The minority report was mainly sustained by the Ohio and Michigan delegations. American Celebration in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 23 .- Notwithstanding the severity of the weather, the Americans had a very large terch-light procession this evening, enlivened by several bands of music, banners of various devices, and monuments, &c., on wheels. The line extended upwards of half a mile. Before reaching the capitol, the procession was joined by from 400 to 600 Baltimorians. Bonfires blazed in various parts of the city, and canons were fired from different points on the route.

MARRIED,

On the 20th inst., by the Rev. C. Cleaver, Rev. Thowas R. Satterfield to Miss Sarah M., daughter of Mr. Wm Tate, all of this County.

DIED. In Curwenzville Pa., Nov. 23, 1855, after an illness of five months, of Consumption of the langs, Mrs. CATHARINE M. PATTON, wife of Gen. Jon. Patrox, and daughter of Alexander Ennis, Esq. of Lyons, Iowa, aged 28 years 3 months and 3 days A devout and humble Christian, a kind mother. a loving wife, and obliging neighbor, has been consigned to the cold tomb. Truly may it be said of her, "none knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise." After a long and painful illness, during which no murmur ever escaped her lips, she sleeps sweetly in the arms of her Saviour. the has gone to the pearly city of the better landwhere she will rejoin the little cherub whose cold form lies buried at her side, and their angel eyes will watch carefully over those that are left, until they greet them on their entrance to the Paradise of God.]

Since the above was in type we have received the following obituary from the Rev. J. Possat. In the death of this amiable lady, her family and the Church have been bereft of one of their best and brightest ornaments. In all the relations of daughter, wife and mother, she was a remarkable example of all that was "pure and lovely and of good report." By her kind and gentle nature. her obliging simplicity of manners, and the un-spotted transparency of her entire character, she secured the confidence, and commanded the respect of the large circle of her acquaintences. both in this community and elsewhere. For six-teen years she was a truly pious and exemplary member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and during all that period it might be said of her.
"Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile!" She bore her painful and pretracted sufferings with Christian fortitude, and was perfectly resigned to the will of her Heavenly Father. She sank at last beneath the soft yielding waters of death, in sure and certain hope of a blissful immortality through the merits of her Redeemer .-She has left a husband, three sons, and an adopted daughter to mourn their irreparable loss. Surely death rends all hearts! To weep, and to be wep is the irreversable decree as to man below. But so much the more welcome the home in Heaven, the inheritence among the saints in light, and "the house of many mansions," where there "is fulness of joy and pleasure for evermore."
