Wit and Bumor.

ANECDOTE OF MR. JEFFERSON .- Mr. Jefferson's great height and slender figure exposed him to much ridicule from his opponents; his sobriquet with them was "Long Tom;" and when his famous project of a Navy was adopted by Congress, and the attempt made to put it into practice, the cannon, disproportionably large, with which each of the ill-constructed craft was burdened, obtained, in contempt, the name of a "Long Tom." Nothing could present a more singular contrast than the figures of Mr. Jefferson and Gen. Knox; the one very short, and as thick as he was long-the other, lank and lean, and unusually tall. They happened to meet one morning on the steps at Gen. Washington's lodgings, in Philadelphia. The two gentlemen approached from opposite directions, and arriving at the same moment, a contest in ettiquette took place between them. The General at the head of the army, and full | quite freely upon his person. of its chivalrous politeness could not think of passing in before the co-equal head of the department of State: while the civil officer of government was equally averse to take precedence of the military; and they stood for some moments, each drawing back and waving the other forward. In the midst of this somewhat | fever. entertaining scene, came up directly in front, the notorious Judge Peters, the greatest wit of his day. Perceiving how matters stood, and casting a sly glance from one to the other, he pushed boldly between them, exclaiming as he passed :- "Pardon me, gentlemen, if in my haste I dash through Thick and Thin,"

A STORY OF THE TIMES .- About the time of the late election in Massachusetts, and while party spirit ran high, an energetic Know Nothing canvasser had, in a fiery speech delivered in Millville, in Worcester county, worked the foreign population up to a point of indignation past all their endurance. The day following, as a crowd of Irishmen were collected in the street, brooding over their fancied injuries, a gentleman named Holden, noted | ing!" for his eccentricity, advanced among them, and to their great delight commenced a violent denunciation of the new party. Beneath his magic influence the alien audience became in their estimation the pillars of our republic, and as he warmed up in his subject, Know Nothingism withered to a bare name under his scorehing touch, while cheer after cheer burst from the excited throng, now rapidly increasing. "Who" asked he, "build all our railroads?" "Irishmen," was the enthusiastic reply. "Who dig our canals?" "Irishmen." "Who build our State prisons and almshouses?" "Irishmen," thundered a hundred voices. "Who FILL them?" Waiting in vain for a reply, their whilom champion, clenching his fists, shouted, "Irishmen, you

MEN AND BRUTES .- 'Now, gentlemen,' said a nobleman, to his guests, as the ladies left the room, let us understand each other; are we to drink like men, or like brutes?' 'The guests, watery put into the pot in which they are to somewhat indignant, exclaimed, 'Like men. of course.' 'Then,' replied he, 'we are going | der them perfectly dry and mealy. This is an to get jolly drunk, for brutes never drink easy and effectual way of obviating a very more than they want.'

Jones stepped up to a gentleman who was engaged in conversation with about a dozen others, and said: "It seems to me I have seen your physiognomy somewhere, before, but I cannot imagine where." "Very likely," he replied, "I have been the keeper of a prison for upwards of twenty years.

THE JUDGE'S MUSTARD BATH.

Two or three days ago, a young friend, who gia, related to us an anecdote which shows how thoroughly scared the people of Georgia

It seems that Judge B-g, of the Supreme Court of the State, was in the upper country at the time, but within twenty hours' run, by mail, of the terrible disease. Quite suddenly, late one afternoon, he was seized with a head-ache, pain in his back, limbs, &c. Having heard that these were salutations Yellow Jack extended to his victims on approaching them, the Judge, in great consternation, applied to a friend who was "posted," for advice. A hot mustard bath was urgently advised, and being prepared, the Judge was seen laying himself in the irritating fluid. Presently he felt better, and finding a cake of soap in the vessel of water he began to apply it

After quite pleasant exercise in this way he looked down for the first time on his body and limbs, and discovered that he was turning black! Oh, horror! His friend was hurriedly sent for, came and declared that the symtoms were intensely expressive of yellow

"But," said the Judge, shivering the while, "I feel no pain; I feel well."

"So much the worse; the absence of pain is a marked symptom!" Good heavens!" ejaculated the judge, "what shall I do?"

"The only hope is in the mustard. Rub away," was all the advice his friend could

And rub he did, with will. He used the soap to open every possible pore, and after some minutes sent for a candle, (for the twilight was fading,) to ascertain his, exact cuticular condition. On examination, he was as black as a crow, and the soap, which a careless servant had dropped into the tub, was discovered to be somebody's "Patent Paste Black-

We need only add that the Judge survived. Copy of an advertisement stuck up in the New Orleans post-office: "Wanted-money or business; d-n the odds." Bos.

PROFITS OF POULTRY.

Few farmers expect to realize anything of any amount from their poultry. Hens are left to take care of themselves, as a general thing, they cannot possibly realize so large a per cent on the cost, occupy the whole of the breeders | with their business connections. time and attention. Now let us suppose that a man owns 300 hens, and takes care of them as land; makes a good fence around it, and diwarm building, 12 feet by 40. In one of these three acre yards he keeps his hens during the summer ploughing it once in two or three weeks for their benefit. The other yard he plants in corn; the crop being sufficient to keep his hens through the winter. They lay, on an burnt his steak for nine small children, and average, two hundred eggs each per annum, or 6,000 a year, in all, which worth, at a low estimate $600. HAY AND CATTLE SCALES .- Why do so few farmers have a scale to weigh domestic animals, hay, straw, &c., that they may know the value of improvement compared with cost ?-A country editor, who has been jilted | That they may know the quantity of hay and by printed calicoes more times than he dare other farm products sold, and not be obliged their numerous friends in Clearfield to give them put down in figures, thus slanderously, and to to guess? TIME FOR SOWING OATS .- The sooner this crop can be got in after the frost is out of the ground the better. It is futile to attempt any particular time to sow oats, as the time must be determined by the locality. As a general rule, it may be laid down that the proper time to render every attention to the travelling commuto sow oats is when the frost is out of the ground, and plowing can well be done.

PROFITS OF ORCHARDS .- A distinguished agriculturist, who has 1000 apple trees, and intends to set out as many more, says that if apples will sell at 25 cents per bushel, they are his most profitable crop-and if they will not sell, they are the cheapest food he can raise for all kinds of animals.

from the known talents of his contributors, that he will be able to present as many good original ar-ticles to his readers as any publication of the day. He shall not, however, hesitate to publish, from time to time, articles from English authors, and translations from the best German and French writers, provided the pieces have never before appeared in print in this country. Essays on important Political Subjects will likewise be inserted. and criticisms on the Literature of America and the movements of the Age. The Leview Department, in which a large and liberal spirit of criticism will always be maintained, will be extended. For the defence of American Diterature the editor will always be ready; the maintainance of a correct tone in the Magazine, he will, if possible, be still more watchful. EACH NUMBER WILL CONTAIN AN ENGRAVING FROM A PINE STEEL PLATE IN ADDITION TO THE CHOICE

DESIGNS AND ENGRAVINGS OF DEVERUX. who will supply illustrations for the text in the oody of the book. The aim of the editor will not be so much to increase the number of his engravings, as to secure for those he publishes the utmost finish the artist can give them ; for common wood-cuts are so easily multiplied, that the most indifferent publication may outrank in dreary display the choicest periodical.

The Editor does not feel, that with his own readers, he can increase his claims to respect by insisting on any very great superiority of 'Graham' over several similar publications, but thinks he may safely confide in their friendship for the Magazine, and in its past management for its present list, and such increase as naturally grows out of an extended circulation in a country where readers are multiplying so rapidly. Of the January number the first adition will be 30,000 copies, and the editor trusts his old friends will be so prompt in renewing old clubs, and extending the list among new ones, that the first adition shall be but half os what the year will ultimately establish, as the permanent circulation of

105 Chesnut st., Philadelphia. HOUSEHOLD WORDS.—A MONTHLY MAGAZINE AT $2 PER YEAR.—Only those who read the serial so promptly issued every week by Dickens, with thoughtful appreciation, know how to prize it. "Household Words" is a modern journal for the people, devoted to common subjects, uncommonly treated, excellent in style, in genius, in manner, and wonderfully fertile in subject. The pieces are the right length; they exhibit wonderful variety and are attuned to harmonious key and remarkable unity of effect. For the money, there is not the equal of "Household Words" for a family journal. Pleasant stories, useful knowledge, graceful anecdotos, charming essays, alternate in its pages. It is not always convenient to secure a copy of the weekly issue on the arrival of a steamer; in order to enjoy regularly this delightful work, we advise our readers to possess themselves of the handsome monthly reprint of McElrath & Baker, who bring out ·Household Words' with commerciable punctuality, at New-York. Frederick Parker, 35 Washington street is the Boston agent .- Boston Trans-The articles, both in style and thought, are far superior to the trash that occupies the pages of so many of our popular magazines.- New York

The above are but a few extracts from numerous notices of the press lately received. Those who wish Household Words will receive it monthly by mail upon remitting the subscription price. Specimen numbers sent on receipt of five red postage
