

JAMES P. BARM. Editor and Proprietor PITTSBURCH: MONDAY MORNING::::::: MARCH 29 1855 DEMOCRATIC STATE COMINATIONS.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE, WILLIAM A. PORTER FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, WESLEY FROST, OF FAYETTE COUNTY

We call the attention our Democratic friends and exchanges to the fact that the name of the Democratic nominee for Canal Commissioner is WESTLEY FROST, and not Wesley as it has generally been made.

We copy the above from the Harrisburg Patriot and Union, but until further informed cannot change the name of Mr. Frost. Unless very much mistaken, we have seen him write his name Wesley Frost-not Wesly. We shall, however, yield when officially informed, which will not be later than to-mor-

KANSAS IN THE HOUSE.

This troublesome question, which for the past two months has occupied more of public attention than it deserved, is now in the House of Representatives, and will be taken up on Thursday of this week, and definitely settled. It is possible Mr. Crittenden's amendment may be tacken on and carried, if our private advices be reliable. It is stated that one or two more Pennsylvania members have yielded, and will vote Lecompton with the conditions alluded to. We think Kansas has had all the time it should have, and earnestly pray that a vote be taken upon the day appointed.

THE PRESS. Journalism in America is to a great exten impersonal. The reader of the daily newspaper never inquires who writes for it. The "Post says," the "Gazette, says," the "Union says," the ' Journal says," is sufficient authority for those who each morning read the contents of their columns, and it is rarely, indeed, that the reader of a newspaper considers the labor, the talent, the education of the man, who, produces that which informs him with his coffee, and furnishes him with his outside of a certain circle. argument in his daily conversation with his
