

From the San Francisco Golden Era. A SUMMIT TO THE BIG OX. Komposed whilst standing within 2 feet of him, and a tuckin of him now and then.

An "Attachment." We have heard a good story, of which an Alabama Sheriff was the hero. Court was in session, and amid the multiplicity of business which crowded upon him at term time, he stopped at the door of a beautiful widow, on the sunny side of thirty, who, by the way, had often bestowed melting glances upon the said Sheriff.

Madam, said the matter-of-fact Sheriff, I have an attachment for you. A deeper blush than usual mantled the cheek of the fair widow. The downcast eyes, whose glances were entered upon her beautiful foot, which, half concealed by her flowing drapery, gently patted the floor; she with equal candor replied: "Sir, the attachment is reciprocal."

Rowed up Salt River. Salt River, where it debouches into the Ohio River, is not more than fifty or sixty yards in breadth, but very deep. It is never fordable, even in the driest seasons; and, being navigable for fourteen miles above its mouth, has not been bridged at that point. We descended its steep and difficult banks, embarked our carriages upon a flat ferry boat, and were conveyed across.

Polite Living. In carving a partridge, says Sidney Smith, "I splashed Miss Markham with gravy from head to foot; and tho' I saw three distinct brown rills of animal juice trickling down her cheek, she had the complaisance to declare that not a drop had reached her. Such circumstances are the triumph of civilized life."

Men's feelings are always purest and most glowing in the hour of meeting and farewell; like the glaciers, which are transparent and rosy-hued only at sunset, but throughout the day grey and cold.

What is idleness?—Working yaller mountains on pink sabooi—of a blue tailed dog in sky-colored convulsions.

What is joy?—To count your money and find it over-run a hundred dollars.

What is idleness?—Working yaller mountains on pink sabooi—of a blue tailed dog in sky-colored convulsions.

A Thick Headed Husband. A pious old lady who was too unwell to attend to meeting used to send her thick headed husband to church, to find out the text the preacher selected as the foundation of his discourse. The poor dunce was rarely fortunate enough to remember the words of the text, or even the chapter and verse where they could be found; but one Sabbath he ran home in hot haste, and with a smirk of self-satisfaction on his face informed his wife that he could repeat every word without missing a syllable. The words were as follows: "An angel came down from Heaven and took a live coal from the altar."

AGRICULTURE IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—According to the address issued by the Agricultural Convention, recently held at Columbia, S. C., agriculture is in a very backward condition in that state. We quote: "Your committee would earnestly bring to the attention of this Convention the mournful fact that the interest heretofore taken by our citizens in agricultural improvement has become stationary; that our old fields are enlarging, our homesteads have been decreasing fearfully in numbers, and our energetic sons are annually seeking the rich and fertile lands of the south west, upon which they imagine that treble the amount of profits can be made upon capital than upon our own soils. Nor is this all. We are not only losing some of our most wealthy, energetic and useful citizens to supply the bone and sinew of other states, but we are losing our slave population, which is the true wealth of the state. Our stocks of hogs, horses, mules and cattle are diminishing in size, and decreasing in number, and our purses are being strained for the last cent to supply their places from the North Western States."

THE PURITANS OF OLD were as vehement in their expressions of execration as they were remarkable for their assumed intimacy with heaven. Ebenezer Erskine, pastor of the Iron Church at Edinburgh, (Scotland,) in his prayer for vengeance upon Louis XIV., is made to go it thus:—"Lord sink him, confound him and damn him; use him, Lord, as ye did Senacherib of old; tak an' shake him over the pit o' hell! but for gudesake dinna let him fa' in."

A Rutland rum seller, being recently before a court as a culprit, assumed the attitude of an accuser of the authorities, saying—"It is a pity I was disturbed. The people were becoming so well trained that they took liquors from me which were two thirds water. If I had been left alone, I think they would have drank clear water before six months."

A Lady said to a gentleman who had accompanied her and her sister to church, "Why, it rains—send and get an umbrella." "Why," said the beau, "you are neither sugar nor salt, rain will not hurt you." "No," said the lady, "but we arelasses." He sent for one immediately.

HOG-ROOTING.—To prevent hogs from rooting cut across the nose, just above the gristle of the snout, by which they will sever the nasal tendon, by which the operation is performed. Then split the gristle of the nose up and down the face, and the work is done. For the long nosed, flap-eared breed, cut the nose off eighteen inches above the snout.
