The dear gal done as I told her, and I must life afore-'taint likely ever will again ! Her mouth jest slood open, and her white teeth glistened like a sullar full of candles. I gazed at her edzactly one minit, thirteen secunts, and four ticks! when I riz-put my arms around her body, and glued my lips to hersa caution to woodpeckers ! Creation and the deluge! how she flopped and floundered jest like a young alligator-and immejitly afterwards a rumpus ensued!

'Consarn you, Jack Robinson,' sed she, her eves snappin' fire, 'I'll larn you to bite,' and with that she broke loose, took off her shoe, and the way she did lather me over the head and shoulders and ears, wasn't very refreshin' to say the least of it. But I want a goin' to holler 'enough,' I tell you; so I closed in with her-got the under holt-and at it we went-so good a gal, so good s boy !

Now, Sally had the advantage of me kaze I EACH NUMBER WILL CONTAIN AN ENGLAVING FROM had on my Sunday suit -- her homespun 'fix-ups' want wuth shucks-and every time I'd attempt to give her a bear hug, she'd grab my cotetails, and try to rip 'em off. Keristopher! how spunky she were.

Well, we fit and fit around that are room like all possessed, for about four minits-tippin' over the chairs and buckwheat cakes, and nighly squashin' of the cat-when I made a pass at her head-gear, and broke a pair of new Sunday side-combs and three strings of cutglass beeds, which went to caperin' and dancin, and runnin' races over the floor. That made Sally more spunky agin, and the way she did slap me over the mouth and smeller with the Babes in the Woods,' were a caution to weasels ! Rip---rip----went my sattinet trowsers; whiz-whiz-went her striped bumbazine, and the next thing I knew I didn't Know Nothin' 1

By easin' up occasionally, when I'd hear my cote-tails rip, she had flopped me over the milk-piggin, and were silently reachin' for a short-handled fryin'-pan, to give me 'Hail Columby,' when Jim (whom I hadn't tho't of durin' the engagement) stuck his head out of the kibbard-his mouth all daubed over with preserves-and yelled ;--

Hollo, here-what's trumps ?' Sally jumped like litenin,' drapped the fryin'-pan quicker'n a cow can flop her tail.

'What's trumps ?' ses she. 'Why, Jack is trumps, the varmint, I've jest turned him up !' But here comes the darlin' now-all rigged | if possible-the cost of which may be deducted out in silk-and if you won't say anything from the amount.

receive orders for the New Volume, the editor does and you'll soon diskiver the greatest trick ever | not know he has any very brilliant ideas to hold ont in large capitals to dazzle people's eyes-"Graham" will be pretty much what it has been say, I never seed sich a beautiful sight in my experience suggests. No number will contain less than 100 pages of matter, and the readers of "Graham" may rely with great confidence upon this-the volume shall contain

OVER TWELVE HUNDRED PAGES !

Of the very best reading matter that capital can command from original sources, or taste select from the vast mass of available material.

The aim of the editor will be to produce a pubfication which sholl be valuable in matter, and choice in taste and style; and he datters himself. from the known talents of his contributors, that he will be able to present as many good original ar-ticles to his readers as any publication of the day. He shall not, however, hesitate to publish, from time to time, articles from English authors, and translations from the best German and French writers, provided the pieces have never before appeared in print in this country. Essays on impor-tant Political Subjects will likewise be inserted. and criticisms on the Literature of America and the movements of the Age. The Leview Department, in which a large and liberal spirit of critcism will always be maintained, will be extended. For the defence of American Diterature the editor will always be ready ; the maintainance of a cor-rect tone in the Magazine, he will, if possible, bc still more watchful.

FINE STEEL PLATE IN ADDITION TO THE CHOICE.

DESIGNS AND ENGRAVINGS OF DEVERUX. who will supply illustrations for the text in the body of the book. The aim of the editor will not be so much to increase the number of his engravings, as to secure for those he publishes the utmost finish the artist can give them ; for common wood-cuts are so easily multiplied, that the most indifferent publication may outrank in dreary display the choicest periodical.

The Editor does not feel, that with his own readers, he can increase his claims to respect by insisting on any very great superiority of 'Graham' over several similar publications, but thinks he may safely confide in their friendship for the Magazine, and in its past management for its present list, and such increase as naturally grows out of an extended circulation in a country where readers are multiplying so rapidly.

Of the January number the first adition will be 0,000 copies, and the editor trusts his old friends will be so prompt in renewing old clubs, and extending the list among new ones, that the first adition shall be but half as what the year will ultimately establish, as the permanent circulation of Graham.
