had gone down, and I could see nothing but spade strike upon some hard substance, and a moment after, as the digger suddenly chang. ed positions, the dull, hollow, mournful sound of dirt falling upon the bare coffin lid struck my ear. He paused but a moment, and placing a rope beneath each end of the coffin, he ring a rope beneath cach the or the comm, we come called me to take one of them and assist him tions obeyed his request, and in a moment more the dark, wooden coffin was standing by the side of the open grave. He did not stop to strength with the aid of his spade the list flew off, and revealed just what I had seen a few hours before, and when the earth was tew nours perore, and when the earth was closed above it. The hands were elenched in erty owners, and those who were opposed to it with my spirit vision. My companion comprehended all in a moment, and quickly lifting her from the coffin, motioned me to fol-

I was myself-had power over my own movements-and I kept pace with him, although he seemed to fly rather than walk. We soon laid her upon the bed, opened the window to give her fresh air, and as we did so, she slowclosed her eyes, and uttered a low moun. The grave-digger grasped a phial, containing tumbler, forced open her jaws, and turned it down her throat. A spasm, like an electric shock, ran through her frame, and opening her eyes, and glancing into our faces, she gasped, "Where am I?"

A form and face of exquisite proportions, shaded by locks of soft, brown hair, is near me now, and a pair of dark brown eyes are my cheek, as the beautiful and loving girl is reading what I have written.

She is well and happy now, and nightly upon bended knees by my side, thanks Him | voring railroad subscriptions, and yet we are whose mercy has protected her, and who per- safe in saying that every man upon that tickmitted the mysterious influence which guided me to her, and saved her from a living tomb.

NEW YORK, September 10 .- A heavy suspension in the sugar and coffee trade is reported.

SYBACUSE, N. Y., September 9. - The Committee on Resolutions reported. A motion to strike out the one extending the term of naturalization was lost by a large vote. The committee also reported that they were still considering the report of the Committee of Conference, and while there is an obvious disagreement in regard to pertain theories of political faith between this and the American Convention, there is sufficient concurrence on all questions of immediate public condern to warrant a Union ticket. (Cheers.) The report was adopted by a large majority amid much excitement. Mr. Chapin, of Lawrence, moved that the Convention now proceed to nominate a candidate for Governor. Adopted. Letters were read from Gov. King and Lieut. Gov. Selden, declining a renomination. The first ballot was then taken, and stood as follows: E. D. Morgan, 116; Timothy Jenkins, 51; James M. Cook, 35; M. Patterson, 28; M. Diven, 21; scattering, 7. A committee from the American Convention was received with loud applause, and presented the resolutions from that body. A second ballot stood as follows: E D. Morgan, 165; T. Jenkins, 52; M. Diven, 18. The nomination of Mr. Morgan was made unanimous with cheers. Robert Campbell, of Steuben, was then nominated for Lieutenant Governor by ac-

A committee was appointed to wait on the American Convention, and inquire what names they propose for the balance of the ticket. The Republican Convention made the following further nominations: For Canal Commissioner, Hiram Gardner, of Niagara; State Prison spector, Mr. Everett, of Clinton. At the afternoon session of the American Convention resolutions were adopted favoring a cooperation with the Republicans. The conference mmittee report was adopted, and a committee ppointed to notify the fact to the Republican Convention. The entire afternoon session was consumed in peeches against a union, the speakers generally iting in the opinion that the Republicans had lighted the action of the Conference Committee The following nominations were then made For Governor, Lorenzo Burrowes; for Lieutenant Governor, N. S. Benton; for Canal Commissioner J. R. Thompson, of Monroe; for State Prison Inspector, W. A. Russell, of Washington.

THE GAZETTE ON BAILROAD ANTE-We cony the subjoined extract from the Gazette of Thursday, because we deem it a most unfair method of attacking the Democrats, whose names are given as having at one time or another favored railroad subscrip-The Gazette seems to have forgotten called me to take out of the same of the s made, the people of the cities and county were almost unanimously favorable to making side of the open grave.

It is not inconsistent now for any of those who favored railroad subscriptions, in view of the nonfulfillment of their contracts by the railroad a dark liquid, and pouring it into a broken companies themselves, and the disastrous result which has attended most of their enterprises in which the county had an interest -- in is not inconsistent for them now to oppose and resist the payment of interest upon these lovingly looking over my shoulders, I feel racy, when all, or nearly all, the people of the gentle arms clasping my neck, and tears upon | county at the outstart occupied precisely the bonds by all legal and constitutional means. It is foolish for the Gazette to parade this charge of inconsistency against the Democsame position. We have not attacked the nominees upon the Republican ticket for favoring railroad subscriptions, and yet we are et did so favor them. Take Zacheus Patterson, the Black Republican candidate for County Commissioner, for example. He went in for railroads and especially for the Alleghenv Valley, at the time the subscriptions were made, and now he pledges himself not to pay the interest, if he is elected Commissioner .-

Why does not the Gazette pitch into Zacheus He occupies precisely the same ground with those whom the Gazette has named. There is not the least inconsistency chargess ble to any of these men for the position of resistance to the payment of railroad interest which they have assumed. The railroad companies agreed to pay the interest the purchasers of the bonds knew of this contract when they purchased, and now that default has been made in paying the interest by the railroad companies, it is eminently proper that the agents of the county should resist its it is the duty of the county, in law and i equity, to do in the premises. The Gazette's attempt to fasten the charge of inconsistency upon the Democracy in this behalf is simply ridiculous, for its own candid tes are precisely in the same position as Intricate legal questions which have arisen in regard to this interest, fully justify all have them judicially settled. It is not for its position of resistance to the payment of railroad interest in advance of such decision, that we object to the action of the Democratic Convention. It is because that hody has made this question, which has nothing to do with Democratic principles, a test question of Democracy, that our objection arises. The Convention has said that they "will support no man for office of any kind, who entertains the opinion that this thing can lawfully in constitutionally be done." Such ostracism of Demos rate as this, for opinions which they may honestly and sincerely and intelligently entertain, upon a question of a purely local character, which does not appertain to the Demos eratic or any other political platform, is anti-Democratic, and will always be scouted by every honest adherent of our party. It is to this tyrannical and before unheard of assumption of a power which they never possessed, on the part of the Conve tion, to which we object, and not to the gener docrine of resistance to illegal taxation. It is the adoption of secondary and local issues, such as have proved so disastrous to the party which opposes us, and which can but weaken was brought against him, and a verdict of the forces of our own party, if persisted in to £1,000 was rendered by the jury. The press great national organization to maintain, which | dict. we, as Democrats, refuse to acknowledge and
