

THE BACHELOR'S DREAM.

My pipe is lit, my glass is mixed, My curtain drawn, and all its song;

Old Pass is in her elbow chair, And Tray is sitting on the rug.

Last night I had a curious dream, What Susan Bates was Mistress Mogg—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

She looked so fair, she sang so well, I could not woo, and she was won;

Myself in blue, the bride in white, The ring was placed, the deed was done!

Away we went in chaise-and-four, As fast as grinning boys could dog—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

What loving tete-a-tetes to come! What tete-a-tetes must still defer!

When Susan came to live with me, Her mother came to live with her!

With sister Belle she couldn't part, But all my ties had leave to jart—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

The monkey bit, the parrot screamed, All day the sister strummed and sung;

The petted maid was such a scold! My Susan learned to use her tongue;

Her Mother had such wretched health, She sat and croaked like any frog—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

No longer Deary, Duck, and Love, I soon came down to simple "M!"

The very servant crossed my wish, My Susan led me down to them;

The poker hardly seemed my own, I might as well have been a log—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

My clothes they were the queerest shape! Such coats and hats she never met!

My ways they were the oddest ways! My friends were such a vulgar set!

Poor Tompkins was snubbed and huffed, She could not bear that Mister Blogg—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

At times we had a spar and then Mamma took no single in the song—

The sister took a sister's part— The maid declared her master wrong—

The parrot learned to call me "Fool!" My life was like a London fog—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

My Susanna's taste was superfine, As proved my bills that had no end;

I never had a decent coat— I never had a coin to spend!

She forced me to resign my club, Lay down my pipe, retrench my prog—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?

Each Sunday night we gave a rout, To fops and fairs, a pretty list;

And when I tried to steal away, I found my study full of whist.

Then first to come, and last to go, What I've thought of that, my cat?

What I've thought of that, my dog?

Now was not that an awful dream? For one who single is and snug—

With Pussy in the elbow chair, And Tray reposing on the rug—

If I must tetter down the hill, "The safest dose without a clog—

What I've thought of that, my cat? What I've thought of that, my dog?"

NOW'S THE TIME FOR BARGAINS!
