[Correspondence of the Morning Post.]

FROM WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON CITY, March 19, 1858. This has been an important week in Washington The Senate has had the Kansas bill under phia Ledger, without note or comment. The discussion; and many able speeches have been facts speak for themselves :made on both sides. The Hon. John J. Crittenden made one of his greatest efforts in opposition yesterday afternoon, on the publication of the to the bill providing for the admission of Kansas.

His searching analysis, admitted talents, and

His covers nearly one entire page of that paper, eloquent delivery, together with his venerable and numbers in all nine hundred and lorty items age, gave great force to his remarks. This great of accounts-principally notes matured and maeffort of the Kentucky Senator made a profound turing, and overdraits-of the aggregate value impression on all parties, and will be read with counts compare with the aggregate as a drop to deep interest all over the country. Mr. Toombs, the bucket, being so meagre in amount as to be of Georgia, made one of his great speeches in hardly worth collection. Many of the parties reply to Mr. Crittenden, but he was laboring named as debtors are known to be utterly worth-less, and the estimate put upon their accounts of under the influence of a bad cold, and spoke a cent to $100, is probably not under estimaionably a master effort of a great mind. The House have had the Army bill under discussion, which was debated with earnestness and merely nominal sum, leading to the inference bility by Gen Quitman, Mr. Faulkner, Col. | that the appraisers had some knowledge that the Curtis, Humphrey Marshall and others. The said indebtedness had been, or was to be, liquiamendment offered by Mr Faulkner to increase he regular army was voted down, and the bill to worthlessness of some of the parties who had raise five regiments of volunteers, as reported by been permitted to become debtors to the Bank, Gen Quitman, was carried by a large vote this the most remarkable thing is the immense amount norning. Here now is a chance for our Pennylvanians to show their patriotism, by tendering bonds and shares, Hempfield R. do., Guano heir services against the Mormons.

After the passage of the Army bill, the | ment Company, mortgages on unproductive land, House immediately went into Committee of worthless that has been on the market for the the Whole on the State of the Union, when the last ten years. The publication of the exhibit subject of the admission of Kansas under the will, no doubt, be complained of by many per-Lecompton Constitution was brought up. Mr. sone as an outrage on their feelings and an Montgomery, from the Washington district, in our State, obtained the floor, and made one of the state, obtained the floor, and made one of the state of the floor, and made one of the state of the state of the floor, and made one of the state o the most powerful and convincing speeches yet suffer from being found in suspicious company, made against the Lecompton Constitution. To and who are probably free from all indebtedness give you an abstract of his masterly effort, would only mar its matchless clearness, and come from it, as showing how large a portion of weaken its extraordinary force. To be apprethe business of banking is loose and illigitimate. conted, this great speech must be read, studied Much of that shown by this expose was wholly and reflected upon. For the space of an hour disconnected from such business pursuits as the House sat calm and motionless—not a move— banks are established to foster; so far from aidnent was made, not a murmur was heard You could see the eager and enchanted auditory in the vast galleries, leaning forward to catch the mighty thought as it fell from the speaker's lips. COSTAR'S PRINCIPAL DEPOT, Differing, as I did, with the gentlemen in sentimen, I yet telt a glow of pride as I looked at and listened to the manly representative from the Keystone State declaring with an eloquence and bottoness rarely witnessed, the "reasons for, of them re-embles it, the cooner they are b ush-

combination of physical power and intellectual greatness about the neighbor as to win the admirason and excee the wonder of every person resent. I had heard Mr. Montgomery when he elivered his great speech on the neutrality laws. ad, in common with every body here, I ex pected a great effort from him, but he so far urpassed himself, and all I thought he could in, that I was absolutely lost in wonder have no hestitancy in saying that he is the ...idest thinker and ablest debater that ever rep resented Pannsylvania in Congress. The speech ell like an avalanche on the Northern Democratwho support the Lecompton Constitution. looked around amongst these gentleman wher they sat, the very pictures of mortal fear-ap palled and confounded, when the eloquent defunder of the rights of the people told them to vote for the L-compton fraud, and then go home and face an outraged constituency. I have never heard words fall with such awful and crushing effect Such, in fact, was the effect of Mr. M. speech to day, that it is everywhere admitted that the Lecompton Constitution cannot pass-Congress, and now, even Southern men talk openly of compromise, and it is strongly susected that several Southern members will vote r Montgomery's bill. I am, as you are well aware, a fast friend President and sustain his policy, but if Mr. can carry through his compromise it will impletely harmonize the dissensions of the morratic party, and he will deserve the eter d gratitude of every true friend of the country. On Monday next Senator Douglas will wind up debate in the Senate, and the effort is exected to be one of his greatest. SCHOOLCRAFT.

[For the Morning Post.] Tonnage Tax. MR. EDITOR: - The repeal of the tonnage duty o the Pennsylvania, and Harrisburg and Lancas-State Legislature it is desirable that the subect-the operation and result of this tax-should be correctly understood in all its bearings. Many object to its repeal under the belief that to the Bank. But good it is to be hoped will ing that which is proper and useful, almost its entire capital has gone to the most worthless speculations before the country, to the direct and positive prejudice of useful and productive industry. It is to be hoped that the condition of the Bank of Pennsylvania may not be taken as a type of that of any of the other banks of our the faith that was in him." There was such a dout of existence the botter, and it would be city, if their places should never be supplied by others. Banks, we have contended for years, all things considered, do more harm than good to trader would be infinitely better off without them than with them. The knowe is the party most dvantaged, the banks too frequently aiding him to a ficticious show of oredit resembling the real, ong enough to deceive and defraud the worthy. We will not, however, press this matter just now, out hope the Leg slature will read the whole expose carefully over before granting any more ank charters, or before the pending bills, imosing restraints on the existing banks, are fially disposed of. There is one thing, especial. , that should command attention at the hands f the Legislature; they should insist on openng the books and business of all our banks to public scrutiny, precisely as the books and papers of the public offices are open to the inspecion, at a small fee, of every one feeling an interest in the search. Had such a law been in force during the last five years, does any one believe that the Bank of Pennsylvania would at this time
