

FUN, FACT & FANCY.

Col. Putnam's Indian Story.—Nov. 10, 1857. Heard Mr. Cutler, of Ipswich 1772, died at Dr. Putnam's with Col. Putnam and lady, and two young gentlemen, nephews of the Doctor and Col. — and a Mrs. Scollay.

Col. Putnam told a story of an Indian upon Connecticut river, who called at a tavern, in the fall of the year, for a dram. The landlord asked him two coppers for it. The next spring, happening at the same house, he called for another, and had three coppers to pay for it. "How is this, landlord?" says he, "last fall you asked but two coppers for a glass of rum, now you ask three." "Oh!" says the landlord, "it costs me a good deal to keep rum over winter. It is as expensive to keep a hoghead of rum over winter as a horse."

The Judge of a Western Court recently decided a point adverse to a certain lawyer.— Lawyer was stubborn and insisted that the court was wrong. "I tell you that I am right," yelled the judge, with flashing eyes. "I tell you, you are not!" retorted the counsel. "I am right!" reiterated the court, "curse a nigger if I ain't!" "I say you ain't!" persisted the counsel. "Crier," yelled the Judge, "I adjourn this court for ten minutes!" And jumping from the bench, he pitched into the counsel, and after a lively little fight, floored him, after which business was again resumed; but it was not long before another misunderstanding arose. "Crier," said the Court, "we will adjourn this time for twenty minutes!" and he was about taking off his coat, when the counsel said: "Never mind, Judge, keep your seat—the pint is yielded—my thumb's out of joint, and I've sprained my shoulder!"

A student of one of our State Colleges had a barrel of ale deposited in his room, contrary to usage. He received a summons to appear before the President, who said: "Sir, I am informed that you have a barrel of ale in your room." "Yes, sir," "Well, what explanation can you make?" "Why, the fact is, sir, my physician advises me to try a little each day as a tonic, and not wishing to stop at the various places where the beverage is retailed, I concluded to have a barrel taken to my room." "Indeed! And have you derived any benefit from the use of it?" "Ah, yes, sir, when the barrel was first taken to my room, ten days since, I could scarcely lift it. Now I can carry it with the greatest ease." "We believe the witty student was discharged without special reprimand.—Rochester Union.

It is ascertained that, in females, the ratio of cases of pulmonary consumption, to all other diseases, is highest in those following sedentary employment, less in those having mixed in-door employments, and least in those occupied out of doors. The highest ratio occurs in the case of females whose habits of life are irregular. In men, the ratio of cases of pulmonary consumption to those of all other diseases in the cases of those following indoor employments varies inversely as the amount of exertion—being highest where there is least exertion, and lowest in employments requiring strong exercises.

Look Out.—When a young lady has "turned the first corner," and sees no consubstantial prospect ahead, it is natural she should look out.

When you find a man doing more business than you are, and you want to know the reason look at the advertisement he has in the newspapers and look out.

Look out for rain when the almanac tells you to, and if it don't come, why you can keep looking out.

It seems that a Church in Mansfield, Ohio, put up in 1823, by volunteer labor, is being torn down. A "Poic" in the Herald thus pathetically cries: "a Node" to the "Old Meat In House."

Of my childhood, witness of kat Tykisms and bakkaes a lending out. Strate seats a kaunk me meny a spank. Ink at hoam for not a stin strate. To meeting—old church good B!

A gentleman was dining at one of our fashionable hotels. Peas had just come in season, and everybody called for peas until they were all gone. The gentleman was very fond of peas, but he was too late; so, rising and throwing himself into the attitude of Patrick Henry, he exclaimed: "Gentlemen may cry peas, peas, but there is no peas!"

If you meet with a man that is a man, or a woman that is a woman, and nothing else, you may find something human about them; but the quibbles and quirks, hypocrisy and meanness, the heartlessness, treachery and sordidness of what is denominated "good society," are scandalous beyond all names for scandal.

Many years ago, men could be found to give any evidence upon oath, that might be required; and some of these persons walked openly in West Minister Hall with a straw in one of their shoes, to signify they wanted employment as witnesses; hence originated the saying, "He is a man of Straw."

In the middle ages in France, a person convicted of being a calumniator was condemned to place himself on all fours, and bark like a dog for a quarter of an hour. If this custom were adopted at the present day, there would be considerable bow-wow-ing.

"Ned has run away with your wife," said one friend to another. "Is it possible! I truly pity his sudden mishap."
