THE LAST OF BUR YOUR FRANKLIN. Dr. Rar's Letter in Port.

(Frem the Montreal Herald, Oct. 21st.) We are indebted to Sir George Simpson, Govenor of the Hadson's Bay Territory, for the That it be published in Clearfield, let it privilege of first publishing to the civilized be known in Curwensville, let it be proclaimed ble but iff-starred Sir John Franklin and his gallant company. Alas! that the fate should gentle beeze along the West Branch of the have been so sad, and that the problem, which Susquehanna, that PATTON & HIPPLE, have has so long occupied the thoughts and engaged just received the largest and best selected the energies of the great navigator's countless stock of goods ever brought to Curwensville. should be solved by so painful, so distressing a narrative as is contained in the following letter which only reached Sir George Simpson yesterday afternoon, it having been forwarded om York Factory via Red river. Our ownones of Sir John Franklin's restoration to the world, had, we confess, long ceased: but who ing Oysters by the Can, at the most reasonable | could have been prepared for the fearful reality?, a miserable and fearful death from literal starvation-possibly, as Dr. Rae conjectues, worse than starvation-on the frozen and desolate shores of the Arctic Ocean. But we shall not detain the reader by any reflection of They have just received a large stock of new ours from the perusal of Dr. Rae's intensely interesting narrative-we shall merely mention that York Factory is situate at the mouth of Hayes River, in Hudson's Bay, in about 56 degrees N. L., and 93 degrees W. L.:

York Factory, August 4, 1854 -My Dear Sir just received a large stock of Dry Goods Gro- George-Your several letters, public and private, of dates 15th June and 1st December 18-53, and 13th and 16th of June, 1854, were handed me on the 28th ultimo, on my reaching Churchill, and I rejoiced to learn that your health had been benefitted so much by

Let me now allude to the expedition affairs. I arrived here on the 31st ult., with my small party in exclient health, but I am sorry to say, without having effected our object. At the same time information has been obtained, and articles purchased from the natives which placheap assortment of goods just received by ces the fate of a portion, if not all, of the then survivors of Sir John Franklin's miserable party beyond a doubt-a fate most deplorable-death from starvation, after having had recourse to anibalism as a means of prolonging life.

I reached my old quarters at Repulse Bay. on the 15th of August, and preparations were immediately commenced for the winter. On the 1st September I explained to the men our position, the stock of provisions we had on hand, (not more than three months' rations,) sale on easy terms, in lots, or otherwise to and the prospects we had of getting more, &c .. &c., pointing out all the danger and difficulty of our position. All readily volunteered to remain, and our exertions to collect food and fuel went on with unabated energy. By the end of September, 109 deer, 1 musk ox, 54 brace of Ptarmigan, and I seal had been shot, FLE. The business will be hereafter conducted and the nets produced 190 salmon. ment of Gentlemen's dress goods and ready wind, deep, soft snow and foggy weather, we whether a teacher or not, in laying his hands Pelly Bay until the 17th. At this place we Jury found a verdict against the teacher for met with Esquimaux, one of whom, on being the sum of three hundred and sixty-five dolasked if he ever saw white people, replied in lars. the negative, but said that a large party, (at least 40 persons,) had perished from want of food some 10 or 12 days' journey to the westward. The substance of the information, obtained at various times and from various sourpast, (spring, 1850,) a party of white men, event of your death. The present year by the Esquimaux. None of the party could speak the native language intelligibly, but by signs the natives were made to understand that their ships or ship had been crushed by plied to ocean navigation. It is sad to think of the frightful loss of life and the destrucappearance of the men, all of whom, except one time disasters within so short a period. officer, (chief) looked thin, they were then supposed to be getting short of provisions and they purchased a small seal from the natives. At a later date the same season, but previous to the disruption of the ice, the bodies of about 30 white persons were discovered on the continent, and 5 on an island near it, about a long day's journey, (say 35 or 40 miles,) to the wish them abundant success, and have no doubt | northwest of a large streem, which can be no our Clearfield friends visiting the City, will other than Beck's Great Fish River, named by call where they will always meet a warm and the Esquimaux Out koo-hica-lik, and its deneighborhood of Point Ogle and Montreal Island agree exactly with that of Sir George Back. Some of the bodies had been buried; probably Gallery on 2nd st., two doors north of Powell in a tent or tents, others under a boat that had been turned over to form a shelter; and several lay scattered about in different directions. Of those found on the island, one was supposed to have been an officer, as he had a tele scope strapped over his shoulder, and his double barrelled gun lay underneath him. From the mutilated state of many of the corpses, and the contents of the kettles, it is evident that our miserable countrymen had been driven to the last resource-cannibalism -as a means of prolonging life.

There appears to have been an abundant stock of ammunition, as the powder was emptied in a heap upon the ground by the natives, out of the kegs or cases containing it, and a quantity of ball and shot was found below high water mark, having been left on the ice close to the beach. There must have been a number of watches, telescopes, compasses, guns, &c., ings,' observed a crowd pouring into the room | all of which appear to have been broken up, as I saw pieces of the different articles with the Esquimaux, and together with silver spoons and forks, purchased as many as I could obboots and shoes, recently opened there by C. enclose, with a rough pen-and-ink-sketch of the crests and initials on the forks and spoons. The articles themselves shall be handed over to the Secretary of the Hon. H. B. Co., on my arrival in London. None of the Esquimaux with whom I conversed had seen the 'whites,' nor had they ever been at the place where the dead were found, but had their information from those who had been there, and those who had seen the party when alive. From the head of Pelly Bay-which is a bay, spite of Sir II. Beautort's opinion to the contrary-I crossed 60 miles of land in a westerly direction, traced the west shore from Castor and Pullux river to Cape Porter of Sir. James Ross, and I could have got with 30 or 40 miles of Beloit Strait, but I tho't it useless proceeding further, as I could not complete the whole.

Never in my former Arctic journeys had I met with such an accumulation of obstacles. Fogs, storms, rough ice and deep snow we had to fight against. On one occasion we were four and a half days unable to get a glimpse of the sun, or even to make, out his position We request the attention of our readers in the heavens. Repulse Bay on the 26th May, without accilent, except in one instances, in which one of the party lost a toe from a frost bite.

The commencement of spring was very five, but June and July were colder. We were unable to get out of the bay until the 6th of August. Our progress along the coast, as far as Cape Fullerton, was much impeded by ice; but on getting to the Southward of the cape we had dear weather, and saw no ice afterwards.

The conduct of the men, was, generally speaking, good; and we had not a single case of sickness during the time of our absence. Being anxious to send this to Red River by the first boat, I write in haste and briefly, but shall have the pleasure of sending a more detailed account by some future opportunity. With the utmost respect, I have the honor to be, your very obedient servant, John Rea.
