HAMPTON, P. J.—The bill sets forth the act of Assembly, incorporating the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, approved the lith of April, 1836, with its various supplements, together with an act bearing date the 16th of April, 1856, by which that company, together with other companies in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, were, by virtue of the legal enactments of those States respectively, consolidated into one corporation, known by the name of the "Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company," possessing and enjoying all the rights, privileges and franchises granted or conferred upon true rightsd corporation.

That by the terms of their charter they were bound to come of their road with the Pennsyl ania Railroad at or near the city of Pittsburgh. That i vania Railroad at or near the city of Pittsburgh. That in order to complete this connection as speedily as possible, and to prevent any difficulty between themselves and the city of Pittsburgh, they applied for the passage of an ordinance by the latter. That on the 9th of January, 1854, an ordinance was passed granting them the right of way across Penn street, to connect with the Penusylvania Railroad on I iberty street, in said city. That said ordinance contained a proviso limiting the time for completing such connection to two years from the date of its passage, and requiring the selection of one of the routes named therein within six months thereafter. That by a supplemental set of the Legislature, passed the 14th day of December, 1854, they were guthorized to construct their road on its present route west gislature, passed the 14th day of December, 1854, they were enthorized to construct their road on its present route west of the Aqueduct and Canal, in the city of Pittsburgh, to Liberty street, there to connect with the Pennsylvania Railroad. That they proceeded with all possible speed and at a great expense to sreet a bridge across the Allegheny river, and construct their road from Federal street, in Allegheny city, to the line of Penn street, in the city of Pittsburgh, and that the same was completed and opened for use in Sertem'er leat, and has been in constant use ever since. That they were prevented for on completing their road within the period of two years by causes over which they had no control; but that within that period they can tred into extensive contracts, and expended the sum of $120,000 in the presecution of the work. It further states that on the 27th day of January last, they compared operations on Penn street, propagatory, to hey commenced operations on Penn street, preparatory to aying their track across the same, when their ensineer and working were arrested by the Mayor and his officers, and workinen were arrested by the Mayor and his officers, and held to bail, to answer for a supposed offense, in the Court of Quarter Sessions. That the city authorities have threat ened by letters and verbal declarations that they will prevent the company, by force, if necessary, from constructing their road over Penn street, and forming a connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad on Liberty street. That by reson of the wrongful conduct of the city, her officers and agents, they are wholly estopped, hindered and prevented from competing the connection. om completing the connection They, therefore, pray the Court to enjoin the said defer ants their servants and agents, from interfering with the lieged rights in the premises, and from preventing the con-truction of said road, and from using it when made. struction of said road, and from using it when made.

The facts set forth by the complainate bill, being verified by the President's affidavit, and not denied by answers or affiliavits on part of the respondents, must be taken as true for the purposes of the present application. If these facts clearly established the right of the company to lay down the track of their result across Penn street, and connect the same with the Pennsylvania Railroad on Liberty street, the preliminary injunction prayed for must be granted; otherwise it must be refused.

rise it must be refused This right is claimed on two grounds 1st. Under their charter of the 11th April, 1848; and it upplement, passed 14th Documber, 1854.
21. Under the ordinance passed by the City Councils the thof January, 1854.
The learned counsel for the respondents resists this appliition on these grounds: lst. Because the legislature has no power over the street f Pittsburgh, they having been laid out and dedicated to th ublic by the Penu-, on ground embraced within the limit f one of their manors, which was never confiscated, and he title to which was never vested in the State the title to which was never vested in the State.

2d. Because the Company failed to complete their road within the time specified in the ordinance, to wit; the period of two years—by which failure all the rights and privileges granted by the same were forfeited.

3d. That the Company, in case they failed to agree with the city on the terms upon which they might cross Penn street, was bound by their charter to apply to the Court of Common Pleas for the appointment or viewers.

common Pleas for the appointment or viewers.

These objections will be considered in their order here. their charter and its supplement, and secondly, their rights under the ordinance of the city Councils.

By the first section of the act of the 11th of April, 1848. renneyNana Rahroad, in the city of Fittaburgh, by erecting its proposed bridge across the Allegheny river, slong side of the Canal Aqueduct erected there. The Company is prohibited from approaching nearer to the Aqueduct or Canal than two hundred feet, at any point between the Collector's office, in Allegheny, and Liberty street, in the city of Pittsburgh, without the consent of Canal Commissioners.

Whatever powers are granted by the charter of a private cornoration, either in express terms or by necessary impli-cation, may be exercised by the company, but beyond that it cannot go. In regard to this kind of grant, the ordinary it cannot go. In regard to this kind of grant, the ordinary rule of construction is unused, and the charter is to be construed liberally in favor of the public, and meat strongly against the granters. A doubtful charter, or a doubtful power under a charter, cannot exist. When the power is expressly given, there can be no room for doubt; so when the implication arises naturally and necessarily out of the express powers, the right is equally clear. If the powers or privileges be coupled with conditions, they must be strictly con-pied with; but if no conditions be annexed, the powers granted may be exercised in a reasonable manner, having due regard to the rights of others whose interests may be affected of the conditions of the conditions of the conditions of the powers granted may be exercised in a reasonable manner, having due regard to the rights of others whose interests may be affected of the conditions of the conditions of the conditions of the powers of the conditions of the conditi have two points expressly given, only a few hundred feet apart, with Penn street lying directly between them in such a position as to render it uttorly impossible to connect such a position as to rander it utterly impossible to connect these two points without crossing this street. What, then, is the clear, distinct, and necessary implication a ising out of this express power granted by the Legislature? If a railroad company were expressly authorized to construct their road along Liberty street from its eastern extremity to the Point, this would involve the necessity of crossing, perhaps, a dozen outer streets in its progress; and yet it would scarcely be thought necessary by any one to name each one of those streets and confer special power on the company to cross the same. In such case the right to cross all intermediate streets would be clearly implied; otherwise the power to construct their road between the two given points would be rendered nugatory. So here, if the complainants are denied the privilege of crossing Penn street, the express power of connecting the two given points, conferred by the act, becomes a dead letter on the statute book. This right is rendered still more clear, when we take into consideration the fact that this company is compelled by its original charter to connect with the Pennas vania Railroad of or near the city of Pitsburch; and its roote, in order to form that connection, is specifically designated by the supplement of December, 1854, and the privilege so granted is not coupled with any conditions whatever as to the terms on which it shall be exercised or enleved. Thus it abundthese two points without crossing this street. What, then not coupled with any conditions whatever as to the terms on which it shall be exercised or enjoyed. Thus it is abundantly manifest, that their right to cross this street, and form the connection with the fennsylvania Railroad, on Liberty-treet, could not be more clear, distinct and certain, if the power were specifically given in express terms.

But there is another aspect of this question, which renders the right claimed by the company still more impregnable. Under their original charter and its supplement, requiring them to form this connection, and designating the route, they have erected their bridge, purchased the right of way, and property for a depot, and constructed their read at a vast expense, to the line of Penn attrect, within a few feet of the point of intersection with the Pennsylvania Railot coupled with any conditions whatever as to the terms eet of the point of intersection with the Pennsylvania Rail-ond, on Liberty street. All this has been done on the faith read, on Liberty street. All this has been concon the lain of a contract with the public for it is now the settled doctrine, says Mr. Justice Woodward, (3 Casey, 39,) both in England and the American courts, that an act of incorporation is a bargain between a company of adventurers and the public. If this be so, even the Legislature itself could not interfere with the rights of this company under their charter, without at the same time protecting the corporators. om injury, and that only by an express reservation in the But the Legislature has not sttempted to exercise any ich power, nor has the State interposed any obstacles or incline to the connections sought to be formed. This slight, it seems, is claimed by the corporate authorities of the ity of Pittsburgh, who derive all their powers over the treets of the city from their charter granted by the Legisature. The mere statement of such a proposition carries with it its own refutation.

Let us consider, in the second place, the rights of the com

oany under the ordinance passed by the City Councils on the 9th of January, 1854. The provisions of that ordinance are as follows:
Section I. Be it ordained and enacted by the citizens of Pittsburgh in Select and Common Councils assembled: That the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad Company be, and is hereby authorized to extend a single track of its railroad into the city of Pittsburgh, from the Allegheny river to the other side of the Aqueduct and Pennsylvania Company. It is hereby ordered and decreed that canel, with the necessary turn outs at its depot in the city of Pittsburgh: Provided the said Railroad Company shell select one of the routes within six months, and shall complete the road upon the same within two years from the date of this ordinance.

Section 2. That the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railread Company, whene ver any portion of its track shall be constructed in any street under this ordinance, shall conform to the street grades, and shall construct a track not interior to that laid on Liberty street; Provided that such street shall be kept open for convenient uses of common trade, and ob-structed as little as possible during the construction of said railread. RECTION 3. That, if the route by the aqueduct should be dopted, the consent of the city is hereby given to the excession of the present piers and abataments of said aqueduct, the consent piers and abataments of said aqueduct, to good and substantial masonry, erected in connection with the present piers, and in such manner as not in any hope she may receive it this evening. She seems to hope she may receive it this evening. BUSHA & GUTENDORF.

The Penn Street Crossing.

The injunction asked for by the Pittsburgh, Pt. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company against the Mayor and Police of Pittsburgh, was granted yesterday in the District Court. Below we give the opinion delivered by Judge Hampton, as President Judge:

Hampton, P. J.—The bill sets forth the act of Assembly, incorporating the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad Company papus, approved the 11th of April, 1848, with its various supplements, together with an act bearing date the 16th of April, 1850, by which that company, together with other companies in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, were, by virtue of the legal enactments of those States respectively, consolidated into one corporation, known by the name of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, 1968sessing and enjoying all the rights, provileges and franches granted are approached by the same of the same of the provisions of the control of the provision of the same shall be used or companies in Ohio, in, Indiana and Chicago Railroad Company."

Jossessing and enjoying all the rights, provileges and franches granted are approached by the same? It is, they are est-pped fr an claiming the right to cross this street under its provision of the legaled the provision of the general railroad law of Ohio, which was adopted by our own legislature, so far as this crod is concerned. It specifies the "manner, terms and conditions upon which" any of the streets therein named or included may be used or consideration. upon which" any of the streets therein named or included may be used or occupied by the company. The company accepted the same, and proceeded to lav out and construct their roads and bridges according to its provisions. If the company had completed their road to the line of Penn street, and sought to cross the same within the period of two years, in order to form the connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad on I iberty street, it will not be pretended that the city could have prevented them from so doing.

The ordinance then is to be received in the light of a contract between the company and the city corporation, and if the rights and privileges thereby conferred upon the complainants be not forfeited by mere lapse of time, they may still proceed to form the connection sought for on Liberty street. It will be perceived by reference to the ordinance that not a farthing of revenue was to be divided, nor any pecu-niary advantuge secured to the city, by its provisions. Nor is it alleged or proved to us by allidavits or otherwise, that the city corporation has lost a single dollar by the failure the city corporation has lost a single dollar by the failure of the company to complete their road within the period of two years, while on the other hand it appears that a large sum of money, amounting to over a hundred thousand dollars, has been expended by the company on the faith of this contract. No doubt individual citizens may have sustained a loss by reason of this road not having been sconer completed, but that loss cannot be s't up here by this corporation as a defence to the complainants' bill; more especially as the company are now endeavoring to repair that loss by a speedy completion of the road.

What then is the rule in equity applicable to this state of facts? The time here specified is clearly not of the essence of the The time here specified is clearly not of the essence of the contract, but the city corporation could derive no benefit from its performance, nor sustain any loss from its breach. Its condition could not have been altered either for the better or the worse by the completion or non-completion of the road within the time. If this be so, it follows, of course, that equity would not decree a forceiture of the rights of the other party, when the delay has been satisfactorly accounted for, and when so large an amount of money has been expended in the part perfumence of the context. been exponded in the part performance of the contract in good faith, and when the consequences of such forfsiture would be so disastrous to the complainants. Such a measure could only be insisted on when the opposite party could no: be placed in statu quo, or compensated in on the damages for the loss he may have sustained (2 Stery's Eq. I. P. p771. 2.5.6.)

This ordinance then being still in force as an agreement otween the parties, excepting merely the question of time, it is to be regarded as full compliance with the 11th section of the extreme to, and binding on the respondent.

Thus it appears that the complainants are entitled to the bijunction prayed for on both grounds of claim, unless the grounds taken by the respondents are sufficient to defeat them, which will be next considered. them, which will be next considered.

The right of a Supreme Legislative power in a State to authorize the construction of a railroad on the streets of a city, or other public highway, has been so often asserted here and elsewhere as to leave no room for doubt or cavil. It has been sottled in England, (1 Burnwell & Ald. 30.) in Massachusetts. (23 Peck. 328.) in New York, (7 Barb. 509.) and in Ponneylvania, (6 Wh. 43.) I Har. 559. 3 Cas. 354.) But the iearned coursel for the respondents contends that although the Legislature possesses this power over the high ways of the Commonwealth generally, yet that the cit ttsburgh is situated within the limits of one of the nors of the Penns which was not confiscated at the tim Commonwealth, and consequently the Legislature does not persent as a consequently the Legislature does not persent the same sovereignty over the streets here as else-

It is difficult to perceive how this position, even if true, could avail the defendant, who claim the right to control and regulate the use of those streets, when all the powers or authority they possess is derived by their charter from the Legislature, which they say has no power on the subject Such a dectrine would be fatal to the exercise of that sain them by their charter, and which is so essential to the pu Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants, under Let us first consider the rights of the complainants and secondly. Some have emprosed that the right of eminent domain, as this sovereignty over the soil is sometimes denominated, arises exclusively or even partially from the extra allowance of six percentum of the lands granted by the State to her citizens. This is doubtless a wire and equitable measure, but is not the foundation of sovereignty in the State, other the contraction of sovereignty in the State, other than the contraction of the state, other than the contraction of sovereignty in the State, other than the contraction of sovereignty in the State, other than the source goals have been supported by the source of the wise no more than that allowance could be taken by the state for public purposes, and when that was exhausted, the sovereign power of the Commonwealth would be exhausted likewise. councils.

We have thus disposed of all the questions raised by the counsel on both sides, and taking the facts see forth in the compiled with; but if no conditions be annexed, the powers granted may be exercised in a reasonable manner, having due regard to the rights of others whose interests may be affected thereby.

In the Commonwealth va. Erie and North-East Railroad Company, (3 Casey, 44-5.) Black, C. J., says: "The right of a company to build a railroad on the street of a city depends. like the lawfulness of all its other acts, upon the terms of its charter. Of course when the power is given in express words, there can be no dispute about it. It may also be given by implication: for instance, if a company be suther itzed to make a railroad by a straight line between two designanted points, this implies the right to run upon, along, or across all the streets or roads which lie in the course of such line. So also when an act of incorporation directs a road to be made between certain termink, by such route as the be the lawfulness.

So charter. Of course when the powerly, there can be no disjuste about it. It is not be bauld on draws from your ized to make a ratiroad by a straight line between two designated points, this implies the right to run upon, along, or across all the streets or roads which lie in the course of such be made between certain termini, by such route as the granters of the privilege shall think best, it may be locat on an intervening street or other common highway, if in the judgment of the Directors it be necessary or expedient to do so."

By aprlying these rules of construction to the act of December, 1854, let us enquire whether this company has the right to cross Penn street and connect their road with the right corness Penn street and connect their road with the results and believe in the public from the chap, easy and rapid conveyance of revenue and property by railway. The commerce of a nation must not be stopped or impeded for the convenience of a negligorhood." (3 Chaege, 754.)

It is not the province of the Courts to make, mo ify, or repeal the law, but to ascertain and declare what it is. If the wrong, let it be altered by the legislature. Its justice must always be vindicated by its own mujesty, and in a connect with the wrong, let it be altered by the legislature its reductive must always be vindicated by its own mujesty, and in a connect with the course, where the law-making power is vested it. country like ours, where the law-making power is vested in the people, the citizen who reserts to 'force for the redress of grievances, admits himself to be unfit for self-government, and an enemy to the peace and good order of society. Might is not the refest arbiter of right, for a strong arm can be wielded as well on wrong as the right side of a cause and the number and weight of the blows, unlike the number of witnesses and the weight of their evidence, may hinder and obstruct, rather than aid and promote, the cause of justice stread, therefore, of attempting to execute the threats com-Intend, therefore, of attempting to execute the threats com-plained of in the bill, let the respondents patiently await the final decision of the law, when, if their cause he just,

Let the decree be drawn up by counsel under the rule and let the complainants file a bond, with approved security, in the sum of $10,000. Sentence of Kelly. At ten o'clock yesterday morning James M. Kelly was brought into Court, and Judge M'Clure proceeded to read his decision in the application for a new trial. It is a very lengthy document, and occupied an hour and a half in reading. The motion for a new trial was overruled. The Court, after the conclusion of the decision, was about to pass sentence on him, when the prisoner's counsel requested a postponement, which was granted. At two o'clock in the atternoon he was again brought into Court. On being asked if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed on him he said: "Dur-ing my trial Richards swore I had admitted to him that I struck the Dutchman several blows with an iron bar; this is false. Abraham Gordon, in his deposition, also stated that I was acquainted with him, which I was not. If I should come to the scaffold for this murder, I will die an innocent man." Judge M'Clure then addressed the prisoner as follows "James M. Kelly—the sentence of the Court is that y u be taken hence to the place from whence you ame, and thence to the place of execution, and there be hanged by the neck until you be dead, and may God have mercy on your soul." During the delivery of the sentence the prisoner grew ashy pale, but ex-hibited no other signs of emotion. He was soon afterwards remanded to jail. His case will probably be taken to the Supreme Court on a writ of error. The Elimaker Suit.

may surrender the bonds so held by them. ____ Miss Bridges' Reading .- We hope none of our readers will forget the reading of Miss Elcise Bridges this evening at Masonic Hall. The programme is a very good one, consisting of the "Relief of Luck-now," the "May Queen," and selections from "Widow Bedotte" and Longfellow. This lady de have a perfect conception of whatever she undertakes, and, with a good figure and a fine voice, her Firemen's Association This body met at Neptune Hall, on Monday evenng, for the purpose of considering the new constitu tion. There were only fifteen members present out of twenty seven, and as this did not constitute two thirds, five members, who had been absent for several meetings, were expelled, thus forming a quorum of all the members.

The new Constitution and By-Laws were then taken up, and after some trifling amendments adopted. They were then ordered to be printed for the use f the Fire Department. The Secretary was instructed to notify the Presidents of fire communies of the above action, requesting them to call meetings of their companies at an early day, and report their action to an adjourned meeting the Association on the last Monday of this month. Messrs. Collingwood, Hays, M'Curdy, Montgomery and Kaye were appointed a committee to confer with the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose, concerning the wants of the Association. The Association then adjourned to meet as above

Unjust .-- A German named George Unger made inormation before Mayor Weaver, yesterday morning, against one George Thompson. Unger states that he was at work and Thompson came and took his rule away. He charged him with taking it, which Thompson denied, when Unger threw open his coat and found the rule. Thompson became indignant, and struck Unger a severe blow on the nose. A Constable came up, arrested Unger, and took him before an Alderman, by whom a fine of $6,50 was imposed. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Thomp son, and a charge will probably be preferred against Opposite St. Clair Hotel BEF THE SUCCESS WHICH ATTENDS the use of Er HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS evinces as once its virtues in al cases of depility and disease of the omach. Certificates almost without number have been published, attesting its almost miraculous power in removing those painful and fearful diseases. And at this time is seems idle to do more than call attention to the great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reli able in all cases, and it is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted. The BITTERs are pleasant to the taste agreeable in their off-cts, and altogether valuable as a toni r remedy for indigestion.

SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, TS REQUIRED TO CURE ANY ONE troubled with Liver Complaints, unless the most desperate of cases, when the second bottle will, with scarce a single failure, restore the patient to health and vigor. We wish to call the attention of all to these facts, that the Invigorator is compounded by a physician who has used it in his practice for the past twenty years with a success almost credinous, and that it is entirely vegetable, being composed wholly of gums. his practice for the past twenty years with a success almost credinous, and that it is entirely vegetable, being composed wholly of gums.

Some idea of the strength of these gums may be formed when it is known one bottle of the Invigorator contains as much strength as one hundred doses of Calomol without may of its deleterious effects.

We know there is nothing now before the American public, prepared with such skill by a scientific man, particularly for diseases of the Liver, as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, or Liver Remedy. It has attalued a reputation second to no other article in the world, simply because it rest, on its own merit. To convince all by trial that it is all its proprietors claim it to be, if any of our readers are suffering from such diseases as are described in Dr. Sanford's advertisement, we know of know remedy that will so surely cure them as the Invigorator.

The Invigorator cures Sick Headache. Take one or two teaspoontuls at each attack and it will soon disappear. For an overloaded stomach, or when food rises or sours, take the Invigorator after eating, and it will not prove disagreeable or oppressive. For Hearthurn, Palpitation, or Difficult Breathing, take a tea-poonful once or twice daily. For Loss of Appetite, Languor or Listlessness, the medicine is invaluable. It will restore the appetite and make the food digest well. Nightmare, take a teaspoonful or retiring, and the domons of dream-land will all be fairies. After eating a hearty dinner, take a dose of Invigorator and it will relieve all oppression or fullness. Toe Invigorator is a Liver Remedy of unequaled virtue, acting directly on that organ, curing Dyspepsia, Jauntice, Billions Attacks, Dysentory, Piles, Worms, and all Female Obstructions, for which it has no equal.

We know there is nothing now before the American public prepared with such skill by a scientific man, particularly for diseases of the Liver, as it. Sanford's Invigorator, or Liver Romedy. It has attained a reputation second to no other article in the word, simply because it rests on its own merit. To convince all by trial that it is all its preprietors claim it to be, if any of our readers are suffering from such diseases as are described in Dr. Sanford's advertisement, we know of no remedy that will so surely cure there as the Invigorator.

There has lately been brought to our notice a medicine that seems to possess wonderful, curative and healing proportice in diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Digostive Organs. It came to us with so many testimonials in its favor that we have noted its effects in some of the worst cases of continual dibility, caused by deranged liver, and in every instance the effect was to relieve or give a permanent cure, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, or Liver Remedy is what we refer to. We always have been credulous about cures by patent medicines, but we are convinced that this medicine, for family use, is not overrated by the host of recommendations it has. Our advice is, for all troubled with Indigestion, Fubility or Bowel Complaint, to get a bottle and try it; our word for it, relief will be experienced.

word for it, relief will be experienced.

Blessings to the invalide who use Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, for it will relieve them of their pains as soon as it is taken into their stomach. Pain and misery cannot exist where the Invigorator is used, for it will assurely drive them away, as daylight will banish darkness, of this there can be no doubt to these whe try it, for it carries conviction with every dose taken. Another evidence is the thousands of certificates from those who use there have been cared by it, Try one bottle, it it does not benefit then we are mistaken.

Br. GEO. H. REYSEE, sep4:daw No 140 Wood etreet, Pittsburgh, P A RETIRED PHYSICIAN 75 YEARS OF AGE, whose sands of life have nearly run out, discovered, while in the East In-dies, a certain cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility. The remedy was discovered by him when his only child, a daughter, was given up to die. He had heard much of the wonderful given up to die. He had heard much of the wonderful restorative and healing qualities of preparations made from the East India Hemp, and the thought occurred to him that he might make a remedy for his child. He studied hard and succeeded in realizing his wishes. His child was cured, and is now alive and well. He has since administered the wonderful remedy to thousands of sufferers in all parts of the world, and he has never failed in making them completely healthy and happy. Wishing to do as much good as possible, he will send to such of his afflicted fellow-beings as request it, this rep, with full and explicit direction for making it up, and successfully using it. He requires each applicant to inclose him one shilling—three conts to be returned as postage on the recipe, and the remainder to be turned as postage on the recipe, and the remainder to be applied to the payment of this advertisement. applied to the payment of this action.
