

POETRY.

THE BATTLE OF BRIDGEWATER.

In imitation of Campbell's Hohenlinden.

O'er Huron's wave the sun was low,
The weary soldier watch'd the bow
Fast fading from the cloud below
The dashing of Niagara.

And while the phantom chain'd his sight,
Ah! little thought he of the fight—
The horrors of the dreamless night,
That posted on so rapidly.

Soon, soon is fled each softer charm;
The drum and trumpet sound alarm.
And bid each warrior nerve his arm,
For boldest deeds of chivalry.

The burning red-cross waving high,
Like meteor in the evening sky,
Proclaims the haughty toeman nigh
To try the strife of rivalry.

Columbia's banners float as proud,
Her gallant band around it crowd,
And swear to guard or make their shroud
The starred flag of liberty.

"Haste, haste thee Scott to meet the foe,
And let the scornful Briton know,
Well strung the arm and firm the blow
Of him who strikes for liberty."

Loud, loud the din of battle rings,
Shrill through the ranks the bullet sings,
And onward fierce each foemen springs
To meet his peer in gallantry.

Behind the hills descends the sun,
The work of death is but begun,
And red through twilight's shadow dun
Blazes the vollied musketry.

Charge, Miller, charge the foe once more,
And louder than Niagara's roar,
Along the line is heard encore,
"On, on to death or victory."

From line to line with lurid glow,
High arching shoots the rockets bow,
And lights the mingled scene below
Of carnage, death or victory.

The middle watch has now begun,
The horrid battle fray is done,
Nor longer beats the furious drum
To death, to death or victory.

All, all is still—with silent tread,
The watchman steals among the dead,
To guard his comrad's lowly bed
Till morning give him sepulture.

Low in the west, of splendor shorn,
The midnight moon with bloody horn,
Sheds her last beam on him forlorn
Who fell in fight so gloriously.

Oh! long her crescent wax and wane
Ere she behold such fray again,
Such dismal night, such heaps of slain,
Foe mix'd with foe promiscuously.

NORTHUMBERLAND ACADEMY.

WHEREAS the office of Principal of the Northumberland Academy, having become vacant by the much lamented death of the Rev. ISAAC GRIER, who for many years past had successfully devoted his time and talents to promote the reputation and usefulness of this seminary, it is deemed expedient that no time be lost in the appointment of a person to take the charge of the institution until a Principal shall be hereafter appointed.

The Trustees, therefore, having full confidence in the scientific and literary acquirements of Robert Cooper Grier, son of the late Principal, and Professor of Mathematics, Natural Philosophy &c. who during his tedious illness of his father, had the care and superintendance of the Seminary, do unanimously appoint the said Robert Cooper Grier Principal pro tempore of the Northumberland Academy for and during the session commencing on the first day of November of the present year and closing the first day of April 1815.

It is moreover Resolved, that the Rev. John B. Patterson, Rev. Thomas Hood and Doct. Samuel Jackson, be appointed to visit the school jointly or severally, to render such assistance as may be requisite, to attend to the various wants of the institution and report their care and attention to a future meeting. Extracted from the minutes.
