EQUALIZING TAYATION.

The reople of the two cities are beginning to turn their attention seriously to the sub-great injustice is done to property holders in the cities. The country people do the larger share of the grambling at high taxes, while Commissioner's office will convince any one who understands figures, that the burthen of county taxation is placed upon the property in the cities, while, in a measure, the county districts go scot free. Yet if the oities require any expenditure of the county funds for legitimate public purposes, a hue and cry is at once raised, and the extravagance of the cities is condemned in the bitterest terms. The cities will not much longer consent to pay the lion's share of the taxes, and they should not. We shall have someting more to say upon this subject in a few days.
