Popular Song.

POOR UNCLE TOM. A look of gloomy, bitter sadness, Rests on every creature; Gone is every sign of gladness, Joyless every feature; Torn away ere scarce a warning Came that we must sever: With us at eve-but in the morning Tom was gone forever!

Chorus .- Poor Uncle Tom! farewell! For evermore, Time will thy virtues tell When life is o'er.

He trod the steamer's deck dejected, And naught he thought could cheer him, Btill he was not by all neglected-A sweet child gambol'd near him, And gazing on his face with sorrow, She kindly said. "Why sigh you?

Don't weep, and then perhaps to-morrow,

My father dear, will buy you.' Poor Uncle Tem !- the voice Of that young child Made his lone heart rejoice-He sighed and smiled.

Hark! what a cry to heaven ascends! Eva, the planter's daughter, Whose life on some swift aid depends, Now struggles in the water; A bound-a splash-and old Tom leaping,

Ahead of every other. Rescues the child and brings her weeping

To her distracted mother, Poor Tom is now at rest In the dark grave, And those who knew him best Now mourn for the slave.

LIFE AND DEATH.

and dear friend, between whom and ourselves for many weary years there had been little communication. We found him where we sought him-but there was a guest at his hearth we had not thought to meet. Death was there. In a little backroom, about whose casements heavy palls were twined together, excluding the gay sunlight that lay so lovingly upon the the outer sill, there were two coffins -one little and one large. And within these two coffins, clothed in whitened raiment, there were two corpses-the one that of an old man, and the other that of a babe. In the same honr, infancy and age-the grandsire and his vonngest darling-had broken away from the earth-anchorage, and drifted out upon the Stygian waves towards the Better Land. It is often thus that the old and the young go together to their long sleep. Daily, almost, we behold the scythe of the dark Reaper cutting down alike the growing flower and ripened grain, gathering them in one sheaf into the upper garner. He, of all harvesters, is the most remorseless; his the only scythe whose edge is never dull. Yet He that commissions the stern old Reaper doeth all things well-and will make the dark things clear and the crooked straight, in that day, when the scythe and his hands to implore the blessing of heaven on the shroud together shall be put away forever | the union. At this point, the groomsman seefrom the presence of the ransomed.

The old man and the babe were friendseach a treasure to the other-during life, and in death they were not divided. The same bark bore them to the pearly strand-the same angel led them through the golden gates; and now, over one harp they sing together in Heaven.

"The Pure Juice of the Grave."

Many of our fashionable wine-bibbers, while drinking themselves into delirium tremens, hug the idea that they are enjoying the pure juice of the grape. Deluded souls! The shadow of a vine-leaf never cooled the fruit from which their beverage was pressed. So general, so well-nigh universal, are liquer adulterations at the present day, that, should this state of things continue, pure wine will ere long be considered as a myth, like the fabled nectar of the gods, which poets might es,' said the intruder, meekly. Matches! blab about but never drank, and every-day that's a likely story! Why don't you make a mortals might covet, but never see. See what stuff is palmed upon our credulous tipplers, from the upper-tendom down to the broad domain of the undiscriminating million, under the name of "pure wines."?

The New York Herald declares that "ninetenths of the brandy and wine" sold in that city "should be spilt into the East River"and that it is a vile compound of poisons, in which camphene and other deadly drugs are mixed with vinegar and currant wine-the whole being sold with authentic French or other foreign labels!

And this is the compound, a free imbibition of which constitutes one of the peculiar privileges of fashionable society! No wonder that when Death rides on such a horse, Hell

Colors.-It was generally known of course that the sun was the source of all light, but it was not so generally known or thought of, that the sun was also the origin of all the colors presented to the eye. It was not so generally known that hence summer borrowed her green mantle, and winter her vestal robe-that every flower of the garden was not bright and beautiful of itself, but simply because it reflected | "Why is neighbor Smith's liquor shop like a the sun's rays, and borrowed all its tints and attire from the solar beams. "No: I was intoxicated wid ardent spirits once, and dat's 'nuff for dis darkey. De Lord bress you, Casar, my head felt as if it was an outhouse; all de niggers in de world appeared to be splitting wood in it."

-as to have a stupid son, I would certainly knowing darkey to his companion, 'don't stan' make him a parson." A clergyman, who was on the rail-road.' 'Why, Joe?' in the company calmly replied, "you think Kase if de cars see dat mouf ob yourn, dey differently, sir, from your father."

ONE OF THE WITNESSES .- Not long since a steamboat called the 'Old Kentuck' blew up, near the Trinity, at the mouth of the Ohio, where it is a well established fact that a great many musquitos will weigh a pound, by which accident a lady rejoicing in the name of Mrs. Jones, lost her husband and her trunk, and for both of which an action was brought.

There was, strange to say, great difficulty in proving that Mr. Jones had been on the boat at the time of the collapse, that worthy having been notoriously drunk on the wharf-boat just as the steamer left Trinity.

Many witnesses were examed to prove the fact, until finally a Mr. Deitzmar, a German, was placed upon the stand. Our friend, J. S., was attorney for the boat, and elicited from Deitzmar this testimony:

"Mr. Deitzmar, did you know the Old Kentuck ?" "Yah, I was blown up mit her." "Were you on board when she collapsed her

Jones aboard de last time." J. S. fancied his case was safe, and with a most triumphant glance at the jury, said: "You did not? Well, Mr. Dietzmar, when last did you see Mr. Jones?" "Well, when de schmike pipe and me was going up, we met Mr. Jones coming down !"

Nor Bad .- A correspondent of the Cincinnatti Times, from Burlington, Vt., relates the following:-I am reminded-speaking of cheese-of a little anecdote the stage driver told me yesterday. We were passing an old farm house with an untidy yard, and dilapida-We went a day or two ago to visit an old ted out-buildings, when he said:

'A Boston man got off a pretty cute speech to the owner of that place tother day.' 'What was it?' I asked.

Well he called at the house to buy cheese, but when he came to look at the lot, he concluded he didn't want 'em, they were so full of 'skippers.'

'So he made an excuse, and was going away, when the farmer said to him :- Look here mister, how can I get my cheese down to Boston the cheapest?'

'The gentleman looked at the stuff a moment and saw the maggots squirming, and said :- Well, I don't know; let 'em be a day or two, and yeu can drive 'em dawn!'

It seems to me the answer was somewhat pertinent to the occasion.'

(says the Springfield Republican) do people seem more prone to commit blunders than at a wedding. The following actually occurred in a neighboring town:

In the midst of a crowd of witnesses, the clergyman had just completed that interesting ceremony which binds in the siver bonds of wedlock two willing hearts, and stretched forth ing the open hands reached out, supposed it was the signal for him to surrender the wedding fee, which was burning in his pocket. Accordingly, just as the clergyman closed his eyes in prayer, he felt the pressure of two sweaty half dollars on his open palms. The good man hesitated a moment, appalled at the ludicrousness of his situation, but coolly deposited the money in his pocket, and proceeded with his

WEAR VIRTUE .- What brought you here ?' said a lone woman who was quite "flustrated" the other morning by an early call from a bachelor neighbor who lived opposite, and whom she regarded with peculiar favor, although she had never dared to tell her love, but "let concealment, like a worm in the bud, hide in the furrows of her unwrinkled face and change her skin to parchment." 'I came to borrow matchmatch yourself? I know what you come for,' cried the exasperated old virgin, as he backed the bachelor into a corner. 'You come here to kiss me almost to death! But you shan'twithout you're the strongest, and the Lord

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE.—NEW VOLreceive orders for the New Volume, the editor doce not know he has any very brilliant ideas to hold out in large capitals to dazzle people's eyes-"Graham" will be pretty much what it has been Teeth extracted with all the care and dispatch modern science can furnish.

DR. HILLS, can always be found at his office, ham' may rely with great confidence upon thisthe volume shall contain

OVER TWELVE HUNDRED PAGES! Of the very best reading matter that capital can command from original sources, or taste select from the vast mass of available material. The aim of the editor will be to produce a pub-cation which sholl be valuable in matter, and choice in taste and style, and he flatters himself. from the known talents of his contributors, that he will be able to present as many good original ar-ticles to his renders as any publication of the day. He shall not, however, besitate to publish, from time to time, articles from English authors, and translations from the best German and French writers, provided the pieces have never before appeared in print in this country. Essays on imper tant Political Subjects will likewise be inserted and criticisms on the Literature of America and the movements of the Age. The Loriew Department, in which a large and liberal spirit of criticism will always be maintained, will be extended For the defence of American Diterature the editor Caps. Boots. Shoes, &c., &c., of the best quality and will always be ready; the maintainance of a corat the lowest prices. still more watchful.

EACH NUMBER WILL CONTAIN AN ENGRAVING FROM A PINE STEEL PLATE IN ADDITION TO THE CHOICE

DESIGNS AND ENGRAVINGS OF DEVERUX. who will supply illustrations for the text in the body of the book. The aim of the editor will not be so much to increase the number of his engravings, as to secure for those he publishes the utmost finish the artist can give them; for common wood-cuts are so easily multiplied, that the most indifferent publication may outrank in dreary display the choicest periodical. The Editor does not feel, that with his own resders, he can increase his claims to respect by insisting on any very great superiority of 'Graham' over several similar publications, but thinks he may safely confide in their friendship for the Magazine, and in its past management for its present list, and such increase as naturally grows out of an extended circulation in a country where readers are multiplying so rapidly.

Of the January number the first adition will be 30,000 copies, and the editor trusts his old friends will be so prompt in renewing old clubs, and exiding the list among new ones, that the first saition shall be but half os what the year will ultimately establish, as the permanent circulation of Postage .- Subscribers in any part of the United states may now receive the Magazine, by mail, at three cents a number or thirty-six cents a year postage, payable at the Post-office where it is re-

Postmasters and Editors all over the Union are respectfully requested to act as Agents for the New TERMS .- The Terms of "Graham" are Three Dollars for single subscribers, if paid in advance. For six dellars in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs to be sent in the city to one address, and in the country, to one Post-office. 2 copies. S 6 per an. (and one I to the getter up) 10

The money for clubs always should be sent in dvance. Subscriptions may be sent at our risk When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted om the amount Any person desirous of receiving a copy as a 100 Chesnut st., Philadelphia. WHAT CAN BE GOT FOR $5 The undersigned have entered into an arrangement which they agree to furnish the Knickerbocker dagazine, (monthly,) the Home Journal, (weekly, and the Musical World and Times, (weekly,) to new subscribers, at the very moderate price of five dollars, a year sor the three publications; all orders, enclosing that amount to liver & Willis, will be promptly attended to SAMUEL HEUSTON. Publisher of the Knickerbooker, MORRIS & WILLIS, Publishers of the Home Journal

DYER & WILLIS. Publishers of the Musical World and Times, ST5 Brondway, New York, GRAND LITERARY AND ARTISTIC COMBI-NATION.

Arrangements have been made to farnish the Knickerbocker Magazine, the Home Journal, and the New York Musical World and Times to new subscribers, for five dollars a year. This is cheap literature, with a vengeance. The Knickerbocker s $3 per annum the Home Journal, $2; and the Musical World and Times, 83; making 53 a year at the usual rates. That three such works can be obtained for five dollars a year, is a fact truly worthy the Caloric age, which is just now being ush-ered in. Of the Knickerbocker Magazine, edited by Lewis Gaylord Clark, it is unnecessary to speak. For twenty years it has been the most genial; humorous, and spicy "monthly" vorid; and the present volume will be better than my which preceded it. The Home Journal, edited by Geo. P. Morris, and N. P. Willis, is well known as the best family newspaper in America; and the Musicai World and Times, edited by Richard Storrs Willis with Lowell Mason, Geo. H. Curtis. Thomas Hastings, Wm. P. Bradbury, Geo. F. Root, and other musical writers contributing and which gives, among other things, over $25 ARRIS. HALE & CO-Wholesale Druggists. No. 259, Market Street, North side between sixth and seventh, Philade'phia. Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals. Patent Medicines and a full course of instruction in harmony annually, is the very best musical Journal ever published. These three publications will post a family up in regard to nearly everything worth knowing:—Art. Seivnes Little everything and other attractions for Ladies ; Choice New Ma sie for the Sabbath, the Church, and the Fireside; Reviews and Criticism of Musical Works, Performers and Performances; in short, the very pick and cream of Novelty, Incident, History, Biography, Art Literature and Science; including whatever can be given in periodicals to promote Healthy Amusement and Solid Instruction in the family and help to make it Better, Wiser, and Happier, may be now obtained for FIVE DOLLARS. Address DYER & WILLIS, 275 Broadway. Editors publishing the above three times, and sending the papers containing it to Dyer & Willis, will receive the three works named, for one year. Aug. 23, 1854. HOUSEHOLD WORDS .- A MONTHLY MAGAZINE AT $2 PER YEAR .- Only those who read the serial so promptly issued every week by Dickens, with thoughtful appreciation, know how to prize it. "Household Words" is a modern journal for the people, devoted to common ly on hand a large, splendid, and cheap stock of subjects, uncommonly treated, excellent in style in genius, in manner, and wonderfully fertile in subject. The pieces are the right length; they exhibit wonderful variety and are attuned to a harmonious key and remarkable unity of effect For the money, there is not the equal of "House hold Words" for a family journal Pleasant sto ries, useful knowledge, graceful aneedotes, charming essays, alternate in its pages. It is not always convenient to secure a copy of the weekly Saddle Bags, Bridle Filling, Bits, Stirrups, Buckles, issue on the arrival of a steamer, in order to enjoy regularly this delightful work, we advise our readers to possess themselves of the handsome monthly reprint of McElrath & Baker, who bring out "Household Words" with commendable punctuality, at New-York.
