After Judge Dougtas, and Mr. Lincoln had other points in the State, and after the Democratic State Central Committee had made out their programme for Democratic meetings all over the State, commencing at Clinton, July 27th and ending at Atlanta on the last of October, Mr. Lincoln sends a note to Mr. gentlemen to divide the time and address the same audiences during the canvass. In reply, Mr. Douglas states that he, in conjunc- Louis. tion with the State committee, " made a list until late in October. The people of the sev- | year. eral localities have been notified of the times all been made for Democratic meetings, and consulation of an important European port. speaks of the probability of there being yet a third candidate in the field who will claim an equal right to be heard. Having premised these reasons, Judge Douglas concludes his reply to Mr. Lincoln's challenge as follows:

"While, under these circumstances I do not feel State officeers, and the Legislature, from participating in the discussions of the various meet. ings designated by the Democratic State Central Committee, I will, in order to accommodate you as far as it is in my power to do so, take the you for a discussion between us at a prominent point in each congressional district in the State, except the second and sixth districts, where we have both spoken, and in each of which cases you | Gulf of California. had the concluding speech. Illeigtimate Banks.

The courts of New Jersey are about to clos up the Bank of Trade and Ocean County Bank, at Tom's river; the Stock Security Bank and the Bergen Courty Bank, at Hackensnack; The Merchants' Bank, at Patterson: and the Artizan Bank, at Trenton, because of the recent report of the Bank Commissioners made to the Chancellor, that, in their opinion. neither of these banks is transacting a legiti mate banking business. The notes of these banks are all secured by ample deposit in the State Treasury, so that there will be no loss upon their circulation.

Singular Case of Wrong Conviction. One of the most remarkable cases in the whele history of English criminal law was the trial and conviction of Mr. Barber, the solicit er, at the Old Bailey, in April, 1844, on a charge of forgery. He was sentenced to transportation for life, and was sentenced to Norfolk Island, at that time the worst of the penal colonies. Mr. Barber suffered great misery from the character and conduct of his associates—the worst in the three kingdoms. Lately extraodinary circumstances have led to the proof of his innocence, followed by a "free pardon," and his return to England. Of course his conviction led to the disappearance of his name from the rot. of attorneys practising in the Superior Courts, and when he came back his restoration to the list was the first object of his solicitude. Even this was up hill work. But every step which he made to raise himself to the position from he made to raise himself to the substitute.
