Hooling at the Merchants' Exchange. - A very large meeting of the members of the Merchauts' Exchange and Board of Trade convened last evening at their rooms on Fourth street. It was generally understood that the action of the Directors of the Board of Trade. in relation to a petition foewarded by Gov. Pollock from that body, to veto a bill in his possession in regard to Savings Banks and Trust companies was to be the first matter on hand. A spirited debate sprung up participated in by a number of the members upor the merits of the bill, the jurisdiction of the associciation to pass upon it, and the feelings of the community in relation to it. The almost unanimous endorsement of the action of the Directors in relation to the matter, by the Association, showed plainly the wishes of the mercantile community upon the bill now in the hands of the Governor. His Excellency may feel assured there is little division of sentiment

In this community on this matter. An Unexpected Oration.—The passengers of the steamer "Luserne" were treated to something rich, rare, but not altogether respectable, on her trip last Tuesday from this port to Brownsville. As she neared a little village called California, six miles on member the affecting parable of the Good Samaritan, wh this side of the latter place, a great commotion was bound up the wounds of him "that fell among thieves? observable on the wharf. They had also stationed a considerable number of musket barrels on the beach, which were imultaneously fired, as the frembling bride made herself secure beside her lord upon the boat. We thought this old custom of rough serenading was past at least in daylight, but it seems to still hold sway in California. This golden district is owned, chiefly, by a very respectable gentleman, Ju Johnston, Esq., and it appears Job's love of law is not surpassed by his love of order at least, albeit h has patience to bear it; and though they had burst their guns or guilets, still would be consider it no breach of the peace, We hope in all this "Job sinned not," otherwise it might not be well for his gourd.

They entertained a large number of spectators for some time, shooting down conts, quarters, and "fips," with their arrows and it was a matter of great astonishment as well as amusement to behold with what facility they struck their mark.
