I was so much interested in a detailed account he gave me of his cough and cure, that I embrace the first liesure moment to communicate it to you, and if the cure is as radical as it appears to be, it is the most remarkable one I have ever known.

For 32 years (after having the messles) he has been suffering with a lough of the most distressing kind, getting worse as he advanced in years; the is now 55. Frequent terms of coughing and difficulty of breathing, lasting from an hour to an hour and a half, would come upon him, with such severity as to exhaust him, with strangling until his eyes became bloodshot. He had despaired of being cured, having tried physicians and a thousand things without relief. For nine weeks immediately previous to his taking the Expectorant, he had not been able to go to his barn, although there was the most urgent necessity for him to do so.
