Last year it was not held till the middle of Octorender it very unpleasant to the out-door student in pursuit of equipine knowledge. But notwithstanding the drawback of "a nipping and an eager air," the entries of stallions, geldings, roadsters, fillies and horseflesh generally wer attendance but very little better, if so good. In fact, all told, there were about forty quadrupeds on the ground as competitors for the numerous prizes offered-a ratherly beggarly account you must agree for two great States. Where the fault lies-whether in the want of sufficient notice being given, the absence of public spirit among the growers, or the small crop from which to select. I will not pretend to determine.

It is enough for my purpose to state that forty our-footed animals-very few, too, of unusual roi<sup>l</sup>th—did not appear to be considered much of show by those who had come from fifty to one hundred miles to see the sight, and they wer herefore perfectly satisfied with one whole day at Salem, Columbiana county, Ohio. Upwards f fifty Pittsburghers were in attendance, nearly all of whom returned at the earliest possible convenience! I also noticed Hon: Charles R. Buckalew, of Montour County, Pa., Hon. Josiah Randall, of Philadelphia, and several other em neut men on the ground

However, notwithstanding the small number horses entered, there was a good deal of fun or hand this afternoon, by reason of the races, and some scenes not put down in the hills.
