THE JOURNAL.

DF We call the attention of our readers to the card of Koons HEILMAN & Co , no 107 North Third Street, in another column. They are clever and accommodating gentlemen, and those who buy from them may rely upon being well treated. We advise our merchants when they visit the city to give them a call.

The attention of our citizens is called to the card of THOMAS ROBBINS, in another column, who has on hands a large stock of new and interesting books.

TFThose indebted to JACOB DETRICK. of Curvensville, are respectfully requested to firm the statement of that paper: call and settle their accounts. Jacob's bound to have the money, or bust his suspenders.

OF Our citizens and merchants who desire to purchase jewelry and silver ware, should not fail to embrace the earliest oppor- sentries at the outpost, men, with whose chartunity to visit Avess's cheap "watch and Jowelry store" opposite the Mount Vernon House. Philadelphia. They will find him a gentleman in every particular, and so have their wants supplied at a lower price than at any other establishment. We can confidently recommend him to our readers.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of Mr. SAMUEL BEALIN, who has opened a large and splendid establishment at Tyrone. When you go over there give him a call.

12 The general complaint about thard times' should induce us to be cautions, and endeavor to purchase cheap and substantial goods. Those merchants who have this object in view, when laying in their stock, will do well to call at PAUL & Tarton's Wholesale Boot, Shee and Straw, Gools Wharehouse, No. 255 Murket St., Philla.

"PUT NONE BUT AM JUICANS ON GUARD." The Cincinnati Times, in speaking of the above quotation, which has always been attributed to Gen. Washington, says: . Put none but Americans on guard at night." that is to say when peculiar danger threatens, trust none but Americans with the power indispensable to self-preservation. This order of General Washington is dated July 7, 1775. at Cambridge headquarters, and reads thus :-"For the future, no man shall be appointed to these stations (sentinels at the outposts) who is not a NATIVE of this country."

Thus the order was a standing one, not special, which makes the case the stronger. The following extracts from the original Order Book, left by the late General Hand, who was the Adjutant General of the American Army at the close of the Revolution, will con-

He, therefore, orders that, in fature, no man shall be appointed to those stations, who is not a NATIVE of this country; this order is to be considered a standing one, and the officers are to pay obedience to it at their peril. FARD TIMES IN ARKANSAS.

The "hard times," of which we have heard and read so much, are now upon us, and no mistake. In our life we have never before less improper for the preacher of the Gospel ived in a community, any part of which was now-a-days to chew and spit 1 Figure him at and North by lands of Daniel Bailey, and on the threatened with want. What is now knocking a Conference where he rises to enforce with East by lands of Benjamin Carr. at the doors of our citizens, in almost every part of the State? Not poverty, or want of money, for we do not know of a single beggar, his discourse by spitting out the nastiest of or one who is not able to to pay for what he poisons! Shame on such clerical uncleanlineeds, but actual want of the every-day neces-saries of life, which cannot be had, for any gentlemen and Christians never ! rice, because they are not in the country.

There is not, in Little Rock, a barrel of flour, bashel of meal, or a pound of coffee or sugar for sile. Flour would go off rapidly here at $12 a barrel, and corn meal at $2 a bushel; sugar and coffee would sell for any price. There is the greatest scarcity of every article of provisions or family groceries. We do not know ratus by applying to D. S. Moore. See card, what our people will do. Perhaps some of our merchants or somebody else, may fit up CF Watermen, and others who find it neces- | wagons and haul supplies from White River.

French Academy of Science, gives some very interesting details relative to the return of that great comet, whose periodical course is computed by the most celebrated observer at three hundred years.

Our cyclical records show that it was observed in the year 104, 392, 682, 975, again in 1264, and the next time in 1556, always described as shining with the most extraordinary brilliancy. Most of the European astronomers had agreed in announcing the return of this comet in 1848; but it has hitherto failed to appear. In fact, it is not so easy or simple a matter to compute those vast cyclical periods as some superficial persons, who do not look beyond the day of the year in which they live, may imagine.

We are, however, assured by Mr. Balanet, that, up to this moment, this beautiful star "is living on its brilliant reputation;" so that Sir John Herschel himself was wrong when he despaired of its reappearance, and put crape on his telescope! We are now informed that a celebrated and accurate computer-Mr. Bomme, of Middleburg--with a patience and devotedness truly German, has gone over all previous calculations, and made a new estimate of the seperate and combined actions of all the planets upon this comet of three hundred years; and he has discovered that it is not lost to us, but only retarded in its motion. The result of this severe labor gives the arrival of this rare and renowned visiter in August, 1858, with an uncertainty of two years, more or less; so that between 1856 and 1860 those who are then living may hope to see the great luminary which in 1556 caused Charles V. to abdicate. . .

BAD HABITS.

The following, on clergymen chewing tobacco, we clip from the New York Tribune:

Squirting tob cco juice is emphasically not apostolic. We read of the primitive teachers of Christianity doing coarse, hard work, but we never hear of their forgetting good manners. Indeed, Bishop Hooker emphatically calls St. Paul a gentleman. But imagine the Apostle taking a quid out of his mouth and then expectorating a shower of nasty saliva, before he began his famons oration! And is it oratorical generalizations the great interests of the Church and humanity, and prefacing
