HUMOROUS.

EQUESTRIANISM EXTRAORDINARY.—A correspondent of "Life Illustrated," gives the following as a portion of the experience of a cadet at West Point:

"When I came back from furlough my class had ridden for a year, I only for a week or two. Nothing daunted, however, by this, and blindly trusting to fortune and my own powers, I buckled on a pair of rusty spurs, bound myself securely to an enormous saddle with a ponderous iron scabbard, and sallied forth. Dragon brought me a raw-boned, vicious looking animal, which, after some preliminary difficulties, I succeeded in mounting.

"Trot!" Horse started; so did I, half off my saddle. I had never been taught to keep my heels well out, and accordingly my spurs went in. Horse went in too. Motion peculiar. Began to think I was losing my balance. Sabre flew out and hit the horse on the head. In plunged my spurs deep among his ribs. Another jump. Sabre flew back and hit him on the flanks. Spurs worked convulsively among his bones—jump, thump, spur! Horse reared; seized his mane—kicked up; caught his ear and saved myself. It began to grow exciting. Finally horse started off. Such a race! Pulling on the mane had no tendency to check his mad career; rather seemed to irritate him. Had a good hold with the spurs, but did not consider myself perfectly safe. Sabre flew up and hit me in the face. Blind for a moment, and heard something drop. Looked up into the saddle and saw I was not there. Concluded I must be on the ground. Horse standing near, eating grass, and looking at me with a quiet twinkle in his eye, adding insult to injury."

FOUND HIS FATHER.—"My son, can you take a trunk for me up to the hotel?" said a passenger stepping from a boat on the levee, to a ragged looking youngster, who sat balancing on the tail end of a dray.

"Your son?" cried the boy, eyeing him from head to foot. "Well, I'll be d-d dropped if I ain't in luck. Here I've been trying to find daddy these three years, and all of a sudden up comes the old boss himself, and knows me right off. How are you?" stretching out a muddy looking paw.

The traveler was nonplussed. Between a smile and a frown, he inquired: "What is your name, sir?"

"My name. So you don't know. Well, it's nothing for people in these parts to have so many children that they don't know their names. My name's William but some folks call me ragged Bill, for short. What the other part is I reckon you know, if you don't you must ask the old 'oman."

And shouldering the trunk he marched off towards the hotel, mumbling to himself:

"Well this is a go. The old gemman come home at last. Good clothes, big trunk, must have the tin. Well I am in luck."

There is a fast boy out in Madison, the capital of Wisconsin, who, if he gets no backsets, will scarcely fail to reach Congress or the penitentiary, one of these days.

His school teacher, a young lady, was prosecuted by his parents for pretty severely wounding the young rascal's back for his conduct. The case went up to court, and the verdict of the jury was in effect, "served him right."

We give a portion of the boy's testimony, the wit of which atones for his rudeness.

"I asked her to do a sum for me, and she refused."

"What was the sum?" asked the counsel for the defendant.

"To subtract nine from twenty eight."

"Could you do that without her assistance?"

"I suppose I could; but the arithmetic said I couldn't subtract nine from eight without borrowing 10, and I didn't know where the d-d I to borrow it."

And he played, &c.—We see by a hoop-pole county paper that a "gemman" of color has been enlightening the residents of that district by an eloquent and powerful display of oratorical genius never before heard in that section of the country. He closed by saying to his audience that they "would mount on weagles' wings, and sore to do land old catfish and eels, whar de gray runs down both sides yer mouf. Yea, verily, de way will come when you all will mount on de weagles' wings, and play upon de harp ob a thousan' strings!"

WHAT FOOLS MEN ARE, to lament because they are not as well off as "that fellow across the street." The richest man in town will be forgotten in fifty years from now, as the mason who built the Rocky Mountains. In 1843 we attended the funeral of a millionaire. We visited his grave recently, and what do you suppose we saw? Four bob-tailed pigs rooting the soil from his grave. And this was the end of all his influence—a neglected grave, with four stub-tailed pigs rooting up the soil. So passes the glory of the world.

It is related of Johnson—"rare Ben Johnson"—that going home in his wagon, one hot day, he fell asleep. Some young scamp, passing that way, unheeded his nag, and sending the poor beast a roaring, drew the wagon to the fence. After a time Ben awakes. He wonders, and, wondering, exclaims: "Am I Ben Johnson, or am I not. If I am Ben Johnson, I have lost a horse; if I am not Ben Johnson, I have found a cart."

ILLUSTRATING A POINT.—Sir Fletcher Norton was noted for his want of courtesy. When pleading before Lord Mansfield on some question of manorial right, he chanced unfortunately to say, "My lord, I can illustrate the point in an instant in my own person. I myself have two little manors." The Judge immediately interposed, with one of his blandest smiles, "We all know it, Sir Fletcher."

Father's description of a fiddle can't be beat, he says—"It was as big as a turkey and as fat as a goose—he turned it over on its back, and took a crooked stick, and drew it across its belly, and O, St. Patrick, how it did squall!"

A PARTNER WANTED.—The undersigned, doing business as a Tanner and Currier, at Curwensville in this county, will take a Partner, who can furnish a cash capital of at least $500. No better opportunity can be afforded to an active business man, with the above capital, who wishes to go in to a paying business. S. B. TAYLOR. Curwensville, Dec. 19, 1855, 2mo.

IMPORTANT TO HOUSEKEEPERS AND FRUIT GROWERS.—ARTHUR'S PATENT Air-Tight Self-Sealing Cans and Jars, for Preserving Fresh Fruits, &c.—This invention for the benefit of any other place in this County. He is determined to act upon the motto of self to the attention of Housekeepers and others, on account of its great simplicity, and the effectual manner in which it accomplishes a very desirable and useful object.

The cans and jars are constructed with a channel around the mouth, near the top, into which a very adhesive cement, prepared for the purpose, is poured, and the top is sealed.

In order to seal the cans, used for the same purpose for which this is intended, cannot be closed, as is well known without the aid of a tinner, as difficult to open, and are generally found injured in opening as to be useless for future service.

By this simple contrivance, the process of hermetic sealing is placed conveniently within the reach of every individual; and fruit, vegetables and butter (if properly prepared) may be kept by their natural flavor unimpaired, for an indefinite length of time. For sale by

GIVE THEM A TRIAL!—SILVER'S PLASTIC PAINTS—CHEAP, DURABLE AND PROTECTIVE.

WEATHER & FIRE-PROOF. These Paints will, under any climate, without crack or blister, and harden by exposure; thus making in time an enamel of Stone, protecting Wood from decay, and Iron and other metals from rust and corrosion. They differ essentially from the so-called Mineral Paints of the day, which are principally Ochres, and Clays, and are entirely worthless.

SILVER'S Plastic Paints are purely METALLIC, containing no Alcohol or Clay.

They are levigated finely, mixed readily with Linseed Oil, (without the trouble of grinding), and flow under the brush as freely as the best White Lead, and excel all others in body or covering properties. They will cover with less than a country surface as two pounds of White Lead, reducing the cost two-thirds. There are six distinct colors, viz:

Olive, Light Brown, Light Chocolate, Black, Dark Brown, Deep Blue.

All equally valuable as a preservative, and particularly adapted to painting the outside of BUILDINGS, FENCES, STEAMBOATS, CARS, TIN AND IRON WORKS.

REMEMBER! Exposure hardens and increases the durability of these PAINTS.

DIRECTIONS.—Mix with pure Linseed Oil, as thick as possible, as the Paint is the lasting or protecting body, and the oil simply the medium, or agent in spreading it.
