

London, May 27.

The conduct of Ferdinand, the Vllth on entering Spain, has been directly the reverse of that of Louis, recalled to the throne of his ancestors. The ferocity of the Spaniard in many things, shews that he has been a scholar as well as a prisoner to Bonaparte; while the liberal and decisive policy of Louis shews that his exile has been in a land of freedom, science, liberality and religion. The Duke of Wellington, we are happy to hear, has gone to Madrid; and we (Courier) trust, to make a spirited remonstrance on the part of our government.

Ferdinand has restored most of the Spanish Grandees to office, and removed the provisional officers.

Among the arrest ordered on the night of the 10th, there were that of Agar and Ciscar, late Regents; of Alvarez Guerra and Garcia Herreros, late Ministers; and about 20 of the most noisy and jacobinical of the Deputies of the Cortes. This perhaps was proper. At the same time he has arrested the editors of the Seminario and Conciso; the former of which gave circulation to the abominable falsehoods of the enormities said to have been practised against St. Sebastian, even, after it was proven to have been a gross misrepresentation and exaggeration.—The late Secretary of War and two play actors, are also in arrest.

ENGLISH NAVY.

All the three deckers in the British Navy are to go into ordinary immediately after the grand review, as a first step towards a Peace Establishment. The number of vessels in commission the first of June was 507—of which 88 were of the line, 133 frigates. On the 4th June, the anniversary of the British King's Birth day, all the admirals, &c. were promoted a grade, 32 captains were made admirals, and 55 commanders made post-captains. Captain Milne of the Bulwark is one of the new made admirals.

On the same day a great number of generals, colonels, &c. were promoted. Colonel Baynes, adjutant-general in Canada has a major-general's commission. There are no regular brigadier generals in the British service.

ERRATA.

An omission occurred in our paper of the 13th. 3d column, 30th line of the "Millenium," which we are requested to correct. Read as follows: "the senate and house of representatives shall receive a compensation for their services to be ascertained by law, and that no ex post facto law, (or law taking place before making) shall be made."

THE subscriber will attend to the business of a Land Agent in the borough of Harrisburg. Those wishing to procure patents or copies from any of the public offices will find their business executed with promptness.
