Miss EMELINE YEAGER, aged seventeen vers, was taken, when at the age of sixteen, with a slight cold; which she neglected until the LUNGS fell a prey to that seeking destroyer, CONSUMPTION, when application to a physician was made, but to no effect. He considered her case a hopeless one, and prescribed but little medicine for her. In the mean- time she discharged great quantities of blood, with nuch expectoration of thick' phlegm and cough.— Her bodily frame at length became reduced to a liv- ing skeleton. Her last was anxiously looked for by her friends, that her sufferings might end by the pangs of death. During the time, her physician frequently called, and as the last refort, determined, to test the virtues of wDr. Duncan's Expectorant Remody," having noticed some extraordinary currs performed by the medicine in similar cases. He at once obtained two bottles, and administered it to her. The fourth day he found some change, which gave hopes. He continued giving the medicine for eighteen days; at that time she was rendered able to be waking in her bed chamber, to the astonishment of her friends and relatives. She continued using the medicine for eight weeks, when she declared	Expectorant Remedy, and if it is in the power of medicine to give relief, you will be speedily and effectually cured.
