

S. B. ROW, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JAN. 21, 1857.

ELECTION OF U.S. SENATOR.

Immediately after the appearance of our last paper, in which we stated that a strong effort was being made against John W. Forney, the cancus nominee of the Democratic members of the Legislature, for U. S. Senator, we received the gratifying intelligence that he had been defeated, and Gen. Simon Cameron, the American Republican candidate, elected on the first ballot. Gen. Cameron received the votes of all the Americans and Republicans of both Houses, together with three Democrats, namely-Lebo and Wagonseller, of Schuylkill, and Manear, of York county. Seven Democrats voted for Henry D. Foster, and one for William Wilkins. The votes will be found in another column of our paper. The result of this contest cannot fall to gratify every opponent of Locofocoism in Pennsylvania. Forney was the pet and favorite candidate of Buchanan, and the latter, it is said, threw all the weight of his position and influence in his favor, on the ground that his claims were superior to those of all other candidates, and outweighed every other consideration. The Pennsylvanian, and other prominent papers, had for some time been zealous. ly engaged urging these claims,' and the defeat of Forney must, therefore, be regarded not only as a defeat of the party and its head, but as a rebuke to the President elect for presuming to indulge in unjustifiable dictation. It would no doubt have been proper for him to endeavor to secure the election of a man who would have brought with him character and influence into the National Senate; but not in a manner that gives room to suppose that he distrusted such men as Black, Foster and Buckalew, and which could only have the effect of embittering them against him. Mr. Buchanan has committed an error which speaks illy of his political wisdom-for certainly to his bad management and that of his friends is to no inconsiderable degree attributable the defeat of his favorite, and that too in a Le-had a majority on joint ballot. There is a moral to be drawn from the election of Gen. Cameron, which we trust will not be lost upon the various elements arrayed against the Democracy. It shows clearly what they can accomplish by united and harmonious action; and that if they allow dissensions and divisions to exist in their ranks, they can only expect their efforts to prove futile. Inthe late Presidential contest, a pack of trading politicians succeeded, by creating and keeping up a split among the Opposition, in throwing this State to Buchanan. In the contest for U. S. Senator, the Democracy were divided, and defeat was their fate. We trust, therefore, that the lesson taught will in future be remembered by the Americans and Repub licans of Pennsylvania, and that they may act in accordance with its teachings. And whenever one of these traitorous disorganizers, who for a consideration would sell his party, shows himself, let him be kicked out of our rank the more prompt and summary the ejection, the better. This we must do if we wish to build up a permanent and reliable party.

-- We see that the Democratic papers are giving Lebo, Wagonseller and Manear particular "fits" for voting for Cameron, charging them with being 'corrept,' 'bought,' &c., and Mr. Foster and those who voted for him also receive no small share of condemnation. Nothing less could be expected. But we see it stated that Lebo, Wagonseiler and Manear were corn, 50 to 52; rye, 80; oats, 44. friends of Gen. Cass when he and Buchanan were rival candidates for the Presidency, and that for advocating the claims of Gen. Cass within the last few days. they had been proscribed and stricken down in more than one instance, both in their persons and those of their friends, by the Buchanan interest. An opportunity to avenge their wrongs upon the leader occurred, and they availed themselves of it. Their revenge has been as signal and effective as the cause of its provosight into the motives which actuated the gentlemen named in taking the course they did. in the election of U. S. Senator, than the reasons assigned by the Democratic journals.

Kansas .- The Territorial "Legislature" was to meet in Lecompton, on the second Monday in January, the 12th, and Gov. Geary, in his message to that body, was expected to recommend the repeal of the most obnoxious enactments found in the Kansas statutes. A .Law and Order" Convention is advertised to be held at Lecompton at the same time, to which delegates have been elected from the different pro-slavery localities. The Free State Legislature was to meet at Topeka on the 6th January. They designed only to meet for the purpose of continuing their existence, and then adjourn to await the action of Congress on the admission of Kansas as a State. Gov. Robinson resigned his post, and is now in Washington City.

The State Treasurer of Pennsylvania is about instituting proceedings against the Chambersburg Bank, the Honesdale Bank, and a number of others, to recover the forfeiture Philadelphia.

NEWS OF THE DAY. The steamship City of Washington brings lates from Enrope to the 31st Dec. Owing to the selzure of 12 British seamen at Canton, the British Consul interfered and was insulted and threatened with violence, and on his complaining of the same, he was treated with contempt by the Chinese Government. Admiral Seymour opened hostilities on the 24th, took and destroyed the forts around Canton, and on the 27th opened fire on the city walls and palace. The Chinese refusing to negotiate, the British bombarded the city and destroyed 23 war junks. Prussia and Switzerland continue their war preparations. A Prussian journal says the American envoy offered a loan of twenty millions to Switzerland in case of need. Austria protests against war.

On Saturday last, whilst Mr. Giddings was discussing a private bill in the lower House of Congress, he was seized with atrophy of the heart, which caused him to fall into his seat. Much excitement ensued; Physicians were immediately called in, who in a short time restored him to consciousness. He is considered in a critical situation.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING .- The Democracy of Clearfield held a county meeting in the Court House in this place last evening. They selected delegates to their State Convention, and instructed them to favor the nomination of Hon. G. R. Barrett, as a candidate for Govercation was great. This may give a better in. nor. Among the resolutions adopted was one denouncing the three Democrats who voted for Cameron, and another condemning the course of their Representative, Mr. Backus, relative to the U.S. Senatorship. When the latter resolution was offered for adoption, things didn't work very "harmoniously," some advocating and others opposing it, but finally it was passed. The election of Cameron has put the Democracy won-lerfully out of humor.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS .- Within the last two weeks, 9 U.S. Senators have been elected in different States :- In Michigan, Zachariah Chandler, Republican, in place of Lewis Cass; -in Florida, Stephen H. Mallory, Dem. ;-in Massachusetts, Chas. Sumner, Republican ;- in Rhode Island, James P. Simmons, Rep. ;-in Pennsylvanja, Simon Cameron, American-Republican; -in Maine, Hannibal Hamlin, for the long term, and Amos Nonrse, for the short term, both Republicans; -in Missouri, Polk, who had just been inaugurated Governor, for the full term, and J. Messrs, Ball and Penrose objected to receiving the protest, of the ground that the Conrention kept no journal.

Pending the question, Mr. Penrose moved to adjourn, which was lost by a tie vote-year

Mr. Browne's motion was then discussed at some length by various members, and finally ruled out of order. The Convention then adjourned,

The Senate having retired, the teller of the House reported the result to the House, and that body therenpon adjourned.

The correspondent of the Pittsburgh Gaelle, writing from Harrisburg, under date of Jan. 15, says :- On yesterday we had an exciting time in the House. according to the provisions of the act of 1839. Their mouths ought to be estopped forever upon this point. For if there was any illegality in the proceedings the Democrats were particeps criminis. The whole of the Democratic minority in the Senate voted to go into joint convention. The House on the 13th-the Democratic majority concurring-rappointed a committee to wait upon the Senate to inform them that the House was ready to go inconvention. Thus it will be easily seen that the Democrats of both Houses by their own action effectually precluded themselves from raising these points of illegality. Indeed they are mere pretexts-mere afterthoughts which never would have been heard of if Forney had been elected.

Yesterday, notwithstanding the Cameron Democrats voted steadily with the minority, the majority sought to force the House to place this protest upon its records. The minority, under the lead of Ball, Eyster, Hiestand, of Lancaster, and others, fought them under the rules until they forced them to ad- day at 11 o'clock. journ about 3 P. M.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills, a certain Remedy for Ulcerous Sores .- Jeremiah Henderson, of Wilmington, North Carolina, suffered for seven years and five months with six ulcerous sores on his leg, and three on his arms, which defied every kind of treatment, although he used some of the most noted remedies for the cure of the same, both internal and external, it was without avail. At last, he had recourse to Holloway's Ointment and Pills which quickly caused the wounds to have an improved appearance, and by continuing with these remedies for ten weeks, he was completely cured, and has ever since enjoyed the best of health.

SENATOR HARLAN. - The case of Mr. Harlan whose seat in the U.S. Senate was contested, is as follows :- Mr. Harlan, who is a Republican, was chosen two years ago a Senator from Iowa, when there was a locofoco majority in the State Senate and a Republican ditto in the House. Their U. S. Serators are chosen in joint Convention, and this Convention having fixed a day for the election, adjourned to that time. The Senate, containing a majority of Democrats, as a distinct body, paid no attention to the joint meeting, and instead of adjourning to meet in joint convention adjournel over to meet in ordinary session as a Senate. But the Republican Senators convened with the House in joint meeting, agreeably to the adjournment, and constituting the required quorum, proceeded to elect a Senator .-Mr. Harlan, of course, received the certificates of election and has been acting as Senator ever since. BoxEs As MANUEL. - When bone-dust, such | Amount of Militia tax due for 1856, and previous as is commonly employed as manure, is left vears: for some time in contact with water, and the latter is filtered away, it is found to contain appreciable quantities of the phosphates of lime and magnesia. The same result is obtained when the water is freed from carbonic acid by long boiling. By filtering water for months through the same mass of bone-dust, it was found constantly to contain these earthy phosphates, and their quantity even appeared to increase in proportion as the organic matter of the bones became putrid in consequence of its long contact with water and air, and the Mr. Penrose moved to refer the protest to water flowing off became turbid and offensive. This fact seems to have some practical value in agriculture, as it shows that, without any artificial preparation, the earthy phosphates may be extracted from the bones and introduced into the soil in a state of solution, perhaps exactly in the quantity necessary for their appointed functions, and that in the employment of bone-dust as manure, all the preparation necessary is perhaps to lay it in heaps during the summer, and keep it constantly moist .- Prof. Wohler.

> The State of Indiana bids fair to have no Senators whatever in Congress during the next year. It will be remembered that there is already one vacancy in the Senate from Indiana, in consequence of the expiration of Petit's term. Two years ago the Democrats had one House of the Legislature, and the opposition the other; but upon joint ballot the latter would have had a clear majority, and could have elected their man for Senator. Under these circumstances the Locos refused to go into joint ballot at all, and so the vacancy remains nofilled; and as Bright's term expires on the 4th of March, there are two Senators to be elected. Now the Locos bave a clear majority on joint ballot; but the Republicans who control the Senate will probably play them back their own game, and refuse to go into a
