THE JOURNAL.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JANUARY 7, 1857.

WE direct attention to the advertisement of Mr. A. H. Bauman, of Tyrone, headed "money, money." He offers the highest price in cash or stoves for hides and skins.

SEVERE FALL .- On New Year's day, as Maj. John Hisey, on his way home, was crossing the river above town, on the ice, his feet slipped and he fell. His head striking the ice, he was knocked insensible for some minutes, besides having a gash cut into the back part of his head. Persons should be careful when walking on slippery places.

OUR CARRIER requests us to tender his thanks to his up-street lady friends, who kindly remembered him on Christmas day, and Ireland, on the 9th of December. wishes that the most propitions smiles of Providence may rest upon them. He assures us that he did ample justice to the delicious cake, a fact that we had ocular evidence of ourselves. He also returns his thanks to those who responded to his call on New Year's Day.

AMDROTYPES .-- Mr. H. A. Purviance, of Allegheny City, is now in Clearfield, engaged in taking Ambrotype Likenesses. He is a good. artist, and will doubtless render satisfaction to all who favor him with a visit. He occupies the room of Mr. P. C. Purviance, one door south of Merrell & Carter's stove depot. As Mr. P. expects to remain but a few days, those desiring superior likenesses should call immediately at his rooms.

SNOW AT LAST .- On last Friday night several inches of snow fell here, which has had an enlivening effect upon everything. Sleighing and sledding is going on briskly, and new life has been infused into our lumbermen. The river's banks will soon be covered with timber, boards, shingles, &c. We are not prepared to say whether the timber and lumber business will be as heavy as last spring or not. It is certain, however, that the want of snow has so far retarded operations to some extent.
