

THE PITTSBURGH DAILY MORNING POST.

JOHN HIGGINS, Editor. PITTSBURGH, SATURDAY, SEPT. 5, 1846.

Allegany County Democratic Ticket. FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, WILLIAM H. POSTER, J. J. ...

FOR V. PALMER, Agent for canal newspapers. The Agent for the Pittsburgh Morning Post...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

FOR THE EDITOR, JOHN HIGGINS. The Editor of the Journal is a very resident, has not forgotten the services rendered by his party...

THE EIGHT DOLLARS SEVENTY-ONE CTS. as the amount of tax derived from the public works of the state, in the two years which they have been under the control of the present competent and efficient Board. At the expiration of three years of their rule we find the public works in a better state than they have ever been in before. Now look at the other side; at the end of two and a half years of the Democratic rule we find that the public works of the state have yielded a net revenue amounting to nearly one and a half millions of dollars, and the works clear of debt.

The damage done to all the state works this last spring was very great—fully equal in extent to the damage done to the same works in the big breach, in 1838. The Huntington breach occurred in June, and the whole season's navigation on that part of the works was lost—the breach was repaired at an expense of $37,419.33. The breaches of last spring under the direction of the present Democratic Board of Commissioners, were repaired in six weeks, costing some-thing less than $110,000.

After examining above facts, we think the people will not be quite so foolish as to entrust the public works again in the hands of a Whig Board of Commissioners. The Whig members of the company have arrived in the city, and will be seen by the advertiser. The manager will open the cables breach this evening. The pieces selected for the occasion are the "Free Gasworks" and the "Allegany State," both excellent pieces, and from the reputation of the state have no hesitation in saying that they will do justice to their respective characters. Previous to the pieces an address, written for the occasion by Mr. Bates, of Philadelphia, was read by the Manager. Every person is aware of the fact that the "Threats" has been painted, decorated, paraded, and carried, and the vocation. At the request of the Manager we called in on Thursday evening, and were astonished at the improvement, which we look more like a elegantly furnished parlor than a stage. We can compare it to, we bespeak for Mr. Post, in return for his trouble and enormous outlay, pleasant and lucrative season.

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"

Who is citizen "Swankey"?—A very pretty question, to be asked in this enlightened age, and all that sort of thing, and propounded by a man possessing as much cable as Fleve-man you read about. "Swankey's" son's, he's the son of your own father, you must be sure to know—"Citizen Swankey!"