The that date. managers of the Convention cast a cloud over the party by their foolish course, but there's daylight ahead. The Know Nothings and Black Republicans need not flatter thems selves. Mr. Williams, with his well known hatred of every Democratic principle, can not do us the slight est injury. The Black Republican owners and editors of the True Press, no doubt, believe that they have struck a blow at the Democracy in Allegheny county, from which it will be difficult to recover, but they will find out their mistake. The recuperative energy of truth, the sober second thought of the masses, who are with us, will strengthen the Democracy, and add to its delphis. - For improvement in sewing machines forces, in spite of all the scheming of the op position to injure it. Our Democratic friend need not despair of success, because he cannot answer Mr. Thomas Williams' questions. Whether he does, or does not, he will not lose a vote through the influence of the True Press. His character, as an bonest man and an honest Democrat, is above reproach, and all the Black Republican attempts to get him in a " split stick" will prove abortive.

THE Gazette refuses to admit that Mr. Thos. Williams, who claims to have made the Republican party, is a member in good standing of that party, but says that he belongs to the "Thomas Williams Party," and that he "professes to be incidentally connected with all the others." Now Thomas professes to be a Black Republican and nothing else.-He does not claim to be connected with the Democracy, and if he did, every true Democrat would say Timeo Danaos et dona ferentes. Because Thomas does not think with the Gazette on the local issues of railroad taxes and that paper to read him out of the party, to which he claims to bear a parental relation. Black Republicanism is neither a handsome nor a smart child, but when we come to look upon Thomas Williams as its father, it is not to be wondered at. It is said to be a "wise child that knows its own father," and unless monthly statements of expanditures and receipts the Gazette is willing to take Thomas in loco filed in his case she and were agree parents, it must admit that its party is a bas-

[From the Huntingdon Globe.] The Pennsylvania Causts-Will they We have frequently heard the remark, the Pennsylvania Bailroad Company will seen close the Canal. That it is only kept up for the present, and that shortly it will be allowed to go down-and then be abandoned. The question is often asked us, if this is not the policy of the Company. The prevalence of this opinion is operating against the interests of the Canale, as well as of individuals whose interests and business are identified with them. No one will build or buy s boat for a Canal supposed to be so near its

What are the facts? Our position on the canal | ought to do: enables us to know something of its operations. We come in contact with the boatmen (officially) every day-from whom we learn that the canals have been kept in better condition during the present season, than they have been for many years; better, perhaps, than ever before,-the result of the thorough cleaning out of the canal water lines, it is very unkind in the editors of bed last winter. New permanent mechanical structures are taking the place of old ones. Many of the feeder dams are being rebuilt this season and those not requiring to be built anew are undergoing thorough repairs, thus early protecting those expensive portions of the work most liable to injury by freshets.

We have been permitted by Mr. Wierman, the Resident Engineer of the Canals, to examine the pany have been at a heavy expense for repairs nd reconstruction of work, from the day they took possession of the Canal, yet the net revenue o July last inclusive, exceeds all the expenses

The Company came into pessession of the Canal on the first of August, 1857, so that this net revenue of nearly forty thousand dollars, has been made during one of the duilest bur ness years the country has ever experienced. In looking over the files referred to, we obgerve that a large proportion of the expenses are chargeable to "extraordinary repairs" econstruction. This construction of work, at he rate it is now going on, will be completed in two, or at most, three years, as we are informed, - when the net yearly earnings will, of

Biza Pacha's herem is, I am told, one of the most "fashionable," which accounted for seeing a European table, adorned with a handsom centre piece and four beautiful vases of flowers and fruit, after the French fashion. The dinner cervice was of rare and beautiful China; the silver knives and forks were extremsly handsome; the serveti delicately fine; the flowers exquisitely arranged, and mingled with oranges and lemons, in Eastern fashion; the slaves were standing around, three or four deep, awaiting our slightest sign; we felt still more in the land of dreams. First of all, they placed to each guest a sparkling water bottle and glass. Slavery Discussion, PHILADELPHIA, September 9.—The slavery discussion opened at seven o'clock, this evening, with a slight emeute between the debaters. Brownlow had slightly exceeded his time and the audience had been violent in calling him to order. Mr. Brownlow said that he was aware that there was a mejority of abolitionists prepathy from them, but if they tried and wished back out, let us know, and we will disperse like gentlemen. He demands a right to finish his argument. Mr. Pryne, excited, replied and said that what

Mr. Brownlow then commenced his argument with a reply to an editorial of the New York Times, which, taking as a text a statement of see it. prisoners confined in the Louisiana jails, makes weeping charges against southern society and falsely abuses it. It takes the convicts confined as the representatives of the southern people. The northern abolitionists having sought this issue he was determined to sicken them with place for which he felt so much solicitude. You long details, proving the falsity of the Times' sequently should be fostered, elevated and endation of northern society and the superiority of southern in civilization. The largest number confined in the southern prisons are foreigners, the next largest are from the northern States, of which New York is the best represented. He also showed that the largest number of failures occurred in the North during the recent crisis; there were more mulattoes in the North, and consequently more prostitution among the blacks; that there were more students in the colleges from the South; that the Southern representatives in Congress were better educated than those from the North. And that there was more bribery among Northern legislators He here instanced the Michigan officials in the Lacrosse Railroad affairs, referring to abolition, free love, woman's rights conventions. Mr. Brownlow said he intended starting on a missionary course to work in the North, commencing on Boston Common. In concluding, he asked if Mr. Pryne would be willing to marry his daughter to a son of some buck nigger, Fred. Douglass, for instance. Mr. Pryue, in opening, said he would refer the majority of Mr. Brownlow's arguments to Northern schoolboys and pass B.'s slurs without answer. He elenched the prison statistics of B. by stating that Southerners went about unpunished and unconvicted; but really, if justice was awarded the prisons of the South sould not hold the guilty. He then entered into long statistics showing the difference between the North and South in progress and enterprises. His statistics chowed that the North outweigh, ed in market value the whole cotton, rice, tobac to, hemp and augar crops of the South combined. The interest in this debate is very great.

"If, as has been remarked, the lowliest viole that grows by the brim of the sequestered mountain spring, is designed to teach us lessons of humanity, may not this great plant whose flowers were not born to blush unseen have its peculiar lessons for the thoughtful? It is probable that every stage of its development for the past century, is preparatory to that which crowns its closing days. If the life of every individual exhibited some grand aim; some fixedness of purpose, and all the energies were put forth for its attainment, far more of real good would be accomplished. There would be more Franklins and Morses, and the world would witness the complete triumph of mind over matter. The theme before us also suggests that good deeds may be done, the results of which may never appear in our lifetime. One generation soweth and another reapeth. Probably no man who ever cast the seed of a century plant, into the ground, lived to witness its fina developement; but his children's children may

THE "QUAKER CITY,"

ANEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINE Works Equal to the High-Priced Machine,

N introducing this new, novel and highly valuable invention to the people, and in reply to the amorous inquiries respecting it, we will here give a brief escription of its general utility:—

The "Quaker City" is emphatically THE FAMILY SEWING MACHINE,

Unsurpassed for sewing any kind of fabric—Silk, Line Muslin or Broad Cloth, using TWO THREADS

From the ordinary spool, without rewinding, of Silk, Cotton or Linen, with equal facility; and forming the colabrated Elastic and Durable DOUBLE LOCK STITCH, imil or to that produced by the "Grover & Baker machine In its construction the "Quaker City" is MORE SIMPLE

Than any other effectual machine offered to the public, a it can be worked with the GREATEST RAPIDITY, By any person of ordinary intlligence. It is HIGHLY ORNAMENTAL In its external appearance—forming a handsome piece of perior furniture, without the liability of damaging carpets or the goods sewed, by oil, as is the case with many other

A GRAND FEATURE

Is its noiseless movement—scarcely exceeding that bla None can doubt that the SEWING MACHINE; SOLD AT A REASONABLE PRICE—is a great blessing to the age in which we live—ameliorating a dition of mankind. But, heretofore, the PRICE OF EFFECTUAL MACHINES

Has been beyond the reach of the masses. Now, fortunate ly, they have been simplified to such a degree, by the untring energy of Yankee ingenuity, as to bring a practical machine within the reach of Every Family in the Union!
