SIXTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION PENNSYLVANIA STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

WILL BE HELD AT PITTSBURGH On SEPTEMBER 30th, and on OCTOBER 1st, 2d and 3d, 1856.

ROBT. C. WALKER, Secretary. Quanting of the Sterling Coal Mines, in Beaver County, Pa., August 26, 1856. As a full report will be given, through the papers of this highly interesting celebration, we will content ourselves with furnishing only the following scraps which we have begged from the speaker.

The opening celebration of the Sterling Coa

Mines, near Enon valley, in Beaver county, Pa., took place on Wednesday. At about 9 o'clock, by the morning mail train from Pittsburgh, a large party left Rochester and New Brighton to partake o uplimentary dinner at the above coal mines The Sterling Company is made up principally in the cities of Syracuse and New York, with two or three enterprising citizens of Beaver county Pa. They own two or three hundred acres of cannel coal lands. above the Cannel mines, and there are valuable veins of bituminous coal already open and going t Northern and Eastern markets. The Company have expanded some $60,000, have a railroad one and a half miles in length, connecting with the Ohio and ner, with choicest liquors and wine, accompanied by a band of music from Pittsburgh. Many speeches were made, songs sung, toasts drank, &c., after which the festivities closed with dancing. Joshua Hanna, Esq., from Pittsburgh, presided on the occasion. He and many others had their ladies with them. Among others we noticed

Gen. Wm. Robinson from Allegheny city. Mr. Gould was repeatedly called on for a space but declined in favor of younger men, (of whom there were several prepared to speak,)-reserving to himself the privilege of a "single toast and a part ing last word at the mine." He suppressed the toast, but gave the parting farewell; but I send vo directors, and engineers-the stockholders, the butchers and bakers, and especially the "Butlers," of the verance, and long suffering : and above all for their hospitality,-as we, their guests, on this occasion, have just done, for our invaluable services from nine in the morning till the end of this banquet,—as shown by our indomitable and untiring industry for the last twenty minutes. I feel that each and every one in these presents, has done full and ample jus-tice, to the day, the place, the occasion, and most emphatically to the creature comforts of this bounteous board, which do not now remain. As in duty bound, your humble servant has endeavored to act full well his part, always remembering that Adam was the first man, Moses the meekest, Sampson the etrongest, Solomon the wisest. Methusalum the old es', and your humble servant not the youngest.

The festivities, of eating, drinking, speaking, juk
