PITTSBURGH.

The following gentlemen were then appointed Secmetaries:—V. B. Hardin, S. C. Hepburn, George W. Murphy, Philip Reymer, John C. Dunwoody, William M. Porter, Robert Bryar, James Davitt, Henry Miner, William Schoyer, James Petrie, Daniel Wertz, Wm. J. Montgomery.

It was now moved that a committee be appointed o draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, and the President selected the following gentlemen:—S. C. Wingard, R. M. Jones, Thomas R. Sill, James Irvin, Jacob McCollister, Joseph O'Brien and J. K. Hunter.

Mr. Gilmore, on taking the Chair, remarked that they had met that evening, not to control the epinions of others, but to maintain our own. We might be prepared to go, right or wrong, for our country, but we are not prepared to do so for our party. We will keep square on the platform, come what may, and when our leaders get off will pult them back again if we can. The extent of the meeting before him showed clearly the interest manifested in the great question was actualing the country. That question was which was agitating the country. That question was, should Kausas with her population of ninety thousand, be forced into the Union with a constitution repugnant to fourshould Kansas with her population of linety thousand, be forced into the Union with a constitution repugnant to four-fifths of its people, or shalld the minirity rule, by reason of a manifest fraud—frauds which the warmest advocates of the Lee mpton constitution had not the hardmood to dearly the gentlemen reviewed the circumstances under which the Lecompton Constitution was framed, and maintained that it was a fraud upon the country and a violation of the sovereighty of the Territory to attempt to force Kansas into the Union under it. He next referred to the threats which had been made to read these Democrats out of the party who returned to sanction the Lecompton Savindle, and declared that the task would prove as easy of accomplishment as to pluck the stars from the firmanent or divest the earth of the grass which covered it. The gentleman made a very perticuent and able speech and sat down amid loud appliance.

With A. Stokes, Eq. , was then introduced to the meeting and was received with prolonged and repeated cheets. When the appliance had somewhat subsided he remarked that the exultant shouts with which he had been greeted met no responsive choes in his breast. The glowing countenances arrayed before him found no reflection there, droans rather became them than demonstrations of countenances arrayed before him found no reflection there. Groans rather became them than demonstrations of joy, and why? Because they had assembled that they might take arms to defend their rights against that very government which they had created. The government this two had created. The government had to being from the people, and yet the melancholy spot take was presented them this evening of a people rising in their might to protect their rights against the assaults of this government. In what he had to say to night he purposed not to state anything that the most thinty fanatic that holds an office in the Justom House, or cringing slave that sought one, could deny as a matter of fact.

The question on which the Democratic party was divided, if, indeed, it can be called a division where the great mass of the voters were on one side and the office seekers and office holders on the other, was the admission of Kansas into the Union under the Lecompton Constitution. The history of that Constitution was before the public. The Legislature of Kansas gave inthit of a Convention, and that Convention trained a Constitution. They did not adopt it themselves, but agreed that it should be submitted to the people in this way: For the Constitution with slavery, or without it. The poople never had an opportunity afforded them of voting on the Constitution, and to force them to accept it was a gross and palpable fraud. The last time he addressed the Democracy of Pittsburgh it was as the advocate of the right of the people of Kansas to settle their own affairs. He found himself here to-night advocating the very same principles. They were the principles t rough which Mr. Buchanan achieved his victory in Pennsylvania, and if he held there. Groans rather became them than demonstrations of gross and palpable trand. The next time to analossed the Democracy of Pittsburght is was an the advocated the right of the people of Kansas to settle their own affairs. He found himself here to-sight advocating the very same principies. They were the principles torough which Mr. Botchanna achieved his vectory in Pennsylvania, and if he held any other in 1856, he obtained his office by trickery and the continuation of the c federal Government in the affairs of Kansas, declaring that if it had the right to violate the rights of that unhappy Ierritory it had equal rights to violate the severeignty of Pennsylvania. Indeed a precedent to this effect had been set them John Tyler interfered in Rhode Island, and a Constitution duly rainfied by the people was put down by Federal bayones. If it were correct that Congress might interfere in matters of this kind, the Federal Government might have interfered in the Buckshot war. But there is one who would not deem its interference at that time a might have interfered in the Buckshot war. But there is none who would not deem its interference at that time a gross violation of State sovereignty. The President was commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United states, and if the doctrine avowed by the Lecomptonites were good, he held sole control of the govereignty of every state in the Union. He denied this doctrine in tolo. It was anti-Democratic and anti-Republican, and could never be specially desired. sustained.

The gentleman here apologized to the audience, d-claring hat he was unable to proceed further for physical debility, and took his seat amid loud applause. The Commit ee on Resolutions, through their Chairman, S. C. Wingard, reported the following resolutions, which were, after being read, adopted by the United States assembled in Couvention at the city of Cincinnati, and proceeded to adopt a platform of principles and to declare the same as the political creed of the Demo-AND WHEREAS, While it is the duty of the Democratic party to encourage, by wise and just laws, all European immigration, it is equally the duty of the same party to provide, by such laws as may be required, for the total prohibition and prevention of all immigration and importation of slaves, apprentices or others, from Africa to the United States; therefore.

Resolved, That white the Democracy have at all times is a redly respected and rigidily maintained the exclusive right of each State to provide, within its own limits, for the regulation and government of all persons of African descent now in the several States and Territorica, we are unalterably opposed and will forever resist the Africanization of any portion of the American continent by the introduction of Africanization by held a server in the several state. tion of the American continent by the introduction of Africans to be held as staves, apprentices, or otherwise.

6 Resolved, That in resisting the admission of Kansas upon the Lecompton Constitution, we claim to be actuated by no spirit of factious opposition to the "powers that be," nor by sectional prejudice or animestry, but by a sacred regard for the primery principles of a Democratic government, and by a patriotism as broad as the utmost circumference of the Union and deep as its deepest foundations.

7. Resolved, That to deny to the citizens of any State or Territory the right to frame or re-model their institutions in their own chosen modes and at their own pleasure, is to their own chosen modes and at their own pleasure, is practically re-affirm a cardinal, but revolting and long exploded doctrine of ancient Federalism—that the people have neither the right to, nor the capacity for, political elf-government.

S. Resolved, That we accord our unqualified approbation 5. Resource, That we accord our anquament appropriate to the twenty-one honest and noble spirits who, in the late State Convention, vainly, but fearlessly and earnestly, preterled against any endorsement of a measure which is manifestly at war with the letter and spirit of the Democratic reed.

9 Resolved, That we heartily endorse and approve the resolutions offered by William A. Stokes, Esq., in the late State Convention—rejected though they we e, by an unscrupulous majority who falsely pretended to represent the Democracy of Pennsylvania.

10. Res lved, That we recognize in Hon. Stephen A. Douglas a bold and faithful champion of popular rights, one who is not to be corrupted by power nor intimidated by their threats and calumnies of his enemies; and that we predict for him in the future a rich harvest of triumphs for his signal devotion to the great doctrine of pepular sovereignty.

11. Resolved, That Col. John W. Forney, by his able and consistent advocacy of true Democratic principles, and his consistent advocacy of true Democratic principles, and hi of the Democracy of his native State, who will yet afford him substantial proofs of their confidence and high regard.

13. Resolved, That we hereby return our grateful thanks to those Democratic members of Congress from this State encluding that el. quent and well-emembered advocate of the Right, Hon. William Montgomery, of the Washington District, who have cally refuse to approve the Lecomoton bistrict.) who hero cally refuse to approve the Lecompton fraud; and we have no doubt that they will be sustained by the entire system. To restore the tone of the stomach, and therefore destroys the arrength and vigorous that they will be sustained by the entire system. To restore the tone of the stomach, and heir constituents.

14. Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be sublished in the Democratic papers of the city, and in all there friendly to the cause of popular rights, and in the preserving use of Dr. J. Hostette's Celebrated Stomach. Mr. Forney was next introduced to the audience, and was arr. Formly was lest introduced the accommenced his re-presented with the heartiest applause. He commenced his re-marks by stating that it was the first occasion, which had resented itself to him to meet the Democratic party of the eastern metropolis of the State, and that he could not feel otherwise than gratified by the warm reception which he had received at their hands. It was a significant fact, and otherwise than gratified by the warm reception which he deemed worthy or attention, that Mr. Gili more, the President of the meeting to-night, lately edited that sterling Democratic paper, the Pittsburgh Post—a paper that in days past, when Mr. Buchanan was without pattonage to bestow, stood forth and upheld his cause and ver did battle in his behalf. It was, he repeated, a significant fact, that the editor of such a paper should be there to night, to honor the meeting with his presence. The gen lemm referred briefly to an offensive paragraph touching his presence in the city, which appeared in one of 'the party organs,' and stated by way of roply, that he disclaimed all idea of interference in our local politics, and was here only to as lat and defend the great principles of popular of which in 1856 saved us from the hideous heteredoxy of congressional domination in the United States. He came here not to interfere in local politics, but to fulfil the pledge he made in 1856 to the Democratic party.

He need scarcely tell the meeting that he differed with Mr. Buch and widely with regard to the policy which the latter had pursued and was persuing towards Kansas. The trial willy relations that had long existed between them were well known, and he differed with him with pain, but his duty was plain, and it admitted of no other course. Mr. B. well known, and he disclete with him with pain, but he duty was plain, and it admitted of no other course. and J. R. Hunter.

The gentleman reviewed the circumstances under which Buchanan obtained he nomination, and contended that his selection by the Convention was a Northern triumph. The South were hostile to his claims, but the people of Pennsylvania brought his name as a peace offering before the Convention, and by impressing the fact on their minds that he corrected the conservative spirit of the country, and that without his nomination it would be ruin to attempt stemming the torrent of Northern sectionalism, his nomination was effected. What transpired after the nomination? From Washinton there was nought but coldness, and from the outh indifference; and in this state of sffairs it was ventured, as the only way to rescue Mr. Buchanan and the party from the impending ruin was to make Pennsylvania the The light draught, fest running pess uger packet, A'.MA-Robreson, Master—will leave for the above and all intermediate ports, on SATURJ'AY, the 27th instant at 4 P M. The South, whatever its pre-lif-ctions, would be true to Buchanan; it had no other alill-ctions, would be true to Buchanan; it had no other alternative. In Pennsylvania, then, therbosts met; here the battle was lought, and here the victory was won. How was twon? Because Mr. B. had maintained a modest silence with regard to Kansas, and was in favor of the extension of the Missouri Compromise line which had been ruthlessly wiped out in 1854. He meddled not in the affairs of Kansas, and felt content with expressing his opinion that the people of that Territory should settle their institutions themselves. REGULAR PITTSBURGH AND CINCINNATI PACKET of that Territory should settle their institutions themselves. He well recollected when the committee waited on Mr. inchanan to inform him of his nomination. At that time it was distinctly understood that Mr. B. was to carry out the will of the majority of the people of Kansas, whatever it might be, and to respect the principle involved in this ietermination. How did he act when the period arrived that he had to take up this question? Three distinguished centionen had been successively appointed Governors of K. Dasa, and all found unequal to the task of allaying the disorders that agitated the Territory. Mr. Walker was offered the office by the President, and at his urgent solicitation accepted the position—not, however, until he had received instructions that honest pledges should be fulfilled, and the principles preached in 1856 be faithfully carried out. If Walker had been permitted to carry out his policy, the policy involved in these principles, no one would refuse to The elegant side whoel, passenger packet.

If Walker had been permitted to carry out his policy, the policy involved in these principles, no one would refuse to award him the highest meet of praise, but as it was, and for what he had done, he was entitled to the liveliest gratitude. The speaker next referred to the appointment of Mr Stanton as Secretary, and remarked that in going out to kaneas, neither Mr. S. nor Mr. Walker could have any object in view other than to serve the President. Gov. Walker was deeply interested in Mr. Buc. anan's success, and worked nightant day to secure his election. He went to Kansas to serve him and elevate himself, and why should be quarrel with the Administration—an Administration that had almost four years to run, and parronage to the amount of eighty millions of dollars at its command—or seek to divide the Democratic party? When he reached Kansas we all know how he labor d to restore peace to the Territory. He spoke to the people from the st.mp, and told them that if the Convention that made the Constitution did not-aubmit it to the popular vote, he would oppose it. The people expressed their consent, peace was restored to Kansas, and the cuntry felt gratified that a man had been found who could bring order out of Warsaw.

The gentleman reviewed hastily Mr. Walker's course in Kansas up to the period when the fraudulent votes for Uxford were rejected. The action of the Governor brought a combing of discontent from the South, while a pall of silence fell over the "Union." Then the advocates of the right of the majority to uie founds sheering off in quarters where they least expected it. Mr Forney remarked that the For freight or passage apply on board. Mr Forney remarked that the warm hand of friendship was not extended him as usual, but still be could not believe that the Administration could go against the principles on which it was elected, and te conducted his paper as usual, giving those principles his heartlest support. But the Southern States were not satisfied with Walker's course, and one or two of them declared they would leave the Union unless he were dismissed. It was then that the speaker learned the teelings of the Administration on the question at issue. The principle on which the contest of 1856 had been fought was abandoned, and he advocat dit alone. If he had been told in June or July that Mr. Buchanan intended ad pting this policy, he would have taken the first vessel from New York and fied to the furthermost islands of the sea; but he had been officially assured that Mr. B. would support the principle, and he continued its advocacy in the "Pres."

Forney next remarked that a union with the Black Republicans, as they were courteously termed, had no terrors for him, when, in the furtherance of a great principle, such a coalition was necessary. We had illustrious precedents for such a movement. Howell Cobb, of Ga., left the Democratic party f.r seventeen months for the purpose of rebuking the nullifiers of his own State and South Carolina, and as to differing with a State Convention, he cared little about that. In 1849, when the State Convention met in this city and endorsed the Wilmot proviso, he was editing the Pennsylvanian. He had heard James Buchanan say at that time that if Mr. Gamble, the nomines of the Convention, did not repudiate the platform of that Convention he would repudiate him. He, the speaker, repudiated the platform of the late State Convention with contempt and distinguist so far as Kan-as is concerned, and further, he repudiated Wm. A Porter if he p. thimself on that platorm.

I believe, as I stand here that that Convention has done TEW AND OLD CHOICE BOOKS, BY CATALOGUE. He, the speaker, repudiated the platform of the late State Convention with contempt and disgust so far as Kan-as is concerned, and further, he repudiated Wm. A Porter if he p. I himself on that platform.

I believe, as I stand here that that Convention has done more to destroy the Democratic party of Pennsylvania than anything ever done by any party.

In conclusion I would say in answer to the question, "What will you do? You are apposed to the platform!"

I will answer, "Let those who got us into this difficulty get should be a fair election in Kansas, and so help me God, that pledge shall be fulfilled.

Fellow Democrate: Let us not desert the flag that has been committed to our hads. Let us stand by it to the stood by the banner of popular sovereignty in 1856."

At the close of his speech, the assembled multitude gave three hearty cheers for Col. Forney. Mr. Alex and elivered the following sontiment:

MEDICAL. SITTOS SHO PIKO DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR

IS REQUIRED TO CURE ANY ON troubled with Liver Complaints, unless the most deporate of cases, when the second bottle will, with ceares eingle failure, restore the patient to health and vigor. Wish to call the attention of all to these facts, that the it vigorator is compounded by a ph -ician who has used it his practice for the past twenty years with a success alm creditions, and that it is entirely vegetable, being compocreditions, and that it is entirely regatable, being compos wholly of gams.

Some idea of the strength of these gams may be formed when it is known one bottle of the invigorator contains as much strength as one hundred does of Calomel without any of its deleterious effects.

We know there is nothing now before the American public, prepared with such skill by a scientific man, particularly for diseases of the Liver, as Dr. Sanford's invigorator, or liver Remedy. It has attailed a reputation second to no other article in the world, simply because it rest on its own merit. To convince all by that that it is all its proprietors claim it to be, if any of our readers are suffering from such diseases as are described in Dr. Sauford's advertisement, we know of know remedy that will so surely cure them as the Invigorator.

The Invigorator cures Sick Headache. Take one or two teaspoonfuls at each attack and it will soon disappear. For an overloaded stomach, or when food rises or sours, take the Invigorator after eating, and it will not prove disagreeable or oppressive. For Heartburn, Palpitation, or Difficult Breathing, take a tea poonful once or twice daily. For Loss or appointe, Languor or Lexiesoness, the medicine is invaluable. It will reactive the appointe and make the food digest well. Nightmare, take a transported on retiring, and the demons of dream-hand will all be mirles. After eating a hearty dinner, take a dose of invigorator and it will relieve all oppression or for the second in a live or the regard of the demons of the many dinner, take a dose of invigorator is a liver Remed by of unequaled virtue mating afrectly on that organ, curing Dyspepsia, Janufice, Rullious Attacks, Dysentery, Piles, ing Dyspepsia, Janu & c. We know there is nothing now before the American public prepared with such skill by a scientific man, particularly for diseases of the Liver, as r. B. nford's Invigorator, or Liver Remedy. It has attained a reputation second to no other article in the wor'd, simply because it rests on its own marit. To convince all by trust that it is all its preprietors claim it to be, if any of our renders are suffering from such diseases as are deartibed in Dr. canterd's advertisement, we know of no remedy that will so safrely cure them (L.P.).

There has lately been brought to our notice a medicine There has lately been brought to our notice's medicine that seems to possess wanderful, curative and healing properties in discussed in the liver, stomach and Digestive Organs. It came to us with so many testimenials in its favor that we have noted its effects as some of the worst cases of continual dibility, caused by dorange liver, and in every instance the effect was to relieve or give a permanent cure, Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, or Liver Resuedy is what we refer to. We always have been credibleus about cures by patent medicines, but we are convinced that this mendule, for family use, is not overrated by the host of recomme additional that it has, Our advice is, for all troubled with Indigestion, I billity or Bowel Complaint, to get a bottle and try it; our word for it, relief will be experienced.

BLESSINGS TO THE INVALIDS who use Dr. Sanford's Invigor-BLESHNOS TO THE INVALIDS WHO USE Dr. SABIOTA'S INVIGORATOR, for it will relieve them of their pains' as soon as it is taken into their stomach. Pain and misery cannot exist where the Invigorator is used, for it will assurely drive them away, as daylight will banfah darkness, of this there can be no doubt to these who try it, for it carries conviction with every dose taken. Another evidence is the thousands of certificates from those who use it or have been cured by it, Irv one bottle, it it does not be east, then we are mistaken.
