

POETRY.

EARLY LIFE.

When young in life, nor known to sorrow,
How lightly flew the gladsome day!
Gay dreams of bliss bro't on the morrow,
And gilt the sun's declining ray.

Then, sweet and tranquil were my slumbers,
Then never 'wak'd mine eyes to weep;
No sorrow that the heart encumbers,
Poison'd the calm of downy sleep.

Nor treacherous friendship then had found me,
Nor Death's dread powers had rent my heart;

Hope spread the fair illusions round me,
And play'd the dear deceiver's part.

She pictur'd years of tranquil pleasure;
Peace and content, she held to view;
My trusting heart dwelt o'er its treasure,
And thought the lovely vision true.

Ah, scenes of joy! by Fancy given,
To cheat the enraptur'd gazing eye,
Say why alas? ye promis'd Heaven,
And give—but Disappointment's sigh;

Dear shades of bliss! ye wake my sorrow—
Now slowly moves the tedious day,
While sombre shades o'ercloud th' morrow,
And shroud the sun's declining ray.

ALPHONZO.

M'DONOUGH'S VICTORY.

O, freedom! raise a joyous strain!
Aloft the eagle towers,
"We have met the enemy" again—
Again have made them ours!

Champlain! the cannon's thundering voice
Proclaims thy waters free;
Thy forest-waving hills rejoice,
And echo—Victory!

The striped flag upon thy wave
Triumphantly appears,
And to invaded landsmen brave,
A star of promise bears.

Now to the world, Fame's trumpet sounds
The deed with new applause,
While from a Conquered Fleet resounds,
Our seamens' loud huzzas!

Britannia, round thy haggard brows
Bind bitter wormwood still;
For lo! again thy standard bows,
To valiant Yankee skill!

But, O! what chaplet can be found
M'Donough's brows to grace?
"Tis done! The glorious wa'eath is bound,
Which time can ne'er efface!

And still a just—a rich reward,
His country has to give
He shall be first in her regard,
And with her Perry live!

Columbia! though thy cannon's roar
On inland seas prevail,
And there alone—while around each shore
Outnumbered ships assail—

Yet deed with deed, and name with name,
Thy gallant sons shall blend,
Till the bright arch of naval fame!
O'er the broad ocean bend!

ON SENSIBILITY.

SENSIBILITY how charming,
Thou my friend canst truly tell:
But distress with horrors arming,
Thou hast also known too well?

Fairest flower, behold the lilly,
Blooming in the sunny ray;
Let the blast sweep o'er the valley,
See it prostrate on the clay.

Hear the wood lark charm the forest
Telling o'er his little joys;
Hapless bird! a prey the surest,
To each private of the skies.

Dearly bought the hidden treasure,
Finer feelings can bestow;
Chords that vibrate sweetest pleasure,
Thrill the deepest notes of woe.

BLANKS FOR SALE

AT THIS OFFICE,

LAND FOR SALE.

A body of 24 contiguous tracts of Land containing in the whole near ten thousand acres situate in Baldeagle township, Centre county, adjoining what has been called the "Officers Land," about 4 miles from Baldeagle creek, on the north side thereof, and on the east side of Beech creek, within a few miles of the West Branch of the Susquehanna, in what is called Tingascou-tack Valley. There is a mine of Iron ore on this body of Land, which most probably would be encouraging to the establishment of Iron Works. It is well watered with excellent Springs, and streams suitable for works of the above description.—There is likewise on the land a good variety of sawing timber. It is tolerably level, and handsome, good Farms may be made with a good proportion of meadow. It will be sold altogether at a moderate price, or in single tracts. For terms enquire of CADWALLADER EVANS, No. 60, North 8th street Philadelphia, or the subscriber in Baldeagle valley, spring township, Center County, near Bellefonte.

FIFTY DOLLARS

REWARD

Deserted from the Rendezvous at Bellefonte, this day, (Tuesday 20th September) between the hours of 1 and 2 P. M. an enlisted Soldier in the 4th Regiment of Riflemen, who calls himself

WILLIAM BROWN,

Twenty one years old, about 5 feet 9 1/2 inches high, light complexion, fair hair, blue eyes, and by profession it is believed, a House Carpenter. He states that he served his apprenticeship at Shippensburg, in this state, and that his father resides about three miles from Carlisle. He is supposed to be an artful fellow, and strong suspicions are entertained of his honesty.

The clothing he took with him were a Rifle Cap complete, Rifle Frock and a pair of white cotton Pantaloon furnished by the United States. From the information I have been able to obtain, it is certain that he has a citizen's Long Coat with him, with plated buttons. The colour of the Coat it is believed, is a dark brown.

He had also in his possession, a few hours before he was missed, two double-cased silver watches; the one old fashioned, and attached to the other a square silver key, with the initials J. M. engraved on it, and it is supposed Bedford notes to the amount of 30 or 40 dollars.

Persons are cautioned against aiding or harboring said deserter, as the law will be strictly enforced against them.

It is to be hoped that all good citizens will make use of some exertions to ensure his apprehension, for in times like the present, the crime of desertion ought to be ranked amongst those of the blackest cast; and, independent of this, certainly no friend of his country can countenance such presumptuous fraud.

I will, with pleasure, give the above reward for his apprehension, and all reasonable charges shall be paid, if delivered to me here, or to any other officer belonging to the Army of the United States.

The law against harboring deserters runs thus:

"Sec. 17. And be it further enacted, That every person, not subject to the rules and articles of war, who shall procure or entice a soldier, in the service of the United States, to desert; or who shall purchase from any soldier, his arms, uniform clothing, or any part thereof; and every captain or commanding officer of any ship or vessel, who shall enter on board, such ship or vessel as one of his crew, knowing him to have deserted, or otherwise carry away any such soldier, or shall refuse to deliver him up to the orders of his commanding officer, shall, upon legal conviction, be fined at the discretion of any court having cognizance of the same, in any sum not exceeding three hundred dollars and be imprisoned any term not exceeding one year."
