COLLEGE ENDOWMENTS.
In reference to communications which may appear in this paper, we have two remarks to make. We will insert none without the name of the author, and we will not insert any unless we have been known to us, and we will not insert any unless we have been known to us, and we will not insert any unless we have been known to us.

THE OREGON TREATY.
The Oregon Treaty, which was signed at Washington on the 6th of June, 1846, is a treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which settles the boundary between the two countries in the Pacific Northwest.

ICE CREAM.—That Ice Cream sent us yesterday afternoon by HERRICK & DICKSON, Fifth street, was a treat to us. We had a room in this city, and many of our folks came to the conclusion that it "wasn't hard to take" this hot weather, at least we thought to from the manner in which they "went into it." HERRICK has the reputation of doing up things nice than any body else, and persons wishing to procure the "good" and better give him a call. The ice cream saloon has been fitted up anew, and takes the shine off any in the city.

LECTURE.—Mr. J. H. GREEN delivered another of his interesting lectures, in the Grand street Baptist Church, on the Evils of Gambling, last night, and was heartily glad to see so many attend. Mr. GREEN was laboring manfully, at the risk of his own personal safety, to rid society of its most dangerous enemy, and he should receive the countenance and support of every good citizen. We hope he will continue his lectures.

TWENTY-NINTH CONGRESS.
WASHINGTON, August 10, 1846.
SENATE.
The Smithsonian Request bill was passed in the shape in which it came from the House.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
The House met at eight, with a decided majority of empty benches. Each of those present appeared full of anxiety, as though the moment would come when the bill would be taken up for consideration.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN SHIP.
6 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.
Last John Bull's new Sugar Steamer, the Potato Boat in Ireland again—Royal Diagonal—Consumption of Indian Corn—State of the Market.

The news this brings is but six days later than that received by last steamer. The election of the Queen is the general topic of discussion, with the claims of the different candidates for her hand.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. James Town's marriage with the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire.

The Chamber of Commerce at Liverpool had addressed a highly complimentary letter to Mr. James Town, in which they have carefully mentioned the difficulties between the U. S. and Great Britain on the Oregon territory.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at Liverpool, Mr. James Town was the subject of much discussion, and it was generally agreed that the U. S. and Great Britain should settle the Oregon territory.
