WIDOW MACHREE.

Widow Machree, it's no wonder you frown,
Och, hone! widow Machree; [gown,
Faith, it ruins your looks, that same dirty black
Och, hone! widow Machree, How altered your hair with that close cap you wear, 'Tis destroying your hair, which should be flowing Be no longer a churl with its black silken curl, Och, hone! widow Maclfree.

Widow Machree, now the summer is coming, Och, hone! widow Machree; When everything smiles should a body look glum, Och, hone! widow Machree; See the birds go in pairs, the rabbits and hares, Why even the bears now in couples agree. And the mute little fish, though they can't spake

Och, hone! widow Machree. Widow Machree, and when winter comes in, Och, hone! widow Machree;

To be poking the fire all alone is a sin. Och, hone! widow Machree; Why the shovel and tongs to each other belongs, And the kettle sings songs full of family glee, While alone with your cup, like a hermit you sup Och, hone! widow Machree

And how do you know, with the comforts I've told, Och, hone! widow Machree! But you're keeping some poor tellow out in the cold Och, hone! widow Machree; [fied With such scenes on your head, your peace 'ud be Could you sleep in your bed without thinking to see, Some ghost or some sprite, that 'ud wake you each Crying, "Och, hone! widow Machree. Then take my advice. darling widow Machree, Och, hone! widow Machree; And with my advice, faith, I'd wish you'd take me. Och, hone! widow Machree You'd have me to desire, then stir up the fire, And sure hope is no liar in whsspering to me, That ghosts 'ud depart, when you've me near your heart. Och, hone! widow Machree. Widow Machree, I don't wish to be bold, Och, hone! widow Machree; I give you my word, my own, my adored. And as a reward, take this promise from me, To atone for my sins, your first child shall be twins, Och, hone! widow Machree.

LET US BECOME MORE AMERICANIZED. AN APPEAL TO AMERICAN WOMEN:-Mothers, Daughters, Sisters, Read, Reflect And Act .- The following article from the Boston Transcript is thought to present, in so clear a light, the real cause of the pecuniary dificulties under which the country has been so long suffering, that it has been re-printed for general circulation in various forms. The remedy lies in a general system of retrenchment, and, especially, in the encouragement of home manufactures. If each individual will determine to do his or her duty in the primises, relief, permanent relief, and an avoidence of future evil, may be safely promised! But no merely temporary check to importations will answer the purpose. The victim of gluttony or intemperance must maintain habitual caution, if he would recover strength of frame and vigor of limb. Editors of papers are earnestly requested to copy this Appeal, and all true patriots are enjoined to promote its general circulation. Copies of it. in every share, should be cheaply printed, and generally distributed. Shall this appeal be made in vain: "HARD TIMES - Everbody talks and thinks faction the money returned. about the 'hard times,' and almost everbody feels them, and knows by bitter experience, what they mean. But very few stop to consider, as carefully as they should, what is the cause of all the suffering and anxiety they share or witness, or what remedy there may be for either. Some attribute our troubles to the banks, and demand more discounts-as if the banks were not always eager to do just as much business as they can do lawfully and safely. Some attribute them to the great frauds of agents, who have mismanaged the affairs of great corporations, and so created a wide dis-trust—as if a few unprincipled men could, by mere speculations blight a whole land worth a million times more than they have cheated it out of. And others give other reasons for them. Each of these reasons may have some weight; but no one of them is of much significance, nor could all put together produce such effects as we witness, or account for them. It is the people-the mass of the peoplethat make the trouble. No less power can bring about such results. The universal depression and

If an individual spends more than his income. everybody knows that he must retrench or be ruined. If the whole nation runs into similar extravagance—a nation being only a mass of individ uals—the whole nation must retrench or be ruined. In the United States, for several years back, we have been spending extravagantly, and the consequence is, that there is now a general embarrassment and trouble; and we begin to hear a cry to know the cause and find the remedy is is as plain as the way to church; the remedy is is as plain as the way to church; the remedy is present incomes. We must therefore, retrench, or go on suffering more and more.

That this is the true state of the case may be made clear by two examples, taken from the opposite extremes of our folly. The Secretary of the Treasury tells us that in our last financial year we imported thirty three millions worth of silk goods. Silks we produce at home only in small quantities, and it is the merest luxury. We should be as warm and as well off, physically. in all re-spects, without spending a dollar on it. Now, if dresses of our women whose husbands and fathers cannot afford to pay for them, or at the drapery of their parlors, which are becoming mere monuments of vanity and bad taste by their heavy, inelegant extravagance. Or what, perhaps, is yet more obvious, look at our large hotels, and the people who frequent them. One of them, in New York, whose Ladies' Ordinary was lately a sight like a show at the play house, had damask curtains in its drawing rooms that cost fifteen thousand dollars. At the last accounts they were in the sher-iff's hands. Private parlors of the same fashion are coming fast to the same end.

But let us go to the other extreme of our folly. We are compelled to import silks if we must have them; but if there is any thing of which we have enough and to spare, it is stones—marble and granite and the sand stone, and all kinds of stones.—New England and the Middle States are full of them. But quantities are now Imported from France! Churches and houses, in no small numbers, are built of them in New York and Brooklyn, and elsewhere. One person in New York, we understand, now offers a hundred tons of them for sale. Next, we ought to hear of importing dirt to cover up our own rocks, lest the sight of them should reproach us with our senseless extravagance. Sancho, in Don Quixote, characterizes a man's folly by saying, he wants better bread than can be made of wheat. Do we want better churches and houses than can be built of Quincy and Rockport granite, or Berkshire and Vermont marble, or Connecticut sandstone? The very suggestion is ridiculous.

But there is no need of such seperate illustrations. Our importations for the last two years show our extravagance and folly, in the gross, just as plainly as our French silks and French building stones show them in detail. Take, for example, the years 1844 and 1845, and compare them with the years 1853 and 1854, and see what the Secretary of the Treasurer says about them; we mean, what he says about merchandise and goods of every sort imported and consumed in the United States in those years, taking the amount as estimated at the places whence they were shipped.

Value. Population. For Capital. $96,950,000 19,941,000 85 05 101,907,000 19,784 000 His table runs as follows: $5 05 In 1845.

279,712,000 25,500,000 10 00 That is, in ten years, we have almost exactly doubled the average proportion of our importations for each individual in the country. We have paid in the places where the goods were shipped, ten dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States—including the slaves—and to these Bald Hills. Becember 27, 1854.—6t. ten dollars we must add charges and duties, and ported for each soul on our soil, each of the last June 14, '54 two years. Such a monstrous fact needs only to be make them harder, just as they choose; and no other means or power on earth can do either.

Now, ladies! would you help your country out of its troubles? Then resolve each one, and form leagues with others of your sex, to purchase no artiel of dress, ornament, or funiture, which is not made by your own countrymen, or countrywomen! And let the fathers, husbands, brothers, and beaux of America come to the same laudable determination! Then shall we once more see prosperity in our land, and financial peace throughout our borders! Take a copy of the following pledge upon a sheet of paper, and hand it round for signatures:

PLEDGE IN BEHALF OF DOMESTIC INDUSTRY. In view of the "Hard Times" arising from excessive importation, we hereby mutually promise not to purchase any article of foreign manufacture which can readily be obtained of home make, for the space of, at least, one year, renewable at our pleasure. We will emulate the noble example of our mothers during the Revolution-who refused to drink the foreign tea, or wear the foreign silk forced upon our country by British oppressors. Signed by Martha Washington, Mrs. John Hancock and others.
