The Daily Morning Post.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17, 1846.

CORRESPONDENTS.

In reference to communications which may appear in this paper, we have one or two remarks to make.—We will insert none without the name of the author being first made known to us, and when inserted, must always be taken as expressive of the views of the writer, and not the editor of this paper, unless the views so expressed are editorially remarked upon and approved.

Taking it coolly.—A dark hand on board the steamer Rhode Island got up in his sleep on Tuesday night and walked overboard. The concussion he received on meeting the cold bath, brought him to a sense of his situation. Being an expert swimmer, he succeeded in getting ashore.

☞ A lot of Furniture, Oil Paintings, Rifle and Watches, will be sold at M'Kenna's, this evening at 7 o'clock.

To Mothers.—The difficulty which every mother experiences in administering medicine to infants, is entirely obviated by Dr. Clickener's preparation, called the Sugar Coated Vegetable Purgative Pill. The pill is encoated with fine white sugar, so that it resembles and tastes like a sugar plum, which no child ever yet refused to swallow. For worms this is an assured remedy, and it has been used with excellent effect in teething. The matron of the Farm School writes to Dr. Clickener that she has used for some time, this Sugar Coated Pill in both these complaints, and always with entire success.

Sold by Wm Jackson, corner of Wood and Liberty streets, who is general Agent for Dr Clickener's Pills in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

☞ Beware of an imitation article called "Improved Sugar-Coated Pills," purporting to be Patented as both the pills and pretended patent are forgeries, got up by a miserable quack, in New York, who, for the last four or five years, has made his living by counterfeiting popular medicines. jan. 17.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.—This celebrated remedy is a compound balsamic preparation of the Wild Cherry and Moss of Iceland, combined by a new chemical progress with the Extract of Pine. So salutary have been its effects in all cases when administered for Coughs, Asthma, Consumption, or any disease of the lungs, that many of the most distinguished physicians have approved and recommended it, and openly acknowledged it to be the most valuable medicine ever discovered. It is truly a valuable medicine, and is effecting an immense amount of good in the relief of suffering humanity.

☞ See Advertisement.

SEALED PROPOSALS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Con., Equip., and Repairs,
January 5, 1846.

SEALED PROPOSALS, endorsed "proposals for timber, copper and iron," will be received at the bureau until 3 o'clock, on the 16th of February next, for delivering at the respective navy-yards near Portsmouth, New Hampshire; Charlestown, Massachussets, Brooklyn, New York; Philadelphia, Washington and Norfolk.

First. For white oak timber, which shall not be less than 35 feet, and shall average 45 feet in length, which may square more, but not less than 12 inches at the top end, to be rough squared, as for plank sheers. They may be straight both ways, or slightly curved one way.

Second. for square white oak butt-cuts from 12 to 25 feet long; of which—

One sixth shall be	22 ft long	18 to 12 in	to be
"	20 "	17 by 11 "	straight
"	18 "	16 by 10 "	both
"	12 "	15 by 9 "	ways,

and one-sixth square, and may be more, but not less, than 14 inches at the small end, be rough-hewed, straight, and have regular curve from 12 to 12 inches the other way.

Third. For best long leaf, fine grain, heart southern yellow pine. None less than 35 feet, to average 45 feet in length, which may square more, but not less, than 12 inches at the end, to be rough squared as for plank stocks. The sticks may be straight both ways, or slightly curved one way.

Fourth. For the best yellow pine of the kind above mentioned, rough-hewed, from 45 to 75 feet long, to average 50 feet, and to square in the middle of their lengths—for one-half the quantity, ages inch to every three feet, and the other half one inch to every four feet of their length, and to be straight both ways.

Fifth. For the best yellow pine of the same description rough-hewed, square, and of equal size throughout their length, from 35 to 45 feet in length, to average 40 feet—one-third to square 18 inches, one-third to square 16 inches and one-third to square 14 inches. To be straight one way, and may have a slight regular curve the other way, not exceeding 6 inches in 45 feet.

Separate offers will be received from bidders for each of the above kinds and classes of timber at any of the navy-yards above stated, and separately for such as can be delivered on or before the 1st of July, between the 1st of July and the 1st of October and 31st of December, 1846. Persons offering will also state the quantity of each kind and class they will contract to deliver, and the prices per cubic foot asked for the deliveries to be made in each of those periods, at such of the navy-yards as they may prefer. Those who may be so disposed to offer are requested to make separate offers for several yards and periods of delivery; stating particularly the quantities and prices for deliveries in each of the periods, and for each yard, for which they offer, with the understanding that their offers for one yard only will be binding on them, but open to subsequent agreement if desired by the department

It is to be distinctly understood by the parties who may make offers, that the department reserves to itself the right of accepting such offers only as, at the time of receiving them, it may deem expedient to meet its own views of the wants of the service at the respective navy-yards.

Although the offers made by persons will be considered as binding for one yard without subsequent agreement, they can make separate offers for more than one yard to secure greater chances for acceptance; but no offers are desired which cannot certainly be fully completed within the times named in the offer; and with the understanding that ten per cent, will be reserved from all bills in addition to bonds, and be positively forfeited to the United States in case of any failure to fulfil contracts in due time.

The whole must be of the best quality, sound, free from heart shakes, rents, bad knots, and defects, subject to inspection and measurement by persons to be appointed by the commandant of the yards when deliveries may be made; and be in all respects to his entire satisfaction, or it will not be received.

Offers will also be received for furnishing at the navy-yards, during the respective periods aforesaid, bolt and sheet copper, and round flat, and square iron—all to be of the best quality, and subject to inspection and approval, and under the same conditions as herein specified for timber. The prices asked to be for the pound, for each yard, and period of delivery; and the offers must state distinctly whether it is for American or of what other manufacture.

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

From our Washington Correspondent.

January 14, 1846.

The proceedings of the Senate to-day, were enlivened by an interesting debate, on a request by Mr Allen, for permission to introduce a joint resolution, of which he gave notice on yesterday. The resolution was accompanied by a preamble, setting forth the cause for it. I could not obtain a copy in time for this letter, but the substance I believe was a declaration that the welfare of this republic, and the safety and permanency of our institutions would be endangered by allowing the interference of European powers with the affairs of independent nations on the American continent—and a notice to the civilized world, that the United States cannot permit any further interference of this kind, or any extension of the boundaries of European nations, or the addition of new colonies on this continent.

The question was debated by Mr Green, Mr Calhoun, Mr Allen, and Mr Larnegan; and a motion by the latter, to lay the motion for reception on the table, for the present, was carried by a vote of Ayes 28,—Nays 23—the whig senators present and Messrs Calhoun, Colquitt, Haywood, M'Duffie, Speight and Westcott, voting in the affirmative.

Mr Crittenden from the committee on Foreign Relations, then presented a preamble and resolutions, authorizing the President to give notice to England, at any time he may deem proper, after the adjournment of the present session of Congress, to terminate the treaty for the joint occupancy of Oregon.

These were made the order of the day for the 10th of February, to which you will recollect, all the other propositions in the Senate relative to Oregon, have been postponed.

The attention of the House of Representatives, was consumed by the debate on the Oregon question.

Mr Staunton of Tenn, who had the floor when the Committee rose on Monday, opened the debate, and spoke his hour. He was unqualifiedly in favor of giving the notice to England. Refuted the idea that this step was a war measure; or would be the cause of war. Give this, and the two nations would stand, face to face, in their true position. Each would then see the necessity for settling the matter; England would then make an offer. If they should indicate a willingness to accept the proposition heretofore made by this government, to fix the boundary, at the 49 deg. parallel of latitude; he thought we would be bound to accede to it. If she should not do this, we ought to take prompt measures to secure to ourselves the whole of the territory. He thought, too, we should progress in our preparations—that we should be in no worse situation than we now are. Great Britain is making preparations at the mouth of the Columbia. She has all the harbors north of that river. The whole territory is interspersed with the forts of the Hudson Bay Company. All those who enlist in the service of that company, enlist as soldiers, and to do military duty. So that they have now a perfect military organization, and consequently a military possession of that country.

The amendment which had been proposed to the resolution, he considered of no importance. The President had declared his conviction, that now is the time the notice should be given. The only effect the amendment could have, would be to give to Great Britain an impression that we would not adopt measures to sustain the President.

A war to be waged below the parallel of 49 deg., would be a war of aggression. It will be adding another fearful crime to her already extended catalogue of sacrificed millions—not of mere men, but of warm hearts. If a war comes, it will be no ordinary war. England will go down and bite the dust. We shall have the sympathy of the oppressed of all nations.—He alluded to the distracted state of Ireland, and the turbulent spirit of Canada; also the probable termination soon of the career of Lewis Phillippe, and the prospect that, whoever might succeed that monarch, the relations of France to England, would assume a new aspect. He hoped for peace, but if in spite of all our liberality of terms—our concessions and efforts to effect a pacific settlement of difference,—a war, with all its appalling and horrid consequences must come—let us meet her with bosoms bare, as our hands are clean.

He was followed by Mr Gordon of N Y, who vindicated our right to the whole of Oregon to 54 deg. 40,—reprobated the doctrine of "masterly inactivity"—showing that while we had been practicing upon this, Great Britain had been steadily and effectively progressing with her measures of defence. He was for giving immediate notice; and contended that if we did not bring the matter to a termination soon, all that territory south of latitude 49 degrees, would be lost to us.

Why, said he, do we want Oregon? Because it is contiguous to the United States—to establish and extend the area of freedom—to plant there the tree of liberty—we want it, because it is ours—we want it because Great Britain wants it, and we do not like her for a neighbor, there—we want it for a home for unborn millions—we want it for the purposes of trade.

McBrinkerhoff, of Ohio, Mr Wentworth of Ill; and Mr Chipman of Michigan, successively followed and were severly in favor of giving the notice. Their remarks were forcible and to the point; but as I have already extended my letter to great length, I must cut short.

Yours, DUQUESNE.

Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

THIS is to certify, that my youngest boy, aged about 2 years, was taken sick with the summer complaint. He was attended by a Physician all summer, and received little or no relief. About the middle of November, I gave him some of Fahnestock's Vermifuge, which brought away one hundred and thirty large worms, and gave him immediate relief. He has been perfectly healthy.

GREAT EXCITEMENT!!

TARIFF REPEALED!!!

THE sliding scale principle abandoned and the minimum standard adopted at

No. 92 Market Street.

We have been receiving for the last week or two, a fresh supply of seasonable DRY GOODS, bought from the Manufacturers, Importers, and at Auction, at the lowest cash prices. Having had an experienced Agent in Philadelphia and New York for some months past picking up bargains, here and there, enables us to offer to the public a splendid stock of Goods with almost an impercentible Tarif. Our stock consists in part of the following Goods:—

Shawls—a great variety;
French Terkert Shawls;
English do do;
Splendid Brosha and Cashmere
