To the great mass of you, my fellow citizens, it f little importance which of half a dozen divisions of politicians have the offices of the country, but it oes behoove you to look well to it, that you do not tance to you and your descendants. I pretend to n special gift of prophecy, and presume not to conjec-ture how far you may go in the deliberate violation f those principles upon which the confederacy was ramed, and still its existence may be prese s sufficient for me that safety is found in that party which has always aimed in the first place to preserv the cardinal features of our system free from en coachments, from whatever source. Evils or irregu dent that with its progress they will slough off, as disease, with the general invigoration of the Thus slavery, in the good time appe ere, but with a gently detaching hand-iust as a ture, in the grateful change of the seasons, gradually ays aside the garb of winter, and passes into he f summer flowers and autumn fruits and thus the African, now the miserable sport of a nock philanthropy, shall, at length, when his true iends shall have been allowed to prosecute unimeded their designs of benevolence, stand once more upon his native soil, and shall carry with him from is bondage the seeds of a Christian civilization which Passing from the consideration of the principle involved in this contest, it remains for me to add a few words in regard to our candidates. And here, as a Pennsylvanian. I acknowledge, and you will citizen of our glorious old commonwealth. If we have cause to be proud that our nominee is a son of that that son is James Buchanan—a name which from a union of high personal qualities demands admira-tion, respect, and confidence. Born and nurtured in the bosom of Pennsylvania we claim all especial ight to an acquaintance with the development of is eminent abilities, and their continued exercise of behalf of the people. Emerging into public life as a member of the bar, amidst a host of legal lumisaries, the superiors of whom no country or time has witnessed—when Sergeant and Hopkins and M'Kenn and Ross and Baldwin and Addison were still upon the stage—his powers were trained and directed in contact with such minds as theirs. His experience for more than a quarter of a century in th uncils of the nation as a Senator, as Secretary State and Foreign Minister, accredited to the two greatest of the European Powers, in equal conflict with the most skilful diplomatists of the age, given him that political wisdom which if not always ttainable is yet always to be desired in the chief Magistrate of the Republic. On every theatre on which they have been exerted the lustre of his great loo ms. he English language is spoken and read. Nor is he purity of his private character inferior to his public reputation. The country is now about to manifest its gratitude or the distinguished public services which it has re-cived at his hands. It will not forget in this conest the great value of those service ise of sectionalism, in direct attacks upon the insti-ntion of slavery,—or to an inflated paper currency, placing the wages of the laborer at the mercy of i expansions and contractions !- his opposition to Bank of the United States and to the passage of a Sankrupt Law! - and his noble advocacy of the ar nexacion of Texas. The merchants of our scaper owns will not forget the importance of his labors while the Representative of this country at the Court of St. Petersburgh, in securing for them, by the first commercial treaty which we formed with that court, the trade of the Baltic and Black seas—and his recent maintenance as Minister to England, of our national rights in the Diplomatic controversies carried on with that power in relation to Central America and Enlistment questions, have a ardent admiration and approval of his countrymen.

Associated with the name of Mr. Buchanan in the contest is that of John C. Breckinridge—a man who at a youthful age has shown talents of the highest order, and an ardent and able advocacy of popular principles. To me he is a familiar friend. We enered public life together, when I met him for the first time in the national Capital one of the Representatives of that lovely State which the Indian resignd with the keenest regret, and which still bears t memory of his struggles in its name of "the dark and bloody ground." He came from that district of so long represented by Henry Clay, who llustrated the largeness of his patriotism in ing all classes of his fellow citizens, by upon one occasion that "Kentucky was the Ireland f America."
Our candidates are worthy of our cause, and the cause worthy of our most strenuous efforts. It is the cause of the Constitution and the Union, and of all our most valued institutions—of our very liberties cause, and victory cannot fail to be the reward of our Worms! Worms! Worms! -- A great iany learned treatises have been written, explaining the origin of, and classifying the worms, generated in the human stem. Scarcely any topic of medical science has elicited more acute observation and profound research; and yet physicians are very much divided in opinion on the subject, It must be admitted, however, that, after all, a mode of exlling them and purifying the body from their presence, is I more value than the wisest disquisitions as to their origin. Such an expelling agent has at length been found. I M'Lane's Vermifuge proves to be the much sought after spe c-its efficacy being universally acknowledged by the e medical faculty.
