ACCEPTABLE .- We received a letter a few days since containing a piece of paper "hillustrated" with a number of X's. If any of our friends are burthened with that kind of stuff, we have capacity for a little "more of the same

Ir there is any virtue in the old adage that when "March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb," we may soon look for an end of the existing severe winter, for more disagreeable and blustery weather could not well be than prevailed during the first three or four days of the present month. The winds were high, and the snow, which fell in considby forming into drifts has obstructed the roads very much. The first fall of snow this winter was the night after Christmas, since which time large quantities have been added. During the period from Christmas until now, but little thawing has occurred-there being only two days, we believe, in which it was perceptible to any extent, and then not enough to completely "settle down" the snow. Much inconvenience has been experienced by those engaged in making timber and in conveying it to the river banks, by the great depth of the snow, and there is little doubt that but for it much more lumber would have been taken to market than will be the ensuing season. If this snow should happen to pass off with rain or a sudden thaw, much damage may be expected to result to property of every description along the streams.

RANDOM THOUGHTS .- A short time ago, we were sitting at the casement in the moment when the chime of the "church-going bell" broke the quiet which is wont to prevail on the day set apart for the service of Omnipotent Jehovah. Soon the bustling throng was gliding past: here an aged sire-the hear of years had marked his locks once dark as the raven's plumage-his step was unsteady-the light of his eye was not as vivid as erst-calmness and content sat upon his brow; there a fairy being, with quick-beating pulse, bouyant spirits, and high hopes. Happy, indeed, is her present existence; but, alas, as years begin to thicken on her, anxieties and perplexities will arise-sorrow may usurp the abode of bliss, and misery dispel the brightest anticipations. Close upon these comes a stately, queen-like form, with beauty stamped on her lineaments; and anon one upon whom the world has beamed less brightly. Here goes one of the proud "lords of creation :" there passes a "lone, lorn widow," with grief and poverty as her portion. The passers-by have become multitudinous, all hurrying to the sanctuary, where the gospel is to be expounded and its precepts taught. What a motley crew they are-and what a variety of thoughts are bere "cribbed-up, cabined and confined."-Here will be found avarice and selfishness, as well as hely and plous reflections and hopes of a bright immortality-beneath the gaudy vestment as well as the homely garb may throb many a wicked heart and dwell many an unrighteous thought. Strange things, indeed, often transpire in the gorgeous temples of this world. Whilst a highly-perfumed, kid-gloved scion of fallen Adam will cause a score of pewdoors to fly open as if by magic, a plain, unostentatious man, though he may be "a whale to a fish-pond," intellectually considered, will scarcely attract the chilling attention of a burly sexton, who bows him into an obscure and uncomfortable seat! Would the meek and lowly Nazarine, who preached "good will to all men," make such distinctions? Does HE require that frail humanity should be superbly attired with glittering diamonds and rustling silks, and make an ostentatious display, in order to secure an entrance to that happy place, which Schiller designates as "Die heitern Regionen. Wo die reinen Seelen wohnen ?" Nay! We are taught that only in meakness, gentleness and humility, loving our neighbor as ourself, can we approach that peaceful bourne which lies in the heavens eternal.

THE WISCONSIN GOVERNORSHIP .- The Juliciary Committee of the Wisconsin Senate have made a report upon the contested elecion case between Barstow, the occupant of the Gubernatorial chair, and Mr. Bashford, the Republican claimant, in which the whole question is elaborately reviewed. The Committee came to the conclusion that Mr. Bashford is entitled to the office-having received 55,872 legal votes, against 85,523 for Barstow.

The mortgage is now about due, and the holders, on proposing to fore-close it, were met with the defence that if the maker of it was insane when the murder was committed, could be have been sane at the time of giving the mortgage? It looks as though the lawyers were caught this time.

> CAUSE OF THE COLD .- In a communication to the Scientific American, Mr. T. Barrows, of Dedham, Mass., alluding to the intense cold of this winter, states that he never saw the sky so brilliant and clear by day and night before. He attributes the cause of the cold to the hundreds of thousands of tons of powder which have been burned at Sevastopol, and other, places, having put into circulation large quantities of nitrous gas. "If saltpeter and salammoniac," he says, "be put into a given quantity of water at 50deg Fah., it will reduce its temperature 50deg." He therefore concludes that the gases of the exploded gunpowder named have exerted a great cooling influence upon the atmosphere, both in Europe and America. On account of the pure cold air this winter, he is of opinion that cholera, yellow fever, and the potato rot will not be so prevalent during the present, as in former years.

IMPORTANT TO HOUSEKEEPERS AND FRUIT GROWERS .-- ARTHUE'S PATent Air-Tight Self-Sealing Cans and Jars, for Preserving Fresh Fruits, &c .- This invention ich a patent has been obtained, commends itself to the attention of Housekeepers and others. on account of its great simplicity, and the effects. al manner in which it accomplished a very desirable and useful object

The cans and jars are constructed with a channel around the mouth, nerr the top, thto which the cover fits locally. This channel is filled with a very adhesive compani, prepared for the purpose and allowed to harden. In order to seal the vesed hermetically, it is only necessary to heat the cover slightly, and press it into place. It may be opened with as much case as it is closed, by slightly warming the top. The ordinary tin cans, used for the same purpose for which this is intended, cannot be closed, as is well known without the aid of a tinner; are difficult to open, and are generally so much injured in opening as to be uscless for

By this simple contrivance, the process of hermetical scaling is placed conveniently within the reach of every individual; and fruit, vegetables and butter (if properly prepared) may be kept. with their natural flavor unip paired, for an in definite length of time. For sale by MERRELL & CARTER.
