No! It is but an act of common justice and faitness to allow the actual settlers in the Terri-tory to frame the State constitution; and the bill of Mr. Douglas, in my humble opinion, guards the privileges of the actual settlers with great care, and satisfies everybody except the rsons who want to make a trade of the slave-FOR PRESIDENT. ry agitation. (Applause.)

I have thus adverted, gentlemen, to some of the resolutions and the platform of the Demo-cratic party. I now leave that subject and pass mmediately to speak of another party, which has been the subject of some discussion in this State I allude to the Republican party-the party that is framed mainly on the subject of slavery, and boring Congress for special legisla-tive acts, and for the advantages of legislations which they can obtain. But I allude here par ticularly to their views upon the slavery ques tion. I have told you what was the platform of the Democratic party. I now ask your atten tion, for a single moment, to the platform of the ican party, because it is upon that, of course, that those of us are asked to stand who are not prepared to support the Democratic par-ty. It is true that Fremont has also a Know Nothing nomination It is true that there is a Know Nothing candidate for the Vice Presidency in company with the Republican candidates for the Presidency. Fremont is celebrated, and I have no doubt justly, for his equestrian feat laughter ;) but it remains to be seen what exhibition he will present when he comes to show himself standing on two platforms, and riding two horses. (Laughter.) Now, the Republican Convention, in passing their resolutions, undertook to define the powers of the government upon the subject of slavery After giving their views upon that subject. they resolve that "we deny the authority of Congress or a Territorial Legislature, or any indi vidual or association of individuals, to give legal assistance to slavery in any territory of the Inited States while the present constitution shall be maintained " The present constitution is the same as the one we had in 1788 Mr.

Fremont, the candidate of the Republican party, places himself upon the platform, and says it i second only in historical importance to the Declaration of American Independence. Let us look at this question. Black Republican. Mr. Blair repels the imputation and solenity denies that he has any sympathy with their cause. When put on the Republican Committee, last winter, by the Pittsurgh Convention, he published a card declining o act with it, and declaring himself a Democrat. He is now supporting Buchanau and Breckinridge. The principal paper that advocated the election of Blair was the St. Louis Democrat. A day or two before the election some rogue got into the office and placed over the ticket, these words: BLACK REPUBLICAN TICKET. The proprietors of that paper now offer $1,000 for the detection of the rogue. Such is the man and the party that the G : ette and other kindred sheets claim as "Repub ican." This is but an example of a continued series of falsehoods to deceive the people. Black Republicanism has no truth to stand upon. It was to measure of people with one of the best must lie, or fall. ---
