Charivari -- Two Boys Shot. On Thursday evening an old and respectable citizen, Mr. Robert M'Curdy, a resident on Carpenter's alley, near the rear of Trinity Church, had assembled his friends at his residence for the purpose of witnessing the ticing of the nuptial knot between himself and a lady whom he had selected to share his pockets of nine dollars. If the above charge with him the bitters and the sweets of life. This he had a perfect right to do in peace and quietness. He deserts. was in his own house, which was his castle, his friends were around him and his wife was before him. The wedding feast was set forth upon a table, and all was a set of the wedding feast was set forth upon a table, and all was set of the wedding feast was set for the upon a table, and all was set of the wedding feast was set for the upon a table, and all was set of the upon a table, and all was set of the upon a table, and all was set of the upon a table, and all was set of the upon a table, and all was made ready for the joyous occasion. But a parcel of rade boys found out that it was the old men's wedding night, and in pursuance of a old men's wedding night, and in pursuance of a very bad custom which sometimes prevails upon such occasions, assailed the wedding party with shouts and unseemly noises. The old man distributed cakes among them, and the young seamps, it is eaid, would have departed quietly, had not some Cyprian ladics, who resided near by, urged them hach that these demests might, say the for ich, that these demsels might see the fun. Ever ready for mischief, the youngsters returned to the assault and attacked the house with stones and brickbats, breaking the windows, damaging the fur-niture, destroying the good things prepared for the wedding feast, and hitting the old man himself with bricks. Fortcarance longer ceased to be a virtue, and to use his own words, "he took his gun and fired it with a blank charge at first to scare them, and when this did not do, he simed low for their legs and fired with shot." The shot took effect in the logs and thighs of two lade, sons of Mr. David injured at the Rolling Mill, at Johnstown, last Thurs-Sims, messanger of the Exchange Bank, named James and David.

This put a stop to the riot. Andrew Sime, a brother of the injured lads, made information before the Meyor against Mr. M'Curdy for assault and battery with intent to kill. Bail in one thousand dollars wes required for his appearance this afternoon at three o'clock for examination, which was at once three o'clock for examination, which was at once given, and Mr. M'Curdy returned to finish the epithalamium, thus inaspiciously commenced. The Pleasures of Collecting.—Mr. Henry Richardson, a jewciry merchant on Market street, made an information before Mayor Weaver on Thursday morning, against Captain William Conway, of the stoamer Arizonia, for assault and battery. The allegation of Mr. R. is that he went to the boat to collect jewelry bill of forty-three dollars from J. B. Conway, clerk of the boat, and a son of the captain; that while he was settling with him the captain came up and esked if his son was paying a jewelry bill; the son replied yes; whereupon Mr. Conway made some abusive remarks about jewellers and jewelry rteres in general, which Mr. R. said were not so, when the captain gave him the lie, seized him by the seck and abused him. The captain was arrested and held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars for his appearance. He denies the assault, but admits that he had some words with Mr. Richardson.

The State Fair .- A circular has been issued by the President and Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, soliciting the aid of citizens in making cherwise. We extract a portion of the circular:

"With a population in Pittsburgh and its environs of more than 140,000, and manufactures to the amount of $50,000,000, it will require but little offort on the part of the people to make it a grand success, creditable alike to the neighborhood and the State. It is quite practicable to make this Fair equal to any that have preceded it within the limits of the United States. Of manufactured articles, agricultural and horticultural implements, productions and the Fair creditable by contributions of articles and stock, there need be no lack in Western Pennsylvania, if the right spirit animates the people."

Sudden Death .- A woman named Ann Tiernay died suddenly at the residence of her husband, John Tiernay, on Tunnel street, near Wylie, yesterday morning. She had been in the habit of imbibing, and on last Tuesday evening, while under the in-fluence of liquor, fell down a flight of steps, dislocanuence of fiquor, fell down a flight of steps, dislocating her shoulder. Dr. Tindle reduced the dislocation. She was unable to leave her bod, and yesterday morning she died. Her death was attributed by some to intemperance, but we are informed that she was not allowed to have any liquor after the acci-dent. It is the opinion of the physician who reduced the dislocation that her death resulted from concussion of the brain produced by the fall, and this is probably the true cause. She was a middle-aged oman and leaves a family.

inquiry made by us recently as to what had become of the Pittsburgh Gymnastic Association, one of the efficers informs us that it is in a ficurishing condition | No. 267 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa, and by druggists and and that its membership is rapidly increasing. The | design generally. dog-days and the row boat mania have both contributed to a suspension of active operations during the past few months, but when the weather grows cooler, the members will devote their attention to the Association, and use all their endeavers to make it s permanent and useful institution. At the last meeting in January a Constitution and By-Laws were adopted, and the name was changed from the Pittaburgh Polytechnic Association to that which heads

The Crops in Indiana County.—A farmer in In-diana county give rather an unfavorable account of the crops that are at present being harvested in that region. He says the best wheat he has seen cut this genson has fallen fifty per cent. short of the usual yield, and many of the fields are not worth gathering. The milk weevil, rot, rust, mildew, t.e., have combined in the work of destruction, and have almost entirely ruined the wheat combined in the work of destruction. most entirely ruined the wheat crop in that part of the county at least. The oats and corn he represents as locking tolerably well, but says there is no Enowing what may yet happen to them before they DURABLE, FIRE AND WATER PROOF.

A Seer in Trouble .- Madamo Harper, an astrolo ger who has been residing in our city for some time, has get into difficulty. It seems that she promised to pay the board bill of her son and another young Ann, but, when the bill was presented, declined to liquidate. The case was set for hearing before the Mayor yesterday, but it was held over until next Tuesday. Doubtless the lady, with the assistance of her occult lore, will be able to extricate herself from her present situation. It she does not she should be set down at once as an imposter.

Mr. Bartberger, the architect of the new bank block on Fitth street, below our office, informs us that it is his intention to have the pavement laid over the vaults as scon as it is possible to do so, in order that the public may be accommodated. It has herotofore been the custom with builders to finish up their job by laying the pavements. This care on the part of Mr. B. for the public accommodation, is deserving of all praise. Other builders would do well to follow his example, and begin to finish at the

The failure of the banking house of Arthurs, odgers & Co, is said to be a worse one than was at first supposed. It is now stated that the house held deposits to the amount of upwards of twenty thous-and dollars. No single depositor had upwards of four thousand dollars. One of the firm was the treasurer of the Board of Guardians of the Poor of the city, but the expenditures of last winter by the Beard having been heavy, and the new duplicates not having been yet collected, the Board exhausted their cash on hand in paying July bills, and will

Snake Bitten .- A sou of Mr. J. M. Hutchinson, of West Brownsville, was bitton on the foot by a cop-perhead one day last week, while picking blackberrics, in a field on Dr. Playford's farm. With grent presqueet of mind he sucked the poison out of his foot, but unfortunately swallowed some of it. A physician near by gave him an emetic, and he disphysician near by gave him an emetic, and he dis-gorged the poison before any serious result had taken

The I. P. Again.—An Italian named Zella made information yesterday evening before Mayor Weaver against "Scove" Gallagher for an alleged larceny, and S. CUTHBERT & SON, 51 Market st. sincresping into the back window of his shop, and, in company with another person who was not arrested, abstracting $5 and some cents from his money drawer.
