The Tariff Bill we regret to say, has passed the senate, and ere this, we presume, is a law of the land. Honestly fearing that the sweeping change made by the provisions of the bill, would have a very unfavorable influence upon the interests of the land. Honestly fearing that the sweeping change we, as is well known to our readers, warmally opposed us passage, and now that it is passed, have a word of two to say to our Democratic friends. The subject of this Tariff, though one of great importance, is certainly not the only question of the people. The democracy of Pennsylvania have for many years been the consistent and unwavering advocates of the Tariff policy, and the news that M Kay's bill has become a law, will be worded the interests of the fact to regard as a decident profession of the Union.
