking Oregon by stealth. It was ours by right. We have, said he, no right to go to Canada, and endeavor to force her into our Union; but if she should desire the protection of our laws, it was our duty to pull the latch string and let her in. He did not doubt that a conflict would come between us and Great Britain, at some time, but when the history of that war shall be written, it will record the downfall of the British Empire.

He was rejoiced to find that this was not to be a party question. Venerable and respectable men of the whig party had spoken, and would vote with the friends of the resolution, from a sense of duty; while equally respectable members of the democratic party would oppose them, because, to them, duty seemed to point that way.

Mr TOOMES has the floor on Monday.

Previous to going into Committee of the Whole, various reports were made by standing committees, which were severally referred to the Committee of the Whole.

A bill from the Senate for the relief of James Bogardus, which had been referred to the Committee on Patents, was reported back by the Committee, and passed its final reading.

A resolution was moved directing inquiries as to the number of vessels and seamen employed in the mercantile service: and also whether they could be used for national defence in case of a war.

The national feeling, growing out of our relations with England, continues to increase; and interest in the topics before Congress, connected therewith, to become more exciting. Judging from the static each day to obtain the floor, it will probably be some time before the questions now pending in either House are disposed of. I have no doubt of the passage of the resolution to annul the treaty of "joint occupancy," by both houses; unless the news from England should evince a disposition to reopen negotiations on liberal terms. If a copious deposition is shown, Congress will act promptly and energetically.

FROM HAVANA.—By the arrival of the brig "3 Street" at New Orleans, on the 24 instant, from Havana, we are in possession of dates to the 14th of that place.

The news from HAVANA is not of considerable importance. The Captain General of the Island has yielded to the desires manifested by the Municipality of Puerto Principe, that he should visit the capital of Camagney, and sailed on the 18th ult on a visit there for that purpose.

The message of President POLK is freely commented upon by the press of HAVANA, and very much criticised. One of its minor recommendations touches a Spanish colonial shipworm, and on this point its correctness and justice are noted and commended.

Business was very dull at that time, on the holidays approaching, and, as customary, many persons were leaving the city to spend their Christmas in the country.

Old sugars are held at 7 and 11 to 8¼ and 12¼ for good to fine, and from 6½ to 8¼ for low and yellow; inferior to superfine. Coffee very scarce, from $6 to $7 75 for good to fine.

WONDERFUL ESCAPE.—A youth named DARBY, residing in Livingston county N Y a week or two since fell headfirst into a well, a distance of 35 feet, righting himself, the water being only four feet deep, he hauled lustily for help, and was rescued without the least apparent injury.

ELECTION IN GEORGIA.—The election in the third district of Georgia, on Monday last, is still in doubt. In Bibb county the vote stood: Towns, dem. 622; Burden, whig, 541. Towns majority in Crawford county, was reported to be 140.

COLD.—At Fredericktown, New Brunswick, 25th Dec, 1845, the thermometer was twenty six degrees below zero; at Milwaukie, Wisconsin, Dec 20, fourteen degrees below zero.

FOR THE POST

BOARD OF TRADE.

Mr Editor:—The Morning Chronicle of Saturday contained a couple of columns purporting to be a report of the committee of the Board of Trade of this city. Wondering what matter of importance that institution had to communicate to the public, I read it through, and found that, amongst other things, the action of the Board in relation to the right of way of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was dwelt upon at considerable length. Now, if those who compose the Board, can arrogate to themselves any credit for their labors in this matter so interesting to the prosperity of Pittsburgh, I am disposed to give them full credit for all they can claim; but I should like to know, and it is a question that may be fairly put: why has the committee neglected to report the proceedings of the Board with reference to the Beaver Division of the Erie Canal, in which the resumption of that important portion of the public works, by the state, was denounced as impolitic, and which proceedings were signed by Josiah King, and forwarded to George Darsie of the Senate? It is important to know how, and for what reason this interference of the Board, in a matter that did not come within its jurisdiction, was brought about; because it is notorious that this missive sent to the Senate by Mr King, bearing upon its face the stamp and sanction of the Board of Trade, destroyed and rendered nugatory all the labor and exertions of those who had the matter of the "right of way" in charge at Harrisburgh, and was the main cause of the defeat of a bill relative to it in the Legislature at its last session.

I say again, it is a question to be asked, why no reference has been made in the report to the proceedings of the Board relative to the Beaver Division. If these proceedings are not entered on the minutes, and do not form any part of its transactions, the inference is irresistible that the communication to Mr Darsie must have been spurious and unwarranted. Let us know, therefore, where, or upon whom the responsibility should rest!

As regards the utility of a Board of Trade, I would just remark, that it is an institution that may be very useful in large commercial cities; but no association of the kind will ever prosper or meet with public confidence, which has for its ulterior object political managements, and the advancement of the interests of certain cliques, and initiated individuals.

Railroad Meeting.

The citizens of Indiana township met at the house of Mr Geo Potter, on Saturday the 10th day of January, 1846, to take into consideration the subject of the right of way for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. When, on motion Capt Thomas Hart was called to the chair, and Charles Anderson appointed Sec'y.

On motion, the Chairman then addressed the meeting, in a very spirited address, showing the importance of said Road terminating at Pittsburgh.

On motion, Messrs John Hunter, Hugh M'Clarin and A Ingram, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions.

On motion, That our Chairman, Capt T S Hart, write a copy of his address and that it be published along with the minutes of this meeting.

The committee appointed to draft resolutions, submitted the following through their chairman—and to the meeting, which was read and unanimously adopted

Whereas, The Railroad question is the all absorbing topic of discussion and is the most important question which will be agitated in our state legislature during its present session.

And Whereas, It is highly proper that the citizens of the state should express freely and fully their views on this important subject.

And Whereas, We, as citizens of Allegheny county, feel a deep interest upon this subject, therefore,

Resolved, That we are pleased to learn that a Railroad convention is to be held at Harrisburgh on the 12th inst and we hope that there will be a large delegation from this county in attendance

Resolved, That it is of the utmost consequence that a speedy mean are should be taken to secure to Pennsylvania this route for trade and travel between the east and the west.

Resolved, That we are glad to see a spirit of determination on the part of the citizens of Philadelphia and the eastern portion of the state to have a continuous Railroad constructed from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh by the way of Harrisburgh, as soon as possible.

Resolved, That we anticipate no injury to the canal on account of such a road, but on the contrary believe that the revenue of the main line will be increased thereby.

Resolved That we regret that the grant of the right of way to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company through this state, from a point near Cumberland to Pittsburgh, should meet with opposition from any of our fellow citizens.

Resolved, That we deem it of the utmost importance to the interest of the whole state, that the right of way should be granted at once, and we believe that if the right of way is refused, and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has Wheeling, Fishing Creek or Parkersburg for its western termination, much greater injury will be to the main line, and to all the interests of the state, than by permitting that Road to terminate at the City of Pittsburgh.

Resolved, although we are mainly in favor of the Railroad from Harrisburgh to Pittsburgh, yet we deem the extension of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to Pittsburgh, a measure of more importance at present, and one which requires immediate action

Resolved, That we are glad to learn that efforts are being made to get an appropriation from Congress, for the improvement of the Navigation of the Ohio River, and we hope that these efforts will be crowned with success.

Resolved, That we have noticed with concern and regret, the stagnation in business that occurs in the city of Pittsburgh, during the winter months, when the Canal is unfit for use; and that can only be remedied by the Railroad communication.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the officers, who shall be a committee to have them published in the Daily Pittsburgh Post and Pittsburgh Gazette, and that a copy be sent to the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives from this county.

On motion, the following gentlemen were appointed as a committee to procure signatures to a Petition to our Legislature for the Right of Way. Messrs John M'Pherson, Geo Forrer, John Hunter, Wm Beelen, Hugh M'Clarin and Francis Beatty.

Capt. THOS HART, Chairman.

CHARLES ANDERSON, Secretary.

REMARKS OF CAPTAIN HART

GENTLEMEN—We have met here for the purpose of expressing our sentiments and during these remarks it will be to the point to speak of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad through our state to the city of Pittsburgh. Gentlemen you, I presume, are well aware of the efforts that are now making to prevail upon our present legislature to pass a law granting the right of way through our state to the city of Pittsburgh, and you are also well aware of the vast importance of having that law passed. The city of Pittsburgh is not interested alone, but the whole West, in fact the entire State is deeply interested in having a law passed that effects that object. I see no hopes that our present patriotic Legislature will see the importance of it and thereby be induced during the early part of the present Session, to pass a law granting the right of way through our State to the City of Pittsburgh. Gentlemen, should that Company be compelled, through the unwise legislation of our state, to take the Road through the state of Virginia to the city of Wheeling, it will be disastrous and ruinous to the city of Pittsburgh, as it will seriously and effectually injure her best interests, and that for all time to come. To injure the best interests of the state of Pennsylvania, as it will be ruinous and disastrous to her Main Line of Improvements. Gentlemen, we are also deeply interested as the Citizens of Pittsburgh, in that every measure that interests, or may injure the best interests of our state, interests us. Therefore, Gentlemen, it behooves us and every one of us, who has the interests of the state and her own interest at heart, to be up and doing. Let him give the subject a calm, deep and deliberate investigation, and before it be too late step to the front and endeavor to force her into our Union; but if she should desire the protection of our laws, it was our duty to pull the latch string and let her in. He did not doubt that a conflict would come between us and Great Britain, at some time, but when the history of that war shall be written, it will record the downfall of the British Empire.

a few short months since. Where is there a city in the world of the same magnitude whose citizens could have accomplished so much in so short a space of time? But look at her in other respects, she stands in a position to become the great navy yard of the United States for building Iron Steamships. I would ask you what city in the world has the same resources and facilities that she has for that purpose? and she has competent, industrious and intelligent mechanics, inferior to none in the world. Under such circumstances ought not their best interests to be protected and cherished? I think so, and I hope that our wise legislature will duly appreciate her just rights and interests.

Gentlemen, there is another great matter to be looked into, and that is what will be the result to the interests of the state of Pennsylvania, with regard to her main line of Improvements. If the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is taken through the state of Virginia to a point on the Ohio river, the result will be ruinous indeed beyond all calculation; at present, I forbear, predict that there will not be sufficient tolls collected upon the main line of improvements to keep them in repair, and the time will not be distant, under those circumstances, when application would have to be made to the legislature for appropriations to make the necessary repairs, thus making the main line a curse to us instead of a public benefit, as it would increase our taxes.

Again, gentlemen, there are a great many persons who are under the impression that if the right of way are granted, that it would be injurious to the canal, but I am under the impression that that is a mistaken idea. The canal, it is true, may lose some of the passengers and a portion of the lighter freights, but I firmly assert that it will be more than made up by the increase of heavy freights, and I think that the Railroad cannot begin to come in competition with the canal as regards this description of freights. If the Railroad is brought to Pittsburgh, I think the heavy freights will be very much increased, so much so, as to add greatly to the profitableness of the Canal. Even allowing that it should be injurious in a slight measure to the canal, is it not better for the state to submit to that injury than to drive the whole trade and travel of the great west from her borders. Again, there is four months of the year that the canal is useless, and there is no mode of transporting goods from the east to any part of the state to the western, during that time, except by wagoning, which makes the prices of transportation exceedingly high; under these circumstances, gentlemen, you may see the vast importance it is to Pittsburgh to have a Railroad communication with the Eastern or Atlantic cities.

Gentlemen, I rejoice to see the active exertions that are making in the eastern part of our state to have a continuous line of Railroad from Philadelphia, by the way of Harrisburgh, to Pittsburgh; and I hope that their efforts may be crowned with success. But in the meantime let us use our utmost endeavors to secure to Pennsylvania the travel and trade of the great west, as I think that a Railroad from Philadelphia by the way of Harrisburgh to Pittsburgh would be of little import should that trade and travel be driven, through unwise measures, from our own state, and be taken through Virginia to Baltimore.

Gentlemen I am in hopes you will make full and ample allowance for any defects that may have occurred in my discourse to you, as I assure you that it is the first time that I ever attempted to address a public meeting.

☞ Use Dr Duncan's Expectorant Remedy for colds, coughs, consumption, bronchitis, &c, it you are suffering with any of the numerous complaints which it is intended to cure. You cannot in the entire list of Syrups, Balsams, Expectorants, &c., &c., find a remedy that is more worthier of trial—that has proved itself more valuable or more extensively used. There is probably no medical preparation of the present age that has so rapidly advanced in public favor—that has so speedily won an enviable popularity, and that solely by the reputation of its wonderful merits.

Since its introduction into the western country it has built up for itself a name which has thrown completely into the shade all the old standard preparations for the cure of this large and exceedingly distressing class of diseases.
