THE PARTY AND THE ISSUE. Those who doubt the dangerous character and fanatical designs of the party calling itself " Republican, will be enlightened on the subject, and have their doubts dispelled by reading a lecture of Theodore Parker lately delivered in New York, and afterwards published with high commendation in the New York Tribune. We publish below an extract from it which may be considered the text and staple of the whole dis-

The North has a duty to perform-to put slaver down, 'peacenbly if it can, forcibly if it must.'
There are two ways to go to work to do this. One is to dissolve the Union, and leave the South to settle the matter for itself. Mr. Garrison, my friend, goes He is a great man, and I love cheers.] The nation does not yet or the dissolution. Benedict Arnold and Aaron Burr are not yet forgotten. It is at least matter for congratulation that the abolitionists-or "republicans," as they choose to be called—are so early and boldly announcing their real sentiments, and unmasking their evil lesigns. It gives time for the development of the "sober second thought" of all true patriots and friends of the Union and the Constitution and they will be abundantly prepared long before November next to decide whether they are ready to barter all of good and happiness and prosperity they now enjoy as a nation for the Philadelphia and Camden Ferry Company, startesperate chance of something better promised
