WESLEY FROST, OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

THE RIGHT OF WAY ACROSS PENN STREET.

The District Court has granted to the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company the preliminary injunction to restrain the Mayor, Aldermen and citizens of Pittsburgh, from interfering to prevent the Company from connecting its track with that of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The voluminous opinion of the Court ably reviews the relations between the parties, and sets forth the rights Company being required to enter into bonds in the sum of $10,000 to abide the final decision of the Court. The Company can now a great delusion--- "s profaue extravagance," proceed to lay the track across Penn street, without reference to the city authorities. The matter it is understood will again come up for argument during the 'term when the injunction, now preliminary, will either be made perpetual or dissolved. This result is not different from what we have all along anticipated. That the Company had a legal right under their charter to setionalisms or nothing. Their ends and aims make the crossing, we have never doubted, are not national, and hence they cannot and hence we have advocated that it was politic expected to anything which is Democratic. for the City Councils to make a contract with However as Toots would say "its of no conthe Company as they had a right to do. This sequence.' decision of the Court does not take away this right to make a contract, and the Company always has been, and is still ready to agree to expense incurred by parents in the parchase any reasonable terms. We do not intend to of school books, and we have heard intimated reiterate the arguments which we have bethat new books] have, been adopted more for fore used, to show the eminent propriety of a the purpose of benefitting the publisher, and fair agreement between the city and the Railroad Company. The Company is now as ever ready to enter into any arrangement by which the citizens may be benefitted, and the public interest fully protected. If a mutual arrangement is not entered into, no one who listened to the very able opinion of the Court, can doubt that the injunction will ultimately be made perpetual, and it is manifestly the policy of the city to enter ir to such an arrangement Meanting the present action of the Court will enable the company to complete the work, and the city will no longer suffer in her in-

Providence, in its wisdom, has removed the unfortunate man from the pains and penalties of Sidon, Apostolic Nuncio at Naples, a sun of human law and human opinion. No earthly tribunal can now affect him by its judgment. Whatever may have been his faults, the last, fearful year of his life has amply punished them, and we would fain hope that He who forgave the thief upon the cross, will pardon ' the sins of Munroe Stewart.

Those who, with a singular pertinacity, ary gued his guilt in spite of all the strong ground⁸ for supposing him innocent, may now be satisfied with the cold doctrine that the vengeance of the Almighty has overtaken one whom human law had treated with too great leniency. Christian charity takes an opposite ground. and says that if Stewart had been guilty of murder a just God would not have ordained that he should have died in his bed, free from the bonds and bars of human laws,

A GENERAL BANKRUPT LAW. A bill has been introduced in the Senate the United States, for a General Banksupt Law. It is said to be free from the objections of that beantiful enactment of 1841, and to have the sanction of the administration. The New York merchants have issued a circular in favor of the enactment of a law of this kind, which they style a "measure of a national character, and demanded alike by every business community." The features of the proposed law have not yet been made public ; when they are, we shall speak of them again.

We remark, however, that the present strikes us as a bad time to bring this subject forward. After the revulsions of 1798 and 1837, a general bankrupt act was demanded, and Congress passed such acts, leaning in accordance with the sentiment of the day to the debtor interest. Both acts were repudiated, condemned and repealed before their limitation had expired. We have had another revulsion. and again the debtor interest asks for relief .--Many men lately actively engaged in business, are prostrated, and any act now framed
