THE JOURNAL.

BF We call the attention of our readers to the card of Kooxs HEILMAN & Co , no 107 North Third Street, in another column. They are clever and accommodating gentlemen, and those who buy from them may rely upon being well treated. We advise our merchants when they visit the city to give them a call.

The attention of our citizens is called to the card of THOMAS ROBBINS, in another column, who has on hands a large stock of new and interesting books.

Those indebted to JACOB DETRICK, of Curwensville, are respectfully requested to call and settle their accounts. Jacob's bound to have the money, or bust his suspenders.

the Our citizens and merchants who desire to purchase jewelry and silver ware, should not fail to embrace the earliest opportunity to visit Avisn's cheap "watch and Jewelry store" opposite the Mount Vernon House, Philadelphia. They will find him a gentleman in every particular, and so have their wants supplied at a lower price than at any other establishment. We can confidently recommend him to our readers.

CF We call the attention of our readers to the card of J. B. WING Esq. in another column Mr. Wing, has had a great deal of experience in timber land, and is possessed of much reliable information in regard to our own county. Those having business in his line, cannot entrust it to better hands.

Clearfield county is without a Drug Store, or might as well be, and our country merchants who wish to purchase such articles, are compalled to go or send to Philadelphia. We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of Mr. SAMUEL BERLIN, who has opened a large and splendid establishment at Tyrone. When you go over there give him a call.

TThe general complaint about thard times should induce us to be cautious, and endeavor to purchase cheap and substantial goods. Those merchants who have this object in view, when laying in their stock, will do well to call at PAUL & TATLOR'S Wholesale Boot, Shoe and Straw Goods Wharehouse, No. 255 Market St., Philla.

137 Those desiring to go into the Daguerreotype business, can purchase a first rate aparatus by applying to D. S. Moore. See card.

FIRST DAY-OPENING OF THE FIRE. Before Sebastopol, Easter Monday, April 9. and the battery remained silent. This moining at daybreak the Allied batteries simultaneously opened fire on the detences of Sabastopol. It is now four o'clock in the afternoon, and the rain, which began to fall last night, is descending in torrents, accompanied by a high breeze of wind. The enemy were taken completely by surprise when we opened fire. They replied, indeed, pretty briskly at once to the French fire on our left, and the Flagstaff Battery and works were manned immediately. The Garden Battery, and Redan Battery, came into play soon after we opened fire, but some time clapsed before the Round Tower works or the Mamelon answered, and dled.

SECOND DAY-THE HALL OF SHOT.

April 10 .- During the whole of the morning, the firing continued on our side with little intermission-while that of the Russians was evidently slackening. At about four o'clock, however, all the enemy's lines and batteries suddenly sprung into life and vigor. Volleys of from 100 to 150 guns were fired at once from the Redan, the Flagstaff, Barrack, Garden and Malakoff batteries; even the Mamelon, which all thought destroyed and untenalite, fired five or six guns in succession. Their shot came in mon our works like hail. On every point along our lines, balls were to be seen bounding and plunging, and shells bursting like fireworks in the air. The rapidity and deafening uproar of the fire brought all who were at leisure to the front, and the oldest and most experienced artillery officers augured very unfavorably of our prospect of taking the fortress which could command such a fierce cannonade. Suddenly, and in the midst of such remarks, the energy's batteries made a dead pause .---For nearly a quarter of an hour not a gun was

Our long guns ceased firing a little after seven, the enemy's about eight, and then both hussians and Allies resorted to their mortars. The fire of these latter was maintained all

It is something awful to stand upon the hills which overlook the town and watch the progress of the nightly bomburdment. The Congrave rockets rush from the French batteries with a defening rour, leaving a trail of fire behind just sufficient to trace the course of the missile as it darts vaguely hither and thither through the air, settling down at last with a loud crash in the Flagstaff. This wild, crafic course occasionally lands them outside the Russian lines, and now and then forces them clear over everything into the very centre of the town. From both right and left the mortars are discharged with a heavy, painful explosion, and with a flish which, even at a distance, is almost blinding. As the dull been shakes your very frame, you hear the shell, with a kind of whisting roar, mount higher and higher into the air, till having reached its zenith, it descends with redoubled speed DY Watermen, and others who find it neces | and force into the enemy's works. The shock tinctly heard even in the Allied camp, followed in a second after by the sharp ringing ex-

FIFTH DAY-THE NEW DATTERY.

April 13th .- This morning, when our batteres recommenced, the effects of our assaults were still more apparent. The fire of the Flagstaff was evidently slack, even more markedly so than on the previous evening. It scarcely replied one gun to the French's three. The devastating traces of the shot were almost apparent. Not only are the lower tier of guns quite destroyed, but the upper seem in a fair way of following them. Two or three of them are already dismounted, and the earth of the parapets so scamed and torn that the rest of the ordinance appear as if pointing out befor half an hour their guns were weakly han- tween loose piles of earth. The flanking batteries are now being fired at, apparently with much effect. The barrack work is also suffering much, and nearly one-third of its embrasures are empty. The Redan still shows a bold front. As I have already said, this collossal work is at so long a range from ours 1250 yards.) and mounts such an enormous mass of ordinance, that it would stand its present battering for two or three weeks to come, without receiving such injury as to render it untenable. But this is a matter of no moment. The Redan per se is a strong battery. but unlike the Flagstaff or Matakoff, it is by no means so importantly situated as to neces-sitate our taking it by storm. The former short notice, and will have clothing on hand at all works are the keys of the enemy's position; when they are silenced and cuptured, the Redan will fall of itself, as it will cease to be tenable. A new battery was completed and opened this morning. The tremendous volley with which it commenced quite took the Russians by surprise.

At the first discharge one of their guns was dismounted and another injured, and their artillery-men either ran away or concealed themselves, as they were not to be seen. Only one gun was fired in reply, so that for five or ten minutes our battery had nothing to do but to blaze away without fear of opposition. After that time the enemy appeared to take heart, and several guns were fired, but it was fully half an hour before they made anything like a vigorous detence. Then, indeed, the fire they maintained showed that very many of the embrasures which were supposed to be silenced had merely had their guns withdrawn, and those they brough forward and well manned. For about an hour the enemy fought with great determination, but from the first they had no chance of being able to maintain it long. Directly it was seen that the Malakoff works were determined to engage our advaneed battery, one face of Gordon's battery, counting ten guns and two mortars, was diected upon it, and the three 13 inch mortar battery at the bicket-house also threw its missiles against the Round Tower. With these, and with the assistance of the four 10-inch mortars near the advanced work, and several cohorns throwing 32lb. shell, a perfect hail as poured into our old enemy.

As I have said, for a time it was well fought, but our immense shot dismounted the guns or ent up the earthworks, while the shell, drop-; over burst continually among its defet

April 11 .- At daybreak this morning the fire was resumed by the Allies and Russians, and for some time with equal vigor on both sides. In spite of the fire of our mortars, the enemy during the past night have managed to al, revived from its state of inaction, and, to on sustained, and also the works of the Flag-

The second tier is also much knocked about, and one or two of the guns silent, and the slopes of the earthgood and serviceable, and some thirty or forty pieces of ordnance in position in it maintainng a hot cannonade. The upper tier of about thirty gans was almost uninjared, certainly none of its guns were touched. They had What Clearfield merchant is not acquain- suffered very little, and continued to inflict some mischief upon the French. One face of the Burrack Battery, which adjoins the Flagstaff, had been hit hard by the French, but was still firing. The other two sides of it were almost unscathed, and seemed even to be making head against a French battery on our left, and part of our left attack. Next to this came the Garden Battery. It suffered much yesterday, but from its position in rear of the other works, the Russians have i een lent terms afforded by LYMAN GILBERT, at his able to repair it easily, and this morning it Wholesale Factory, No. 16, Market street, was again in active operation. It was undoubtly much injured, and half the guns of very fur from being untenable or incapable of vited to attend formidable opposition. Its two flanking batteries, mounting each some 10 or 12 guns, were untouched. The Mamelon was very much injured. Its parapets were mere loose piles of earth, and the fire of our mortars played so direct into its centre, that the enemy can only retain it by an immense sperifice of life.

To-day we have had to deplore the loss of a most active, brave and energetic officer of the neval brigade, Lieutenant Douglass.
