JUDGE PORTER.

The Hon. William A. Porter passed through our city on Thursday, on his way to one of the northern counties, remaining for a short time at the St. Charles Hotel, where he was called upon by a number of his personal and political friends.

We have heretofore spoken of Judge Porter as filling the high position which he occupies with the most distinguished ability. We have not the slightest doubt that the suffrages of the people, next October, will, by a large majority, retain upon the Supreme Bench this distinguished gentleman and most excellent Judge.

Indeed, the only objection which, as yet, the opposition has urged against him has been on account of his age. Upon this subject the York Gazette recently published an able and excellent article. That paper says that, unable, as yet, to point out a single objection to him as regards his legal ability, or his personal character, the opposition journals have been forced to take the absurd and ridiculous position that he is too young to entrust with the important duties of the judiciary. The old dogism of such an attack upon our nominee, insulting to the young and active intellects of this great commonwealth, has been properly disposed of by the article we have alluded to, and we feel confident that it will meet with a more stern and decided rebuke from the people at the polls. Since the nomination of Judge Porter by the Democratic State Convention, we have carefully looked over the grounds, and every day we see the strongest evidence of the wisdom of that body in electing him on the Democratic ticket. There is no doubt in our mind of his being able to do as many Democratic votes, as any candidate that could have been selected. His superior attainments, his unbending integrity, his amiable and agreeable deportment, have secured him hosts of friends throughout the State, who will bravely struggle for his success. The calm and dignified manner in which he refused, after his appointment by Gov. Paeker, to drag the judicial emprise into the arena of politics, has won the respect and confidence of all parties, and gives the positive assurance that, in no event, will he prevent the purity of the Bench, so far as he can prevent it, to be soiled by the thick dust raised by scuffling partisans. In fact, he has already gained the appellation of the "model Judge," and the people of Pennsylvania will attest their high appreciation of his worth as a man, and his character as a lawyer, by keeping him in the position he so signally adorned.

His opponent, John M. Read, of Philadelphia, is a gentleman of considerable ability. A few years past he has been an active and bitter Democrat. In consequence of his abolition tendencies, he abandoned our national party when Black Republicanism sprang into existence, and he has been rewarded for his treason by being made the leader of the war party to whom he was personally antagonistic during his long and earnest political life. He was unable to secure the delegates from his own city, who were instructed for Judge Thompson; but being the favorite candidate of Thaddeus Stevens, this adroit and cunning politician managed to pull the wires in such a way as to secure the selection of his friend and ally. The people will never endorse a nomination made by such a man, and such a manner. They see in William A. Porter a happy combination of the upright lawyer, the able Judge, the honest man, and the Christian gentleman, and they will not trust their hopes and interests to a "Read shaken by the wind," and blown about by the fierce winds of Black Republicanism!

Philadelphia Nominations.

In accordance with the new rules of the Democratic party, the delegates chosen in the various Representative Districts, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress, met on Tuesday morning. The business of the Convention was conducted in an orderly manner, and there was but little excitement. The following nominations were made:

11th " Edward Buckley.

12th " Oliver Brown.

13th " James Donnelly.

14th " Joshua Owens.

15th " Abraham Arthur.

16th " James A. Astor.

The Marriage of Mr. Cass's Daughter.

Bronx, August 24, 1888. Our little village has been thrown into a high state of excitement by the arrival of General Cass, the Secretary of State, and the marriage of his daughter, Miss Isabella Cass, to the Minister to the Kingdom of the Netherlands, M. Van Limburg, yesterday.

The ceremony took place in Calvary church, a very new Gothic church, and was presided over by Daniel C. Merton, officiating. Though occurring in the church edifice, it was strictly private, and a good deal of the afternoon the bride and groom were entertained by M. Van Limburg and two of General Cass's married daughters—Mrs. Canfield and Mrs. Leyland—together with Mr. Leyland and his family, and Mr. Zimmerman, the New York Consul for the Netherlands.

The brides were dressed in a neat silk traveling suit of the color of ash or rose, and light French hat of maroon blue. From her appearance I should judge the blooming bride to be about forty years of age. M. Van Limburg appeared to much advantage. Everything was conducted in the most simple and unostentatious manner.

After the marriage service, the party proceeded to the vestry, and then to the Wandanwan House. The happy pair proceeded to Newport and the three o'clock train, where they will occupy the private cottage of M. Van Limburg. A salute of fifty guns were fired by command of the Mayor, and many other salutes, which were covered with flags and streamers.

The Green Bay.

G. W. Kendall writes to the New Orleans Picayune the following statement regarding the corn and Chinese sugar cane crops in Texas:

There is to be no want of corn in western Texas, for every field which escaped the ravages of the grasshopper, is yielding abundantly, and many localities escaped these pests entirely. The crop of Chinese sugar cane, which I have gathered. Some of my neighbors are having it ground, and are making good use of it in making of molasses. In some places, while everywhere they are preparing to grind the stalks and convert the juice into syrup or molasses. This is the first time that molasses to our crops in this section, there can be no doubt; it stands a drought better than any other plant—is not so affected by dry weather than any other article of food. As a matter of fact, the grain is hurtful to horses, and this may be so; yet if any one has an ass to spare, I am willing to feed it on my work animals as an experiment, and run all risks of its hurting them. In fact, I fed out no inconsiderable quantity of it last year, and would have used it more freely, had it not been for a bushel of corn, which I had to spare. A bushel of corn weighs some forty-eight pounds, or eight pounds less than a bushel of corn. We have not yet learned all its uses.

Two vessels arrived at Philadelphia on Tuesday, one from Rio, and one from Portau, bringing 4079 bags of coffee.

Letter from Hon. Reverdy Johnson—The War on Douglas.

LYONS, N. Y., August 27, 1888. My dear Judge: One of your friends has witnessed with more than ordinary interest the general approval you seem to be receiving at the hands of the Democracy of Illinois.

The impulse, say they, is Democratic, and you are yielding to it. That there should be a difference of opinion as to the propriety of your yielding to it, is not surprising, and you are to be commended for your moderation. The only wonder there should be, is that these differences are of more frequent occurrence.
