In a black, impervious scroil; When we walk with trembling footsteps. Searcely bnowing how or where The dim paths we tread are leading. In our midnight of despair.

Not a ray to cheer us onward-Not a gleam from out the past-While the roar of clashing waters Comes to us upon each blast. Aye! another step may plunge us In the dread abyes below; Or another step may save us From the very depths of woe.

Stand we firm in that dread moment-Stand we firm, nor shrink away, Looking boldly through the darkness, Wait the coming of the day; Gathering strength, while we're waiting For the conflict yet to come; Fear not, fail not, light will lead us,

Firmly stand-though sirens lure thee; Firmly stand-though falsehood reign; Holding Justice, Truth, and Mercy, Die we may, but cannot fail-

Pail! it is the word of cowards; Fail! the language of the slave; Firmly stand, till duty beskons; Onward, e'en them to the grave!

Yet in safety to the home.

"Good News from Home." There is a very pretty little ballad just now in popular favor, beginning with the above words. They occured to us as we read the intelligence from Norfolk and Portsmouth, as appropriate to the refugees from the late plague-stricken cities. Many of those are affleted, wounded in their best affections, mourning the loss of beloved relatives and friends, and will return to realize more literary and keenly than ever the desolation which the hand of the Destroyer has wrought.

How many familiar faces will be missed from the accustomnd associations of life .-Sweet voices, but late tuned to the harmonies of domestic love and tenderness, silent forever, and the heart will sympathise with the waiting ear-waiting for those voices which shall be heard no more. And with all the vacant places in the street, in the stores, in the household, vacancies so sad as to hush the inquiries on the lip-who will have the heart to ask the question of another-where is my neighbor? The answer is already written in the long catalogue of the dead !

with all this how thoroughy and heartily we can realize ahe feeling with which the sorrowing refugee is greeted with "Good news from Home!" The fever is abating! How the heart responds with cheerful hope to these few words. The terrible destroyer is satitaed with the banquet of mortality. He who suffers the visitation of affliction has interposed His hand, and stayed the work of Death. He breathes upon the pestilent atmosphere the breath of life; It is dissipated like the morning vapor | than one thousand ounces of fine gold are used of a summer's day, and health and animation re-invigorate the suffering people, and renew- and that the consumptson of glod leaf in eight ed confidence in the unfailing benificence of manufactoring towns to 581 ounces weekly .-

The Physician.

No class of men in the regular discharge of duty, incur danger more frequently than the honest physician. There is no type of malignant maladies with which he fails to become acquainted; no hospital so crowded with contagion that he dare not walk freely through its wards. His vocation is among the sick and dying; he is the familiar friend of those who are sinking under infectious disease; and he never shrinks from the horror of observing it under all its aspects. He must do so with enot remedy. Nay, after death has ensued, he must search with his dissecting knife for its | round, saying: "She has no children!" hidden cause, if so by mutiplying his own perils he may discover some alleviation for the affliction of others. And why this? Because the physician is indifferent to death? Because he is steeled and hardened against the fear of It? By no means. It is his especial business to value life, to cherish the least spark of animated existence. And the habit of caring for of the pun was expelled from the party for ment of goods at their store in the lives of his fellow man is far from leading | hatching so fowl a joke. him to an habitual indifference to his own. The physician shuns every danger but such as the glory of his profession commands him to defy.

THE LAST SNAKE STORY .- The States Rights Democrat, published at Elba, Alabama, nar- layers of corn or wheat bran,, small ends downrates the following: "Two gentleman were | ward, and so arranged as neither to touch each lately in the woods, where their attention was other or the sides of the keg. In this way attracted by an uproarious noise of hogs .- | they have been kept perfectly sound for twelve Thinking that something uncommon, was to | months. the spot, and found that the hogs had been in a fight with a very large rattle snake. The fight, from appearances, had been a long and desperate one. The snake was torn to pieces, three hogs dead, and a fourth dying. They say, that as the last hog would groan, the snake would raise his head, being unable to do anything else. The snake and fourth hog soon died. They report that for thirty yards around, the grass and ground were torn up .-The snake was six and a half or seven feet long. The hogs, in the fight, had demolished all the rattles except two!"

THE TEACHER'S OCCUPATION .- Have you ever thought of what that man is who teaches children? You go into the workshop of wheelright; he is making wheels and shafts, and you say he is a useful man; you enter the house of a weaver who is making cloth, and you say he is a valuable man; you visit the blacksmith's shop, where you find him making pickaxes, hammers and plowshares, and you

A Tough Story. Prosecuting Attorney-"Mr. Parks state if you please, whether you have ever known the defendant to follow any profession?"

He's been a professor ever since I have known him."

"Professor of what ?"

"Of religion." "You don't understand me, Mr. Parks what does he do ?"

"Generally what he pleases." "Tell the jury, Mr. Parks, what the defendant follows."

"Gontlemen of the jury, the defendant follows the crowd when they go in to get a drind." "Mr. Parks this kind of prevarication will not do here. Now state how the defendant supports himself."

"I saw him last night support himself against a lamp post."

"May it please your honor, this witness has shown a disposition to trifle with the Court." Judge-"Mr. Parks, state, if you know any: thing about it, what the defendant's occupation is." "Occupation did he say ?"

Counsel-"Yes, what is his occupation? "It I ain't mistaken he occupies a garret somewhere in town."

"That's all, Mr. Parks."

Cross-examined-"Mr. Parks, I understood you to say that the defendant is a professor of religion. Does his practice correspond with his profession?"

"I never heard of any correspondence or letters passing between them?"

"You said something about his propensity to drink. Does he drink hard ?"

"No I think he drinks about as easy as any man I ever saw." "One more question Mr. Parks. You have known the defendant a long time; what are his habits-loose or otherwise?"? "The one he has got on now, I think is rather tight under the arms and too short waisted for the fashion."

"You can take your seat Mr. Parks."

SINGULAR TESTIMONY .- In a recent breach of promise case tried at Springfield, Mass., in which a man by the name of Dwight was the defendant, the mother of the plaintiff gave the following very satisfactory testimony: "At one time Dwight saw Eunice mopping the floor. He asked her to come to the door, and see a big hawk there was there. She went out, and in a moment I followed to see the hawk too. I did not see any hawk, but I did see Dwight with his arm around Eunice's waist .-Such is the calamity, and such the conse- I saw him kiss her, and tell her he didn't want quences it has wrought for the survivors. Yet her to mop floors. She said she could do it better than mother." This evidence was considered so conclusive that the jury gave the fair plaintiff twenty-five hundred dollars damages. He, however is so unreasonable that he has appealed to the Supreme Court, on the ground that he "knows a hawk from a hand_ saw," and a girl's waist from a mop-stick.

CONSUMPTION OF GOLD .- It has been ascertained that in Birmingham, England, not less weekly, equivolent to some $900,000 annually; God springs up exulting in the human heart. For gilding processes not less than 10,000 ounces of gold are required annually. A recent English writer states the consumption of gold and silver at Paris at over 18,000,000 of francs. At the present time the consumption of fine gold and silver in Europe and the United States is estimated at 500,000,000 annually.

A good anecdote is current about the first interview between the two Allies at Windsor. When the French party had retired to their apartments, Empresss Eugenie remarked that the Queen, making every allowance to the Guelph features, was not at all handsome; but quanimity; as he inhales the poisoned atmos- Napoleon replied sternly; "She has seven phere, he must coolly reflect on the medicines | children." EAR AND EYE.
DES. Le BRUNN & DUFTON, Occulis s and Aurists.

Deafness and Ear Diseases Radically Cural. DR. LE BRUNN offers to those suffering from Deafaces his INFALLIBLE AURAL REMEDIES, which have been successful in nearly 3,000 cases of confirmed deafness. These remedies comprise different courses for diseases of the internal, mid dle and external ear, and have been pronounced by those celebrated aurists. Drs. Cramer, of Berlin, Itard, and Delan, of Paris, Cartis, Pilcher and Yearsly of London, as being the MOST WONDER. FUL and EFFECTUAL ever applied for diseases of the internal and middle ear. Dr. LoB., WAR-RANTS A CURE in every case where the oar is perfect in formation. He has eighteen certificates of cures from those who had been DEAF AND DIMB, and whose bearing is new completely restored and are now enabled to learn the language. The names of 2.700 persons, who have been cured by Dr. LeB., may be seen on application. Patients, by sending a description of the case, can have remedies sent to any part of the United

In case of muous accumulations in the Eustachain Tube and Tympanum, inflammation of the mueus membrane, nervous affections, diseases of the membrane tympani, called "the drum." when the disease can be traced to the effects of fevers or colds, the use of quinine or mercurial medicines, gatherings in the cars in children. &c. this treatment STANDS PREEMINENT. When the auditory is dry and scaly, with little or no secretion; when the deafness is accompanied witq noise in the ear, like falling water, chirping of insects, ringing of bells, rustling of leaves, continual pulsations, and discharge of matter, or when in stooping, a sensation is felt as if a rush of blood to the head had taken place; when the hearing is less accute in dull, cloudy weather, or when a cold has been taken, this method of treating the disease is infallible.

Dr. Dufton is the only Occulist in the United States who practices the new painless, and sue cessful method in treating all the diseases to which the eye is subject. Where every other means have failed to afford relief, he asks from such a fair and impartial trial.

TESTIMONY .- The undersigned practition ers in medicine in the city of New York, having had frequent occasion to witness the practice of Drs. Lebrunn and Dufton, in diseases of the Ear and Eye, laying aside all professional jealousy, freely admit, that the course pursued by them in treating diseases of these delicate organs, from the unparalleled success attending it, is well worth the attention of our professional brethren throughout the United States, feeling assured as we do, that Aural Surgery has not met with that attention which its importance demands. Their system of treating diseases of the middle and internal Ear, by "Medical Vapore," particularly in chronic or complicated cases, forms a new era in the practice of Aural Surgery; such cases yielding in almost every instance to this news and powerful agent.— This practice fills up a rold which has long been felt by the general practitioner, enabling him to ope successfully with every case where perfect rmation exists.

In diseases of the Eye, they seldom require to sort to the operation As skillful Aurists and Oculists, enthusiastically devoted to their profession, we cordially recom mend them to such as may require their aid
